

Wheat league hires pesticide expert

Retired extension agent Thomas Thompson has been hired by the Oregon Wheat Growers League as a consulting agronomist. He will specialize in pesticide matters.

An informational meeting on Morrow County's 4-H program will be held tonight, Oct. 5, starting at 6 p.m. in the 4-H annex at the fairgrounds in Heppner.

The meeting will feature a potluck supper, a slide show of the year's 4-H events, and an awards ceremony for south Morrow 4-H'ers. Information will be available on how to become a 4-H member or leader.

Similar meetings were recently held at Boardman and Irrigon.

calls they need to keep farming, Thompson said.

"It's not going to get any easier."

Thompson's new, parttime job is an outgrowth of work started by former OWGL president Tad Miller.

The new position also fits into the proposed organization called, tentatively, Pacific Northwest Chemical Users Association.

Thompson's duties will include: —Securing information on pesticides used in cereal production.

—Work with extension agents and specialists in educational programs in the use, registration, and evaluation of various pesticides.

—Compile research materials from scientists and others regarding the benefits of pesticide use.

—Prepare documents and testimony for officers and committees.

—Call on growers, extension agents, scientists, pesticide field men and other specialists to gather information.

Thompson will also work with the group that is forming the three-state organization to deal with chemical use restrictions and other mutual problems.

Kinzua news

Barbara Pike 768-2861

Another opening day brings old friends, former neighbors, relatives and a multitude of strangers to this area. Here in Kinzua returnees are surprised at the many changes since their last visit. Many of the houses are gone or are in the process of being torn down. The schoolhouse is going fast as is the aid station. The bar and cafe are closed and service at the station is obtained by ringing the bell and waiting for someone to come over from the store. Perhaps the change that is most noticeable is the tall smokestacks, now cold and useless, pointing up the lack of the industry that was the life of our town.

Vic Wallis and his mother, Dorothy Wallis, had a house full of company for the first weekend of deer season. Former resident John Weaser and his brothers Carl, Tim and Albert were here from Bend. They were joined by Wendy and Dave Batson, The Dalles. The Weaser group left Sunday evening for home with two bucks.

Patti and Chuck Constantine,

Portland, are spending a long weekend here with her family, Don and Barb Pike.

Herb Luper and sons Mike and Mark stopped by to visit Saturday evening. Herb and the boys were hunting. Evy and Marcy were unable to get away at this time. Evy stays busy with her job at a fruit packing plant near their home in Odell.

Hospital Notes

Patients admitted and later discharged during the two-week period from Sept. 20 to Oct. 3 were Dick Newson, Salem; Louise Smith, Farmington, New Mexico; Lou Ann Cox, Lexington; Lance Towel, Kimberly; Willard Erikson, Aloha; Douglas Wilson, The Dalles; Riley Munkers, James

G. Thomson, Patrick Kane, Nadme, O'Brian, Florence Holt and Judy Osmin, all of Heppner.

Admitted and still hospitalized are Ivan Akers, Boardman; Irene Dollarhide, Alex Ulrich and Betty Bunch, all of Heppner.
