

VOTE BILL BELLAMY

REPUBLICAN FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE-DISTRICT 55

Paid for by committee to elect Bill Bellamy Representative, JoAnne Holcomb Chairman, Rt 1 Box 85C Culver, Or.

Bill Bellamy is a strong believer in local tax control. The local voter knows where their money should be spent. The bureaucratic process of the State and Federal government loses too much of the local people's money.

"Government has got to slow spending. Government has got to be limited in its spending. Taxes must be balanced among the people living in this district," says Bill Bellamy. Therefore, he endorses the concept behind present property tax ballot measure.

Sunset Law is the first step in making our state government fiscally accountable, believes Bill Bellamy. He says the government needs to start specifying to the voters just how monies are going to be spent.

Bill Bellamy says "I endorse the production audits." Successful lay people need to monitor state agencies often. This monitoring system would encourage a greater efficiency of work, Bill Bellamy concludes.

Grange chief raps tactics of measure 4 campaign

Power companies are misrepresenting facts in current billboard advertising on Ballot Measure 4, Public Power Coalition president and Oregon State Grange Master W.C. Harris has charged.

Ballot Measure 4 is an initiative effort to streamline the formation procedures for People's Utility District (PUDs). "That's all it does," said Harris. "It doesn't set up a single PUD or authorize one penny of expenditure. When the opposition charges that Measure 4 would 'put you in debt without your consent,' they are resorting to falsehood. And this, in my book, is a clear violation of our state election laws."

If Measure 4 passes in November and PUDs are formed in accordance with its provisions, Harris said any authorization for the issuance of revenue bonds cannot be taken unless approved by the voters of the district involved.

"The only people who put rate payers in debt without their consent," the Grange leader stated, "are the private utilities."

Harris threatened to take legal action over the billboard advertising campaign.
