

Junior Cards beat Arlington in overtime

Ione's junior high football team appears to be taking lessons from the senior high "Cardiac Cards."

Last week, the junior Cardinals waited until well into overtime to eke out a 26-20 victory over Arlington.

Ione controlled the earlier portion of the game, leading Arlington 20-0 at the end of the first quarter. But the junior Honkers steadily closed the gap as the clock ticked down.

With 32 seconds remaining in the contest, Arlington intercepted an Ione pass, running it back nearly 45 yards for a touchdown. A successful extra point attempt made it 20-20 as the gun sounded to end regular play.

Arlington won the toss to take first possession of the ball in the overtime period. But Ione defender prevented a drive from materializing, and regained control of the football.

Denny Starr connected on a pass to Tim Patton, who in turn lateraled the ball to Donny Taylor, who carried the ball to the one yard line. On the next play, Starr kept the ball and crashed his way to the goal line for the Ione victory.

"I guess we just relaxed too much after getting the big lead in the first quarter," said Coach Jerry Martin. "The kids threw several interceptions and lost the ball during a few fumbles...But I think they showed a lot of class to come back and win the ball game."

Martin praised the offensive and defensive efforts of Denny Starr, who scored two touchdowns in the contest, and Donny Taylor and Craig Hams, who each reached paydirt once during the contest.

Bellamy plans correspondence program for constituents

Bill Bellamy, candidate for District 55 State Representative, announced this week in Culver his plan to keep the people of the district involved and informed during the '79 legislative session.

Bellamy plans to establish a list of 200 names of individuals throughout the district representing the people in District 55, if he is elected. He plans to correspond with these people at least once every two weeks during the legislative session. "In order for a representative to be effective, he must have his district backing him," said Bellamy.

He also is already making plans for several coffees throughout the district. At the coffees, people will have the opportunity to meet and discuss concerns with Bellamy. The coffees will be in various locations and will be held both during and after the legislative session.

Bellamy is aware of others who have made campaign promises such as this one, but who have not been successful in following through. However, Bellamy said he has committed himself to keeping the people informed.

Persons interested in serving on the committee may contact Bellamy at his home address at: Rt. 1, Culver 97734

Delpha Jones

Three Links Club met at the home of Florence McMillan on Thursday. Plans were made to print a cookbook to be sold after the first of the year. It is hoped that a recipe will be obtained from each of the members, local and away, and from friends and neighboring lodges. The door prize was won by Dorothy Burcham. Present were Freida Majeske, Alma Vinson, Leila Palmer, Joyce Buchanan, Irene Padberg, Dorothy Burcham, Delpha Jones and the hostess, Florence McMillan.

Ruth Robinson has returned home after a time spent in St. Anthony's Hospital where she underwent major surgery.

Gladys VanWinkle visited her mother, Sally Lowry, at the John Day Hospital last weekend. Mrs. Lowry suffered a broken hip during a fall at her home.

Florence McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Pete McMurtry and Freida Majeske attended the LAMP meeting in Pendleton on Wednesday evening. Jessie Darrar, state president, was present for the meeting.

Mrs. Jim (Vicky) Bowen of Hermiston entertained with a luncheon at her home on Saturday. Present were her grandmother, Florence McMillan, Delpha Jones, Linda Jones, Susan Johnston of Lexington and Gene Starks of Heppner, Jo Irvin of Boardman, and Flossie Breeding of Hermiston. Following the luncheon, Linda Jones was surprised with a cradle shower. After the opening of the gifts the ladies spent the afternoon visiting and getting reacquainted. Norma Marquardt has returned home from a stay at Walla Walla General Hospital. Mrs. Bill B. Marquardt and daughters Norita and Charma, who were spending the weekend in Lexington, brought her home. Charma and Norita make their homes in Portland, where both are employed by the Portland Police Department. Charma just started working there as a legal secretary.

Gerald and Carroll Messenger are spending the week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Messenger Sr.

Missionaries at the Lexington church this past week have been Mr. and Mrs. Rempel of Africa and Mr. Bodie from Mexico. While engaged here, they have been house guests of Erda Pieper at her country home.
