Sherri Kay Wilson marries Robert Ogan in Ione rite

Sherri Kay Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Wilson, Ione, became the bride of Robert William Ogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McAlister, Albany, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ogan, White City, on Saturday, Sept. 23, at a seven o'clock candlelight ceremony at the United Church of Christ, Ione. The Rev. Bill Graham of Gresham read the ceremony.

The church was decorated with candelabra on the pews of the two inner aisles and flower and candle arrangements in the windows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father for her parents, wore an ivory gown of nylon sheer and Chantilly lace. The Basque bodice featured a modified V-neckline and long fitted sleeves. The full skirt was trimmed with seed pearls and iridescents. She wore a caplet of lace with a lace edged circular veil of nylon illusion and carried a cascade bouquet of wood roses, gold mums and treated leather fern.

Matron of honor was Donna Wilson of La Grande, sister in law of the bride. Bridesmaids were Gayle McNary, The Dalles; Pat Stone, Corvallis and Gretchen Thompson, Princeton. The matron of honor wore peach and the bridesmaids wore cinnamon colored gowns of Quiana, and carried Belinda roses. Candle lighters were Scott and Gregg Wilson, brothers of the bride. Best man was Joe Rogers, Portland. Ushers were Rick Francis, Baker; Tony Sachos, Portland and Carl Kostol of Eugene.

Darrel and Anna Lee James of Turner sang "Evergreen", "The Lord's Prayer" and "Wedding Song". Rikka Tews was the organist.

The wedding reception, immediately following the ceremony, was held in the church social rooms. Pouring were Maxine Patterson and Marilyn Pfeil, aunts of the groom. Cutting cake were Judy Rea and Irene Holtz. Joan McElligot attended the gift table and Jana Ogan, sister of the groom was in charge of the guest book.

The bride, a 1975 graduate of Ione High School, is currently a senior majoring in Forestry Engineering at O.S.U.

The groom, a 1971 graduate of Baker High School, attended O.S.U. for two years and is currently employed at Steven's Equipment Co. at Salem.

The couple is living at Philomath.

Judy Bailey is bride of Walt Coffman

Judy Bailey became the bride of Walt Coffman, both of Heppner, in an afternoon ceremony Saturday, Sept. 23. Heppner Mayor Jerry Sweeney read the vows in a garden setting in the couple's yard at their home.

A reception was held at the Wagon Wheel Cafe & Lounge following the ceremony. Bunnies Lindsay, Carol Rice and Joan Hughes were hostesses for the reception and Mrs. Rice made the wedding cake. Out-of-town guests included

Lloyd and Eva Coffman, Larry and Janis Coffman and Gary and Diana Coffman, all of Forest Grove; Bobi Palmer and daughters of Pendleton; and John and Willa Mae Poplis of Hermiston.

Local Lutherans use new liturgy

Congregations of Valby and Hope Lutheran churches in Ione and Heppner have committed themselves to using a new Lutheran worship book. On successive weeks each congregation met for dinner and a presentation on the new book. Upon approving the change, members have begun to pledge for the numbers of books needed by the two congregations.

The book is a first in North American Lutheranism, having been developed jointly by all of the major North American Lutheran bodies. Thirteen years of development have gone into its making.

The Valby congregation was part of the development, serving as a test congregation for a section of the liturgy. The new book has complete services of worship and more than 500 hymns, plus psalms and prayers. The hymn section includes many popular American hymns and spirituals.

On Wednesday, Oct. 25, at both Ione and Heppner, there will be tomato juice, tuna and noodles with cheese topping, green beans, tossed salad, bisquits and jelly and prune whip.

cheese salad, French bread both garlic and plain and a rice and raisin custard with topping.

At Heppner, Tuesday Oct. 24, meat loaf with tomato sauce, oven baked potatoes, cabbage slaw, buttered corn, corn bread and rhubarb and pineapple dessert.

Flower arranging is topic of Ione Garden Club meeting

The regular meeting of the Ione Garden Club was held Oct. 11 at the country home of Ruth McCabe with Leila Palmer assisting. Flower arranging was the subject of the day, with each member making an arrangement. Jean Nelson and Delpha Jones reported on the fall meeting of Blue Mountain District 10 held at Boardman on Sept. 21. The November meeting of the Ione Garden Club will be at the home of Helen Martin with Dorothy Heard, District Director, scheduled as guest speaker.

Senior Citizen News

By Justine Weatherford

Citizens over 55 years of age are eligible for special senior benefits under the various programs of the State of Oregon and the federal government. In this, and most counties, this means attendance at Senior Citizen meals and use of Senior Centers in those communities that have such facilities.

This week the R. and W. Drive-In in Heppner is beginning a new discount plan for seniors. Rita Harris says that any citizen over 60 years of age will be given a 10 per cent discount there between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. She said they will not be required to show their Senior Citizen cards—that they just need to admit their age.

I have noticed that Murray Drug Co. has been advertising a 10 per cent discount on prescriptions to seniors over 65 years of age. So it seems the older one gets the more benefits are available.

Any other business houses that wish to tell about senior discounts should let me know and the good news will appear in this column.

Coming events...on Monday, Oct. 23, at 7:30 the Neighborhood Center Advisory Council will meet at the center; on that same noon the Area Agency on Aging Committee and the Area Project Council will gather at the new senior center in John Day.

On Tuesday, Oct. 24, the Heppner Senior Site Council will meet in the Elks Dining-room at 2:30. On Monday, Oct. 30, the Morrow County Senior Advisory Committee will travel to Irrigon for its monthly meeting and will join the Irrigon seniors for dinner at their meal site.

Pat Brindle reports that the meal program in Heppner desperately needs to find a Title IX qualified assistant cook to replace Nellie Jones who is retiring. The pro-tem Head Cook Ruth Bergstrom had her toe fractured and needed numerous stitches on her foot recently after a bowling ball dropped on it. She will continue to cook, however, until Eleanor Gonty returns from Europe.

Persons interested in helping with the meals or applying for the assistant cook position are to see Pat Brindle at the Heppner Neighborhood Center.

Here are the menus for the three senior meal sites in the county for next week. On Monday, Oct. 23, diners at the Irrigon site will be offered beef stew with potatoes, carrots, peaches and cottage
