Tax guides and other business-related aids are available to the public through the Blue Mountain Community College Business Department.

Tax guides on reserve in the campus library include information on federal taxes, state taxes and tax-exempt organizations.

"Payroll Guide," designed to insure minimum payroll costs and full compliance with the ever-changing federal and state and local payroll tax laws, is on reserve in the Business Education Department.

Also on reserve in the business department is a Certified Public Accountant

Western lumber statistics are given

The western lumber industry operated at 88.1 per cent of its practical capacity during the month of August, according to the Western Wood Products Association.

"Although it was a drop from July figures, production actually increased," commented Fred Reseberg, WWP's director of economic services. "That's because actual capacity for August is much higher than actual capacity for July," Reseberg said.

July is a traditional vacation month for industry employees.

Lumber demand continues to be excellent, with producers booked up two to three weeks for orders, with many for quick delivery. Most mills are not building inventory at this time.

During the first eight months of 1978, the industry has operated at 83.0 per cent Reseberg reported. For the same period a year ago, practical capacity was 93.2 per cent.

WWPA established the 12-state western lumber producing industry's practical capacity for any given month as the highest actual production reached in that month during the last five calendar years, including the current month.

The monthly WWPA capacity report covers lumber production totaling about 18 billion board feet manufactured annually in the 12 western states. That is about 60 per cent of the U.S. softwood output.

HARRP officials

ask patience in

wait for checks

Oregonians who have not yet received the Homeowner and Renter Refund Program (HARRP) check they expected should wait at least two weeks before contacting the Oregon Department of Revenue, announced director John J. Lobdell. Both the department and the post office are working this week to match returned checks with address changes on file.

Persons who have filed address changes are asked not to contact the department. Those who have moved recently and have not filed address changes with the department should do so. The department has a state wide toll-free telephone number, 1-800-452-2838.

Out of more than 440,000 checks mailed Oct. 16, some 6,000 have been returned as undeliverable. That is a considerable drop from the 20,000 checks returned last fall. The department made an extra effort this year encouraging people to file address changes before the checks were mailed.

review course. It is designed for accountants who are interested in sitting for the CPA exam. It contains 64 hours of cassettes plus workbooks.

The "Federal Tax Guide" is a loose-leaf tax service which is kept current on a weekly basis with new and pending changes in the federal tax laws and regulations.

For tax-exempt organizations, the tax service is designed to keep organizations of this type informed on latest developments. It contains checklists, charts, sample forms, form letters and model clauses.

Save that geranium! Agent tells how

Have you got a healthy, good-looking geranium you'd like to keep through the winter and replant next spring? If so, there are two ways to do it, says John Nordheim, Morrow County Extension Agent.

The best way to save your geranium is to take stem cuttings and grow new plants. Choose firm, healthy stems from two to four inches long. Insert them into a pot of sandy soil and water thoroughly. After the roots have started, which takes two to three weeks, give the cuttings full sunlight and continue watering. Keep them as house plants until next spring. Another method is to carefully dig up the whole geranium and put it in as small a pot as will hold the root ball. Prune back the top of the plant about half way and keep it in the house until spring.

Saving this year's geranium lets you exercise your green thumb through the winter. And it will save you money next spring when you don't have to buy new geraniums.
