Pre-registration for winter term classes will continue through the month of December at Blue Mountain Community College. Forms for registration are available in the college Admissions Office in Morrow Hall. A full day of registration is set for Jan. 3 for students who do not register early.

Fall term finals week is Dec. 11 through 14 with Christmas vacation starting Dec. 15 for students. Offices at the college will be closed Dec. 25 and 26 in honor of Christmas and again Jan 1 and 2 for New Years. The McCrae Activity Center will close Dec. 10 at 5 p.m. and reopen at 6 a.m. Jan. 8.

USDA slates survey for growers

A National agricultural survey will be conducted by the Economics, Statistics, and Cooperatives Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture to determine how many acres farmers planted to winter wheat and the latest facts on livestock and poultry numbers.

This agency, headed in Oregon by R.M. Pallesen, is responsible for collecting, processing and publishing current national and state agricultural information.

The result of the survey which will contain estimates of winter wheat acreages, along with a production forecast, will be published Dec. 21. Estimates of hog numbers and the early 1979 pig crop also will be published on Dec. 21, and the count of chickens and cattle will be ready to go in late Jan. 1979.

A sample of 505 Oregon farmers and ranchers will be asked to supply information about their winter wheat intensions and livestock numbers between Nov. 22 and Dec. 2, 1978.

Thirty-two interviewers throughout the state will be collecting this information by personal interviews for all counties in Oregon with special attention being given to the major wheat areas.

For additional information or the results of the survey, contact: R.M. Pallesen, phone (503) 221-2131.

Wheat prices show slight market gain

Upward price trends marked the closing of trading in Northwest grain market action during the week ending Nov. 30, with December shipment No. 1 soft white wheat selling for $3.79—up three cents from the previous week—and No. 1 white club selling for $4.06-$4.09—a five cent per bushel gain.

The market was irregular earlier in the week, due largely to competition from other wheat exporting countries, according to the Oregon department of Agriculture's Grain Market News. But the refusal of producers to sell on setback in flat prices was credited with checking preliminary downward pricing trends. Difficulty in obtaining rail cars continued to plague all phases of the grain industry.

According to a study made by the U.S. Department of agriculture, there must be additional transportation equipment or substantially improved use of present equipment in order to handle the increased grain supply.

Export lifting at Pacific Northwest elevators was heavy, and with new export commitments, activity should remain brisk, according to Grain Market News.

Cash hard winter wheat markets firmed at the close in active trading, with good exporter support and fair domestic business contributing to the market's strength.

January arrival bids on No. 1 soft white wheat peaked at $3.82, with February arrival closing at a high of $3.84.
