

Ackley hits are featured on new 45-rpm record

A new record will be available in town next week, featuring the talents of Heppner's foremost—and thus far, first—recording artist, Jim Ackley.

Ackley, Heppner High School's band director, recorded the 45 rpm disc with his own equipment more than a year ago, sending tapes to a record manufacturing company in Los Angeles. The record, produced on Ackley's own "JA" label, features "Your Mine," a country-style ballad on one side, and "It's a New Beginning" on side two. "It's a New Beginning" drew high local acclaim when Ackley performed the song during HHS graduation ceremonies two years ago. Both songs are Ackley originals.

Although the recording features multiple guitar and vocal tracks, Ackley is the sole performer. Starting with a piano line for each song, the Heppner musician dubbed in guitar, drum, bass and harmony vocal tracks to round out the recordings.

The record will be on sale at Heppner high's annual Christmas concert on Dec. 19. A total of 25 cents per copy will go into the high school band fund, with the remaining amount to be used in paying for the cost of the production. Cost for the record will be $2. A total of 1,000 discs were produced.

"If I sell enough, I hope to do more and better similar things in the future," Ackley said. "I hope to add more equipment in the future to make cleaner recordings, and I'd like to record somebody else sometime, if the demand in the community is great enough."

Registration deadline nears for BMCC term

Pre-registration for winter term classes in Blue Mountain Community College's Morrow County program should be completed no later than Dec. 27.

Although many classes are nearly full, vacancies remain in all winter term offerings, including a photography class taught by Dennis Toney of Heppner, and an advanced tole painting course.

All area residents should have received mailers containing course information and pre-registration forms. Those who may have misplaced the mailers may pick up similar forms at a number of area stores and businesses, or by contacting Nancy Brownfield, BMCC's field coordinator, at 676-5038.

Two Irrigon families are sponsoring two exchange students, who arrived in Portland Dec. 9. They were met by their host families. The students are brought to America under the sponsorship of the Lions Club.

Pat (better known as Tiny) McDonough and his wife Adele, and Ed and Marie Johnson are the host families. McDonough and his daughters Monica and Veronica traveled to Portland Saturday to meet Michelle Dodgson, 16, of Sheperdon, Melbourne, Australia. She will spend six weeks with the family. This is a summer vacation time in Australia, so she is not missing her schooling there, but will visit Riverside High School in Boardman.

Ed and Marie Johnson also met the girl from Australia that they are sponsoring and it was understood that Wayne and Jeanie Hudson of Boardman were sponsoring a boy from New Zealand.

The Irrigon Assembly of God will present a Christmas program, "Jesus is the light" on Sunday, Dec. 17 at 7 p.m. Every class of the Sunday School will be represented in the program. Pastor Allen Gordianier gives a cordial welcome to all.

The church met for a fellowship dinner at the school cafeteria last Sunday. Later several members of the church participated in taking the church census, joining with other churches of the area.

The Gem and Geology 4-H Club is giving an open house sale of their handiwork on Dec. 16 at 325 9th St. in Irrigon. On sale will be gemstone jewelry—necklaces, key chains and gem stone animals. All are priced between 50 cents and $3. Proceeds will go to the club.

The 4-H members made an excursion to a local gravel pit about a month ago and now the agates they found there have been polished and are ready to be made into jewelry.

Art Sirola left to see his sister in Detroit, who is not expected to live as she has cancer. He met his brother and sister-in-law in Klamath Falls and they flew to Detroit together.

The Christmas Card Party at the Camp Five Hall will be held at 7:30 on Dec. 16. The date announced earlier was changed to avoid conflict with several other area events.

The Double Deck Card Club met at the home of Bonnie Campbell on Nov. 30. Hostess for the evening was Virginia Sitton.

The winner of high score was Roberta Under, and Hallie Sprave was second-high winner. Marilyn Garcia and Roberta Conlee were the winners of pinocle. Also in attendance were Marilyn Bailey, Marg Stanton and Terry Todd.

Naurine Benson left for Portland Sunday to be with Stan for a few days. Stan is still a patient at Good Samaritan Hospital after breaking his knee above the cast on his bad leg if everything goes according to plan Stan will have had surgery on his leg again Monday. This surgery is not a result of the new injury but is to be another graft on the lower leg where the old injury is still keeping Stan in a cast and on crutches. Hope things start looking up for Stan; it has been a long painful time since he hurt his leg.

Nina Castles, her daughter Marti Wallis and Chuck Mitchell went to Arlington Wednesday evening to meet Nina's brothers, Tom and John Arthur. The two brothers who are long-haul truck drivers living in Burnet, Tex., were passing through Arlington on their way from Olympia, Wash. to Texas with a load of Christmas trees.

Don and Rose Hardwick were in Spokane Nov. 14 to 17, attending the Pacific Logging Congress. They were home for a few days before leaving the day before Thanksgiving for Baker to spend the holiday with Rose's father, Frank Stoll and her sister Louise Kron and children Cindy and Heidi, of Phoenix; Saturday they attended the wedding of Rose's nephew, Charles Loft.
