

Daytime adult education held Wednesday at CBEC

A new daytime adult education class is being planned for Heppner, to be held on Wednesday afternoons in the Columbia Basin Electric Co-op conference room.

Persons interested in taking part in the daytime adult education program, which includes studies leading to a high school diploma or GED certificate, learning English as a second language, or a refresher course aimed at improving basic reading and math skills, are urged to sign up between 2:30 and 5 p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 14 at the Columbia Basin conference room.

Vicki Tollefson, coordinator for the Blue Mountain Community College sponsored program, said that the local adult education evening class will continue to be held on Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Heppner Neighborhood Center.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Tollefson at 676-9224.

McElligott gets honor roll at Carroll

Theresa McElligott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.J. McElligott of Ione, was one of 314 Carroll College students to be named to the fall semester honor roll.

Students must maintain grades averaging 3.5 or higher in order to be named to the Helena, Mont., college's honor roll.

BMCC has enrollment increase

Enrollment for winter term at Blue Mountain Community College is slightly ahead of last year, according to the college registrar's office.

By the end of the fourth week of classes, 916 students had enrolled. Registration figures as compiled by the college include both part-time and full-time students on campus.

"We are up approximately 20 students over comparable figures a year ago," noted Ron Daniels, president of BMCC.

Evening division reports that there are 1,952 total registrations for adult and evening classes offered throughout Umatilla and Morrow counties.

"That's up a little from last year," according to Larry O'Rourke, Adult Education Director.

TOPS club meets in Lexington

A recent meeting of the Lexington TOPS club No. 484 was called to order by leader Mary Roberts, with seven members reciting the TOPS pledge.

Top loser of the week honors went to Jennifer Breedon. Awards for the month of January were handed out, and a silent auction was held to raise money for the club treasury.

More information about the TOPS organization may be obtained by calling 676-9173 or 676-5222.

Sen. Jernstedt on senate's Commission for Indian Affairs

State Senator Ken Jernstedt (R-Hood River) has been named the Senate's member of the State Commission on Indian Services.

The appointment was made Wednesday by Senate President Jason Boe to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Governor Atiyeh.

The Commission was created in 1975 and directed to improve state services to Indian people in Oregon.

Jernstedt's senatorial district includes the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation, the largest of Oregon's four reservations. Other tribal councils or nonreservation areas represented on the Commission include the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Reservation; the Burns-Paiute Tribe; Klamath Falls-Chiloquin; Portland urban area; north coastal area; south coastal area; and the Willamette Valley area.

Feed grain set aside sign-up starting Feb. 15

Sign-up period for the 1979 Feed Grain Wheat Set Aside programs will be Feb. 15 through April 30, according to Ray Fitzgerald, administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

The sign-ups will be held in ASCS county offices.

This year producers may certify their fall-seeded crops—barley and winter wheat—during sign-up and not have to make a separate visit to the county ASCS office, Fitzgerald said.

The sign-up period which had been tentatively set to end in mid-April, is being lengthened two weeks to give county

ASCS employees sufficient time to handle the added workload of simultaneous certification, he said.

Fitzgerald also said farmers should consider taking advantage of pre-measurement service before planting to guarantee the size of their fields. County ASCS offices have details of the pre-measurement service.
