

Shop Heppner

We've got a lot to offer.

When you shop in Heppner, here's where part of the dollar you spend goes!

City & County Government

The owners and operators of Heppner businesses contribute thousands of dollars each year through personal property taxes—in addition to those taxes paid on their private residences—to support city and county government. These tax monies help provide streets, utilities and services, police protection and many other things we take for granted. In addition, city and county government employs a lot of people—your friends and neighbors—and provides many families with a standard of living. Without an attractive and progressive business district, the cost of these services would become more of a burden on you, the individual taxpayer.

Morrow County Schools

Our schools and students receive direct and indirect benefits from the Heppner business community. Again—as with city and county government—a fair share of personal property taxes on those Heppner business houses go for support of schools throughout the county, and again, if the business community wasn't prospering and improving a greater share of school support would fall to the individual. In addition to tax money, Heppner businesses support student activities with everything from advertisement in their papers and annuals to sports programs at each game to cash donations for facilities and equipment—the scoreboards and track for example. Once more, Heppner businesses coming through for you.

Your Friends & Neighbors

A walk through Heppner's business district is greeted by many smiling faces behind store counters, waiting eagerly to help you find the purchases you wish to make. Your friends and neighbors—the clerks and office help employed by Heppner businesses—enjoy the benefits of your shopping at home through continued employment and a paycheck to take home to their families. Without the support of local customers the need for hired help diminishes and pretty soon your neighbors and friends are out of work. A dollar spent in Heppner circulates between three or four businesses before it leaves the community—each time helping someone you know.

When you shop out of town the dollars spent don't benefit you, your neighbors or your community!
