

Extension features sewing program for April

The spring sunshine has prompted a rash of activity, with events coming thick and fast for everyone! So, if you are picking and choosing those of most interest to you, we hope you are including the "Sew Something Special" extension program which will be presented in both Umatilla and Morrow counties in early April.

Two identical programs are offered, starting at 10:30 each day. You may attend April 4 in Pendleton at Peace Lutheran Church, or April 5 in Heppner at the Fairgrounds. If you are wanting to know what is new in fashion and fabrics, or learn more about quick sewing techniques, here is your opportunity! Applique, blazers, down garments, cathedral quilts, T-shirts for the family, machine embroidery and an update on sewing pants, are all special workshops—you choose which to attend! There is something to suit every interest, so plan now to attend and learn to "Sew Something Special."

TOURS
The news is out that Extension Homemakers' Council is sponsoring the annual spring "Gad" day! This year their plans include Hood River and nearby places. Planned for April 24 (but you must register and pay transportation costs to save a seat on the bus, by April 10), the tour will include an inside look at Jantzen clothing mills, and the Hood River distillery during the morning. Luncheon will be across the river at Partridge Inn near Bingen. Then a visit to Bingen Winery and other spots of interest in the mall. Transportation is $12.50. Lunch on your own at the Inn will be about $4, but includes main course, salad, homemade breads, and choices of homemade pie for dessert. To get aboard the spring tour, send your check (payable to Morrow Homemaker's Advisory) name and address to Birdine Tullis, Box 397, Heppner, OR 97836.

The Umatilla County Homemaker's Advisory has issued

Extension Events.... With Birdine Tullis

an invitation to their neighbors to join with them for a cultural arts tour to Walla Walla. Special events of this tour include a visit to Fort Walla Walla Museum and Pioneer Village, historical homes, Carnegie Center, art galleries, and a musical comedy at Harper Joy Theater.

Cost for this tour is $20, which includes everything (transportation, fees to various events, and dinner). Send reservations including your check by April 16 to Molly Saul, Box 1107, Pendleton, 97901, (payable to Umatilla Co. Homemaker's Advisory).

SPECIAL INVITATION 4-H LEADERS AND HOME EC TEACHERS BY KUMA RADIO

Ted Smith, general manager of KUMA radio, has issued a special invitation to 4-H leaders and their clubs, as well as home ec teachers and classes, to attend the 6th annual KUMA Cooking School—newly expanded this year to be a homemaker's well as meat cutting and many other exhibits by local stores and businesses. This year a style show has been added.

4-H ADVANCED RECORD SESSION PLANNED FOR APRIL 3

All 10-12th grade 4-H members are reminded of the record book training session, 6:30 p.m., April 3, extension conference room, Heppner. Planned to assist those wishing to apply for state and national awards and scholarships, the training offers members the opportunity to get their records ready to go! IT'S SPRING, AND WE LOVE Yellow daffodils and forsythia bright as sunshine! Green wheat fields, and newly turned earth of summerfallow or seeding! Farmers at work, restoring the damages of winter floods to their fields! 4-H kids who say, "We appreciate," like Jan Peterson who, in graciously accepting the Wheat Commission scholarship for her many years of outstanding 4-H work, shared her appreciation of those who helped her!

OSU Wheat seminar set for Monday in lone

Oregon State University Extension Service will hold its annual wheat seminar Monday, April 2, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Beecher's Cafe in Lone. Topics will include fertilizing dryland wheat, with speaker Hugh Gardner, Extension soil specialist; grain drying, with Walt Matson, Extension agricultural engineer; pesticide registration and licensing, with Tom Thompson of the Oregon Wheat League; pricing of wheat by grades and market discounts, with Norm Goetze, Extension agronomist; and ideas about wheat management, with Morrow County Extension Agent Harold Kerr, Agronomist Norm Goetze asks growers to bring samples of their stored wheat to his discussion on pricing. A no host luncheon will be served.

Junior Rodeo set for June 1-3 in Heppner

Morrow County Junior Rodeo, approved by Western States Junior Rodeo Association, has been slated for June 2, and 3.

New officers elected at the Feb. 19 meeting were: chairman, Bob Steagall, vice-chairman and roping director, Bob Montgomery; secretary-treasurer, Sherree Mahoney; bucking-stock director, Bob Mahoney; director of awards and donations, Jerry Dougherty; grounds director, Dick Sherer; dance director, Don Stroeber; director of track events, Kite Healy; arena director, Don Evans; judges, Paul Hisler Jr. and Dave Matheny; flagman, Matt Murray; stock contractors, Johnson and Rattray; announcer, Joe Nichols; night watchman, Mike Saling.

Heppner Lions Club will be in charge of tickets and concessions.

Jan Peterson wins wheat scholarship

Jan Peterson, daughter of Herb and Barbara Peterson of Lone, has been named winner of the Oregon Wheat Commission Scholarship for this year.

Jan, an 18-year-old freshman in Oregon State University's home economics department, was selected winner by a committee of extension agents and volunteer 4-H leaders. Contestants for the scholarship must be enrolled in a 4-H foods project and must have taken part in baking contests at the Oregon State Fair. Applicants must also have successfully completed one quarter of college. In accepting her award, Jan said, "I feel very privileged to be the recipient of the Oregon Wheat Commission scholarship. My future plans are to work for a degree in Home Economics Extension with hopes that I may help other young people like my extension agents in Morrow County helped me."

Jan's picture and a story on her scholarship award appeared on the cover of the March issue of Oregon Wheat.

Ruth Locust Eastern Star to hold initiation Friday

The Ruth Locust Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star will hold an initiation rite Friday at 8 p.m. in Heppner Masonic Hall.

The public is invited to attend.
