

Clinton Krebs wed in Eugene ceremony

Maureen Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Williams of Eugene, became the bride of Clinton Henry Krebs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Krebs of Ione, on Saturday, March 31, at 2 p.m. The ceremony was read by Dr. Lawrence Gruman at the First Congregational Church in Eugene.

The church was decorated with baskets of gladiolus and chrysanthemums in shades of coral, white and yellow. The altar had a bowl of the same flowers and the candleabra were tied with ribbons and greenery.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of quiana in the candlelight shade. The bodice was formed of soft gathers extending from an oval motif or re-embroidered silk venice lace. A wide pattern of the same lace extended on each side of the vee neck and semi-mandarin collar and also accented the bottom of the long sleeves. She wore a veil of lace and seed pearls in the same candlelight shade and carried a cascade bouquet of Soni roses with stephanotis and baby breath centered with a white orchid.

Maid of honor was Christy Wittliff; bridesmaid was Harriet McIntosh. They wore coral gowns of quiana fabric, with U-necklines and capped sleeves. Each carried a single Soni rose and baby breath, tied with ribbons of coral.

Best man was Skye Krebs, brother of the groom. Groomsman was Earl J. Pettyjohn. Ushers were Stephen Williams, brother of the bride, and Glen Krebs, the groom's brother.

Wedding music was by the bride's father and his string quartet.

The mother of the bride wore a long yellow chiffon gown in a shirtwaist style. The groom's mother wore a long gown of Nile green chiffon with a U-neckline, pleated bertha collar and pleated skirt. Both wore wrist corsages of Soni roses.

Eugene. The room was decorated with standards of gladiolus and chrysanthemums in shades of coral, white and yellow. The table held a four-tiered cake decorated with Soni roses, chrysanthemums and baby breath.

Pouring were Mrs. Charles Toman, Mrs. Richard McGuire, Mrs. Wilbur Wittliff and Mrs. Joseph Folz.

Attending the gift table was Shauna Bergstrom. Mrs. Ted Langton was in charge of the guest book.

Special guests were the groom's grandmothers, Mrs. Gladys Boner of Phoenix, Oregon and Mrs. Annie Krebs of Arlington, and his sister, Mrs. Ron Brinkman and son, Treve, of Great Falls, Montana.

For her going-away ensemble the bride wore a wool pant suit of winter white with a coral blouse.

After a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe the couple will reside in Wallowa.

The bride is a graduate of Churchill High School, Eugene, and Oregon State University. She is employed as an Energy Consultant with Pacific Power and Light Co. at Enterprise.

The groom is a graduate of Ione High School and Oregon State University. He is employed by Krebs Brothers, Inc.

At Mother-Daughter Tea...

Soroptimists award scholarships

The annual Soroptimist mother-daughter luncheon for Heppner Senior girls and their mothers was held this year at All Saint's Episcopal Church parish hall.

Following opening ceremonies, grace was said by Fr. Ken Miller, rector of All Saint's Church. A delicious buffet luncheon was then enjoyed by 55 Soroptimists and guests. Theta Lowe and Maxine Gray were in charge of the luncheon.

President Marlene Gray presented the Soroptimist scholarships. Julie Grieb received the academic scholarship and Jackie Mollahan was the winner of the Vo-tech scholarship. Julie's award was accepted by her mother, Virginia Grieb, as Julie, who is State FFA Sentinel, was attending a state FFA meeting and banquet at Prineville.

Guest speaker was Margaret Marks Jacobs, Canby, a graduate of Heppner High School and Oregon State University, whose enthusiasm was so infectious that most listeners were ready to go out and make their mark on the world.

She stressed that growing up or living in a small town has decided advantages, in that one knows most of the people and is involved in more activities, thus building self-confidence.

She stated that opportunity rarely knocks at an opportune moment—you have to be decisive and grasp it.

Further highlights from her speech were: "Don't be timid, if someone thinks you can do something you usually can. Know who you are, how you feel about yourself, where you want to go, what you want to do and why; Don't be afraid of making mistakes; Take care of your body—your health is your most important asset."

"The women's movement is not just for women; everyone has benefited through it. Women's intuitive capabilities are very strong—they are needed in industry.

"You will do the things you want to do—never say 'I don't have time'; if it's something you really want you'll find time."

"Don't look for other's faults and enjoy today—you can't get it back."

Mrs. Jacobs has been employed by General Foods Corp. in New York; the University of Madrid, Spain; University of America, Mexico City; was in the banking field for awhile; was employed by Zellerbach Corporation as Northwest Regional personal manager and is currently in production and sales for Boise-Cascade Co.

Bottle drive to raise funds for Colt basketball

Heppner residents will have an opportunity to put their empties to good use this Sunday, April 29, when the Colt basketball program will hold a bottle drive.

Money collected in the drive will be used to help defray the cost of the Colts' new uniforms.

Persons having caches of returnable bottles and cans are urged to contact Jim Ackley to arrange for their pick-up.

Tribal Fair & Art Show at Umatilla Reservation

The Fifth Annual Tribal Fair and Art Show will be held Thursday, April 26, on the Umatilla Reservation. The show is being held in conjunction with the week long Umatilla Tribal Root Feast celebration.

Displays by professional Indian artists, cultural displays and traditional entertainment are all scheduled for the day long show. Events will be held at the community center and the longhouse from 9:30 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Of special interest will be a display of art work by Indian students. The art work is being gathered from throughout Umatilla County from pre-school students to high school students.

The student art show is being sponsored by the Umatilla Tribal Education Board to promote an incentive in talent and pride for young Indian school children. The Board also hopes to further establish communication and public relations with outlying communities. Children are bused out from the elementary schools in Pendleton to view the show. Last year Athena-Weston and Pilot Rock schools also participated.

Along with the Education board, support for the fair and art show comes from the Tribal Education Office, Title IV Indian Education, the Education Roundtable, the Early Childhood Development Center, Adult Education and the JOM counselors and aides.

Farewell

Alice Hastings, a life-long resident of Morrow County, shows surprise at the money tree given her at a farewell party last Wednesday attended by more than 85 people. Mrs. Hastings is moving to Tyler, Texas to be near her daughters, Clarice and Yvonne, pictured at right. The potluck dinner was held in the Fellowship Room of the Methodist Church.

BMCC seeks creative works for publication

Short stories, poetry and photography are being sought by students at Blue Mountain Community College for inclusion in the June edition of the campus newspaper.

A prize of $10 will be awarded to the winner in each of the four entry categories including: fiction short-story, non-fiction short story, poetry and black and white photography. The contest is open to anyone in Umatilla or Morrow counties.

Winners and runners-up in all four categories will be printed in the graduation edition of "The Spokesman", campus newspaper.

The deadline for manuscripts and photography is Wednesday, May 23 at 5 p.m. Manuscripts should be typed and double-spaced. Entrants who wish to have their material returned should send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the college along with their entry.

Entries should be sent to Blue Mountain Community College, P.O. Box 100 in care of Sandy Van, Spokesman editor, or Janet Groat, Public Information Coordinator.

Judges for the contests include BMCC faculty members and students. Judging the writing categories will be: Bob Clapp, speech and drama instructor; Murray Innes, English department head; Dave Butler, applied photography student; Helene Carter, English instructor; and Grey Elliot, English instructor. In the photography contest, the judges include: Karl Urban, biology instructor; Pam Powell, photography instructor; Joel Davis, photography instructor; and Krank Kergil, applied photography student.

In the past, creative works from Umatilla and Morrow counties have been printed in BMCC's annual literary publication, "Runes." Limited finances have restricted the publication of that volume this year according to Sandy Van, "Spokesman" editor.

"The Spokesman is attempting to fill this gap by editing a Mini Runes in the June edition of the newspaper," she noted.
