

Extension Events...

By Birdine Tullis

4-H enrollments needed... now!

The time is quickly approaching for our final call for 4-H enrollments for this year! All leaders are asked to review their club list to be sure all members are enrolled at the county office. Often new members are added to clubs, or leaders have held enrollment cards waiting to be sure their club is complete before turning them in to be officially enrolled.

Members look forward to participating in county fair events...and it is necessary that they be enrolled members to be part of the 4-H activities at the fair! If you have a question on your club enrollment, call John or Birdine at 676-9642!

Still time to sign up for 4-H Camp

Plans are almost completed for a super 4-H Camp June 24-27! There will be fun for everyone, and lots of opportunities to learn new things and make new friends! All 4-H members 4th through 7th grade who have not yet turned in their camp applications are urged to do so immediately, so food and supplies may be ordered!

North End Tour June 8th... Last Call!

It looks like this will be one of the biggest...with two bus loads of interested people viewing what is new in the northern part of the county! If you haven't made your reservation to join the tour, there is still time to come along. Cost for transportation is about $2.00 and will be collected on the bus. Luncheon will be on your own, but hosts for the luncheon event will be the Commercial Club must be made soon. Call 676-9642 to reserve a seat! Those reserving seats will be notified of time and place to meet the buses!

Extension Study Groups "Recess" for Summer

May meetings traditionally mark the end of the Extension Study Group programs...with regular meetings resuming in September. All study group officers and Advisory Committee members are asked to turn notebooks in to the county office so they may be revised and updated during the summer break.

Timber tax money coming

Morrow County will receive $15,235.26 from the Eastern Oregon Severance Tax program as a quarterly payment from the Oregon Department of Revenue in timber tax receipts.

Nearly $7.4 million in timber tax receipts have been sent to 35 counties by the department, $7,005,348 to the 19 counties in Western Oregon and $387,037 to the 16 counties in Eastern Oregon. The checks were sent Tuesday.

Now is the time to...think ahead to summer food preservation! Extension has available at no charge many helps for those wishing to can, dry, or freeze their garden produce. Just give a call or come by and browse. Bulletins on every food preservation topic are now available!

F.D.A. clears selenium for use in cattle feed

Selenium has been cleared for use in cattle feed by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, according to John P. Nordheim, Morrow County Extension Agent.

Selenium, a trace mineral, can now be added to cattle diets under certain conditions. The soil in Eastern Oregon is quite low in this mineral, thereby the plants grown on this soil are also low in selenium. Animals in this region tend to be deficient in selenium.

Selenium deficiencies are widespread in Eastern Oregon. Selenium is needed to

Summer courses in Heppner

Blue Mountain Community College will be offering summer courses in Hermiston and Heppner as well as on the Pendleton campus.

Classes to be offered in Hermiston include Expectant Parents Class, Sailing, Welding, Real Estate Practices, Tennis and Basic Bookkeeping. Expectant Parents Class and Golf for advanced and beginning students will be offered in Heppner.

Added to the list of summer courses to be offered on campus are Real Estate Finance, Prenatal Education and a Time Management workshop. Other courses to be offered in Pendleton include: First Aid, Personal Health, Physical Education-Raquetball, English Composition, Introduction to Literature, Principles of Accounting, History of World War II, Psychology, Intermediate Algebra, College Algebra, Elementary Algebra, Business Math, Biology and Elementary Microbiology.

Registration for all summer classes will start on May 21 and continue through June 12.

Complete information on a particular class may be obtained by calling the BMCC Adult Education Office at 276-1260, ext. 205 or writing P.O. Box 100, Pendleton, Oregon 97801.

Nancy Brownfield is the Adult Evening Division Education Coordinator for the Heppner area. Her number is 676-5277. Hermiston residents should contact Margaret Davis, Adult Evening Program Coordinator, at 567-9306 for more information on Hermiston area courses.

Bergland appoints pair to board

Two Boardman farmers are among the appointees to the Oregon-California Potato Commission for the 1979 and 1980 seasons.

Boardman growers John A. Prag and Donald R. Brewer were appointed to the board by Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland.

The committee works with the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture in carrying out the federal marketing order for the Irish potatoes grown in all Oregon counties except Malheur, Siskiyou and Modoc counties in California. The members are nominated by producers and handlers and will serve two year terms ending May 31, 1981.

Forest Service undertakes projects

Forest Supervisor H.B. Rudolph announced today plans for vegetation control projects on Umatilla National Forest lands.

These plans are subjects of environmental assessment reports which consider several alternatives for control of noxious weed and highway roadside vegetation. Selection of chosen alternatives will be made about June 1, 1979 following a 30 day notice in the Federal Register.

Some of the alternatives would utilize various chemical herbicides. These are Karmex, Krovar I, Weedone 170 and Krenite for control of roadside vegetation. Projects are by the Oregon State Highway Division along 34.5 miles of state highways 204 and 244 in Union and Umatilla counties, 207 in Morrow and Wheeler counties, and U.S. 395 in Grant County; where these highways cross National Forest lands. Roundup and Picloram may be used for noxious weed control by the U.S. Forest Service or County weed control districts.

Forest Service noxious weed control projects are located in numerous small spots ranging from .01 acre to 45 acres. Ten acres are on the Pomeroy Ranger District in Asotin, Columbia, Garfield and Wallowa counties. Sixty acres are on the Walla Walla Ranger District in Union County, and five acres on the Heppner Ranger District in Morrow, Wheeler and Grant counties. All of the herbicides are registered by the E.P.A. for the intended use.

Some concern has been expressed about protection of nearby habitat important for wildlife, fish or non-target plant species. The proposed treatment provides for measure such as careful and controlled application, low toxicity of selected herbicides, buffer or non-treatment areas, and certified applications so that adjacent habitat will not be affected.

Irrigon news

Francis Rose Wilson • 922-3352

Sandi Britt of Spray spoke at the Irrigon Assembly of God Sunday morning, concerning her year in Africa. She went out under the MAPS Missions Mobilization and Placement Service. Her work was mainly with children and youth services.

Returning from Africa, she visited the International Correspondence Institute in Belgium and has made application go to Brussels, Belgium to work with the correspondence Institute.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wilson were old friends of the family, Mrs. Glen O'Brien of Longview Wash. and Eda Clayburg of Denver, Colo.

Lillian Legner has sold her home and will be moving to Wisconsin to be near her son. Columbia View Fellowship had a special service Sunday morning honoring their two high school senior graduates Tim Ledbetter and Ken May. Gifts were presented to the young men and following the service, cake, coffee and punch were served.

Kindergarten students who will be attending school from Boardman and Irrigon next fall may re-register by calling A.C. Houghton Elementary School, 922-3321. A time will be arranged for them to visit kindergarten on May 25.

Children must be 5 years old by Nov. 15, 1979 and must show proof of date of birth and must have proper immunization before entering school.
