

4-H Camp schedules June 18 work day

A general work day is scheduled for Monday, June 18 at camp, with all counselors and parents or leaders encouraged to bring lunch and help get camp ready.

Camp costs were lowered this year to allow more campers to attend, so many economies in plans have been necessary. Needed for a craft project are clay flower pots (they may be used ones). Anyone having even one or two they would donate is asked to call 676-9642.

Also needed are parents or leaders to help on a day basis with food preparation, or crafts, so if you'd like an

"in-depth" look at 4-H camp, give us a call! We have a volunteer cook, but she needs a helper each day! Camp is a highlight of the 4-Hers year, and all signs point to another good one!

4-H Labo Cultural Exchange For Adults...
Something new in International programs has been added. There is a special tour of Japan available for those adults who have been involved with the exchange program and would like an opportunity to actually visit Japan. The opportunity is open to those who have been Labo host families, coordinators, extension agents, or others who have worked with the program.

The tour starts on November 10 and includes two weeks visiting tourist-type areas and a one-week visit with a host family. Participants may visit in the home of a Japanese family with whom they have become acquainted through Labo.

Like all good things there is a cost involved.

Those interested may get complete details by calling Birdine, 676-9642.

Many 4-Hers are "camera bugs" and record their fun activities on film. An opportunity is available to members this year to share their fun through exhibiting pictures at state fair. They need not be a photography member to participate; exhibits by all members are welcome.

A number of photos will be selected from the state fair exhibit to be sent to National 4-H Congress for display next fall. Color or black and white photos may be used, with each print mounted on poster, art or photo board approximately 8 by 11 inches in size, and entries should include name, address and county of the 4-H photographer on the back.

Picture should include a caption on the front. Negatives of the picture should be placed in an envelope and attached to the exhibit.

With summer fun—like camp and fair—members have many opportunities for good shots with their cameras.

We encourage members to think ahead and plan to enter their 4-H story in picture at state fair this year. Tell the world about Morrow 4-H.

For Gardeners...June Is The Time To:

...Spray for codling moth in apple and pear trees (first week in June). Fertilize garden a month after plants emerge, eat the thinnings from lettuce, onion chard, transplant tomato seedlings and control cutworms in garden. Your county agent will recommend a product to use.

Spray aphids on vegetables, and control maggots on onions and carrots. (ask your agent what to use).

Spray a second time for codling moth in apple and pear trees. (last week in June). Don't forget your houseplants. They are often neglected when summer gardening takes you to the outdoors!

Enjoy the lovely month of June and get ready for hot weather and harvest in July!

More Information On Grande Ronde Mini College...

Recent information received concerning costs of the Grande Ronde Mini College, La Grande, tells us that the $18 fee listed on registration form is a fee to attend, with additional costs for housing and meals.

This information was omitted from the registration form and has caused confusion. In addition to the initial registration fee, participants should expect to pay $4.50 for a single room, $3 for double occupancy, breakfasts, $2, lunch $2.50, dinner $3, on Thursday through Saturday. On Sunday, there will be a Father's Day brunch, costing $4. Participants should take their own towels and personal items but sheets and bedding are included in the cost of the room.

Registration will be accepted until the first day of Mini College, June 14. For more details call 963-2171, extension 208. Registration forms listing classes may be obtained from Morrow Extension office.

4-H Camp And Needs For Camp...

Big times are ahead for 4-H members fourth through seventh grade who get their registration in to attend the summer camp at Cutsforth Park, June 24-27. Those planning to attend should mail their forms in immediately.

New events and activities have been added this year and many familiar programs changed or scheduled in a different way. Included this year is a full day of adventure away from camp with everyone having the opportunity to examine new trails and see new areas. The familiar hour long classes have been eliminated and new crafts and recreational activities added. It's a new approach to camping, both for those who have previously attended, and those for which this is a first experience. Older youth who serve as counselors are all Morrow 4-H members this year.
