

Local girls capture Junior Rodeo honors

Local girls captured top honors Sunday in the Morrow County Junior Rodeo held at the County Fairgrounds in Heppner.

Maureen Healy won the Senior Girl's All-Around title and on the same day, the Harold Irwin Memorial award; also on Sunday, she claimed the all-around title in the Pendleton High School Rodeo. Tara Mahoney won the Junior All-Around title and first place in the junior girls' pole-bending.

In the boy's division, Sam Willis, Redmond, won the Senior All-Around Division and Troy Frazier, the Jr. Boy's All-Around.

Bonnie Coffman, Union, was named as recipient of the Jody Ruggs Award.

Rodeo-watchers saw three days of action packed events ranging from bareback riding to Senior boy's bull-riding. There were 18 events in all and the winners for each event were: Senior boy's bareback, Rocky Britt, Pilot Rock; senior boy's calf roping, Rocky Steagall, Irrigon; senior girl's cow riding, Danna Katzenberger, Lakeview; jr. boy's calf-riding, Ed Hack, North Powder; senior girl's pole bending, Rhonda Erickson, Condon; junior girl's pole bending, Tara Mahoney, Heppner; senior girl's breakaway roping, Maureen Healy, Heppner; junior boy's breakaway, Troy Frazier, Walla Walla; junior girl's barrels, Andrea Ball, Heppner; senior girl's barrels, Marne Beck, Walla Walla; junior girl's barrels, Nancy Miller, Heppner; junior girl's calf riding, Teresa Cole, Pasco; junior boy's calf tying, Troy Frazier, Walla Walla; senior girl's goat tying, Bonnie Coffman, Union; senior boy's bulldogging, Ron Bosworth; senior boy's saddle bronc, Lawrence Rice; junior team roping, Lindsay Claver and Tiny Bertsch, Hermiston; senior team roping, Bill and John Hill, Klamath Falls and senior boy's bull riding, Ron Bosworth.

There were three injuries reported. Dave Dewey sustained pulled ligaments when a calf stepped on him and Tony Hannon, Redmond, was competing Sunday after being taken to the hospital when a stock animal struck him in the chest. Lee Rice suffered a pinched nerve.

Haberlach is 'Man of Year'

Frank Haberlach, the son of Justine Weatherford, Heppner, has been named man of the year by the South Kitsap Chamber of Commerce, Port Orchard, Washington.

Described as a "real work-horse" in community service projects, Haberlach has been helpful in driving the chamber of commerce float the past four years, is a past president and director of the chamber, has served on the Holly Ridge Center board of directors, state and Olympic Peninsula Life Underwriters of which he was secretary-treasurer and a director, Port Orchard Rotary Club and chairman of the Clarence Largis Scholarship Committee.

The all-around awards were presented by Jerry Dougherty and the prizes sponsored by Columbia Basin Electric, Ray Boyce Insurance, Beecher's Cafe and Cole's House of Fashion and the Posy Patch.

Adult volunteers of the Junior Rodeo Association arranged and worked on the event. Directors of the Rodeo Association include Chairman Bob Steagall, Bob Montgomery, roping chutes, Bob Mahoney, bucking chutes, Dick Sherer, grounds, Jerry Dougherty, awards, Kite Healy, Don Stroeber, dance and Sheree Mahoney, secretary.

The Lion's Club served refreshments and handled gate duties.

The Heppner rodeo was second in 18 junior rodeos to be held this year in a four state area. The next rodeo is slated for New Plymouth, Idaho.

On Saturday night, young people were hosted to a dance at the Fairgrounds to the music of the Jim Ackley Band.

Ullman reps visit in Pendleton

WASHINGTON—Members of Congressman Al Ullman's staff will be in Pendleton Friday, June 15 to meet with Umatilla and Morrow County residents who wish to express their views or discuss specific problems.

Appointments to meet individually with the staff members from Washington, D.C. and Salem may be made by calling Congressman Ullman's toll-free number, 1-800-452-2143.

Robin Leavitt receives award

Robin Leavitt was the recipient of the Warren Williams Memorial Vocational Scholarship at the recent Ione High School's commencement ceremony.

Kevin McCabe was one of four recipients of the Carl Troedson scholarship. His name was inadvertently misspelled in last week's issue.

Cutsforth returns after Western Pacific tour

Navy Lieutenant (junior grade) Thomas W. Cutsforth, son of Lucia J. and stepson of James Barrett of Heppner, Ore., recently returned from a deployment to the Western Pacific.

He is an officer assigned to Attack Squadron 146, based at Naval Air Station, Lemoore, Calif. His squadron was embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS Constellation operating as a unit of the U.S. Seventh Fleet.

During the eight-month cruise, his squadron participated in a number of training exercises with other Seventh Fleet units and with those of allied nations. Additionally, while embarked aboard the Constellation, his unit transited the South China Sea and Indian Ocean in response to the turmoil in Iran and North Yemen. The Indian Ocean assignment has resulted in his eligibility for the Navy Expeditionary Medal.

While deployed, he had the opportunity to visit Japan, Korea, Singapore and the Republic of the Philippines.

A 1972 graduate of Heppner High School, and a 1976 graduate of Oregon State University, Corvallis, Ore., with a Bachelor of Science degree, he joined the Navy in June 1976.

Around About

unanticipated, spectacular surprise arranged my hosts, second cousins who live at Bielefeld. These Kleinsorge kin (my mother's family) were so cordial and so generous with their time, their homes and their delicious cooking. It was hard to say goodbye to them as I boarded the 1:20 a.m. night train via Hannover to Frankfurt to fly homeward.

Before we reached Sea-Tac the man who sat beside me gathered statistics about our westward flight. He found that we traveled in Pan-Am's big 747 for 4220 miles. Our average altitude was 35,000 feet, and we cruised at 550 miles per hour. At takeoff from London the ship weighed 685,000 lbs; it carried 40,000 gallons of fuel which weighed 255,000 pounds. We were in the air just a little over nine hours and ten minutes. Our route was across northern Ireland, southern Greenland, Canada's Baffin Island, Hudson Bay and central and western provinces.

It will still be days, maybe weeks, before I work my way back to "normal." I expect to write again about local happenings after I become re-oriented.

You will no longer see me accompanied by my mut Tippy. I have given dear Tip to my husband's grandniece who has taken him to live with her on the Earl Weatherford summer pasture above Kimberly in Grant County. Thus you will be spared further puppy reports, although I may occasionally mention my faithful cat Sam.

My typewriter awaits, and if you have local tidbits you would like me to help you share with our readers, try to catch me at my telephone.

P.S. If you like to pull weeds, do stop by my yard—the weeds have flourished.
