

4-H camp underway this weekend at Cutsforth

"Women And The Law"...a publication relating to laws of special interest to women is now available in limited quantities at the Extension office. If this sounds like something you'd like to include in your summer reading, come by for a copy. 4-H Camp Facility Will Be Shared

When Morrow 4-H campers return home from camp on Wednesday, another group of campers from Gilliam and Wheeler counties will move in! Cutsforth Park is a great facility for 4-H campers, and we are happy to share it with those from our neighboring counties. Gilliam-Wheeler campers will be in camp until Saturday, June 30th. 4-H is happy to share the dining hall facility with anyone camping or picnicing at the park, but we wish they would not remove our light bulbs. Replacing bulbs is costly!

1979 4-H Summer Week

Our delegates reported good times. They were among the 850 delegates from all parts of Oregon who spent the week on the campus at Oregon State University. This was an increased number from previous years. Summer week is the same as the summer school of past years, just a change in name to cover increased and broadened opportunities. In addition to the general classes, summer week also includes a horse member workshop which attracted 38 members, and a marine science workshop, with attendance of 35 members. Morrow delegates were Angie Evans, Shane Laughlin and Mike Currin.

Kimberly Hughes, Shelley Stroeber, Andrea Ball, Kathleen Clark, Kimberly Miller and Cindy Stroeber will each receive a certificate acknowledging their participation in the contest.
Wheat Weaving
Remember, if you are interested in wheat weaving, right now is the time to locate your supply of wheat! Around the county, I see many fields beginning to turn golden. Classes will be available, but you must supply the wheat needed. Call 676-9642 for more information.

Fair Booths Available
A call from fair committee chairman, Delpha Jones, indicates that now is the time to make arrangements for a booth at county fair. Organizations, clubs or groups who wish to reserve a booth may call Ms. Jones or Nancy Bruch, fair board secretary.

Sen. Mark Hatfield visits July 2

Sen. Mark Hatfield-R will visit the Morrow County Courthouse Monday, July 2 at 4 p.m.

Hatfield claimed in a recent press release that the U.S. Air Force made a $10-12 billion mistake in M-X missile calculations. Oregon's senior Senator urged President Carter to make the present U.S. land-based Minuteman III missile force mobile (MMIII) as a replacement for the proposed deployment of M-X missile in the next decade.

This would be "a great savings to the taxpayer, for less strategically destabilizing, faster in its deployment and could offer fresh new arms control possibilities in the immediate months and years ahead."

NEWS NOTES

Kinzua workers vote end to Union grievance

Members of the International Woodworkers of America Local 3-312 voted to discontinue an employee grievance against the Kinzua mill in Heppner Sunday, relieving a strike threat at the company.
Dallas Harsin, business manager of the union, said the Bid awarded to resurface Highway 207

A bid for resurfacing Highway 207 from Lexington to the Bombing Range Rd. has been awarded to Peter Kiewit and Son's, Vancouver by the State Highway Division.
Kiewit was the low bidder of several companies submitting the low bid of $2,082,973. The road bed to be resurfaced was damaged by last winter's frost and estimated at 12 miles long. The low bidder has 270 days to complete the project.

Man charged with striking lone grain elevator

Paul R. Huff, Ione, was arrested Saturday by Morrow County Sheriff's Deputies and charged with reckless driving, hit and run and criminal trespass in the second degree in connection with damage to grain elevator doors at the Ralph Crum elevators in Ione Friday night.

Huff is scheduled to appear in a Justice Court hearing July 2 at 10 a.m.

Crum reported more than $500 damage to his property.

The Air Force mistake, according to the Library of Congress, rested on a basic error in logic in which the Air Force envisioned a need for 12,000 protective shelters needed to guard 200 M-X missiles.

Children start blaze

A blaze on State Game Commission property was quickly suppressed by the Heppner Volunteer Fire Department Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. on Highway 74. There was slight damage to an antique farm wagon owned by Orville Cutsforth, owner of adjacent property.

Fire Chief Forrie Burkenbine reported that two youths, 6 and 7 years old, started the grass fire with cigarette lighters.

Several members of Holly Rebekah Lodge and guests motored to Pendleton on Tuesday where they were treated to a tour of the Yellow Hawk Clinic and new facilities at the Umatilla Indian Mission.

annual picnic at the Cutsforth Cabin on Sunday. The afternoon was spent in hiking throughout the mountains, horse-shoe pitching, fishing and pinochle. A lovely pot-luck dinner was served at noon. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Yocom, Venice Hendrickson, Florence McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smouse, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nelson and houseguests from Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peck, Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Jones, Rick Smith and the host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Cutsforth.

On the agenda was a trip to the St. Andrew's Mission and the older school facilities which are being redone to accommodate classes in art, and cultures of early Indians, to Tillicum where they saw employees making parts for heart pacemakers and heart machines.

Kenneth Peck is a patient in Pioneer Memorial Hospital where he is receiving medical attention.

Dinner was enjoyed at the Senior Citizen center, where the ladies were welcomed and on to the clinic where the process of medical attention was explained, how built, financed and the care and attention given the younger people with a new gym and child care center.

Mrs. Mike Kane and son Patrick flew home Sunday from a visit with her sister, Linda VanWinkle at Santa Monica, Calif. and friends and relatives in San Francisco.

The hostess for the day was Tessie Williams of the Yellowhawk Clinic. Those attending were Virginia Peck, Florence McMillan, Hilda Yocom, Gladys VanWinkle, Betty Christman, Delpha Jones, Eula Bloodsworth, Debbie Rogers, Joyce Buchanan and Josie Peck.

Mr. Kane remained in San Francisco where he is employed. Mrs. Kane was met in Pasco by her mother Gladys VanWinkle.

Ralph Burcham has been taken to St. Anthony's Hospital in Pendleton where he is receiving therapy treatments. Mrs. Burcham is staying with her daughter Linda while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Klinger and Victor Klinger were weekend visitors with their mother Mrs. Pete Klinger and attended their brother Aaron's wedding in Hermiston on Saturday. The Klinger family visited on Sunday with their father at the Walla Walla Veterans Hospital. Those from Lexington attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Padberg, Grace Leathers, Bill Padberg, Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Rauch and the groom's mother, Annetta Klinger.

Gladys VanWinkle and Betty Christman are home again after a meeting in Monmouth, at the OSEA Conference. They were delegates from Chapter 59
