

Bob Rietmann of Ione elected chairman of BMCC directors

Bob Rietmann, Ione, has been elected chairman of the board of directors of Blue Mountain Community College for 1979-80.

John Hansell, Hermiston, was elected vice chairman. The board will hold its October meeting in Ione.

At the June 20 board meeting, three sites in Hermiston were considered as possible rental space to house an adult basic education classroom and coordinator's office.

Board members will visit the proposed sites of the Hermiston facility June 28 at 6 p.m. A meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. the same day to reach a final decision on facility rental. Current options for leasing space include the Umatilla County West End Building, JB's Record Company and the Redalco Building.

In other actions, the board adopted a four day work week for college employees beginning June 25 through August 31 and established new office hours as a means of energy conservation. Employees at the college will stagger their half hour lunch breaks so that the college offices will remain open the full 10 hours, four days a week. College placement and GED tests may still be taken on Fridays in the Admissions office.

Following an executive session, the board adopted a two-year salary schedule for confidential and support staff employees. Salary increases of 9.5 percent for the 1979-80 school year were approved.

The college board agreed to participate in a special federally-funded sex equity program with Treasurer Valley Community College in Ontario. The purpose of the program will be to provide non-traditional vocational activities at the two community colleges to assist people in obtaining more rewarding employment opportunities.

Hope Lutheran starts summer worship service

Hope Lutheran Church of Heppner is starting a Thursday night summer worship service. The service is at 8 p.m. It is designed for anyone wishing to worship and came out of a desire to serve people who want to vacation on weekend but also want to worship.

The service will be less formal than the Sunday service and everyone is invited to come.

Private swim parties allowed

Private swim parties at the Heppner Municipal pool may now be arranged with the pool manager.

The fee is $20 per hour with a 2 hour minimum and must be under the supervision of the manager.

Hereford group tabs leaders

The 4th annual Oregon Junior Poled Hereford Association Show was held June 22-23, at the state fairgrounds in Salem, Oregon. Official judge for the show was Tom Patton of Rupert, Idaho.

The annual meeting and election of officers and directors was held Friday night, June 22nd following a potluck dinner. The O.J.P.H.A. members elected as vice president and a 3-year term director, Krynn Robinson of Heppner, OR. This marks the first time an officer or director has been from Eastern Oregon.

Other officers include: president Tim Nash, Cornelius; secretary, Alice Nixon, Beaver Creek; treasurer Chris Raujol, West Linn; reporter Erik Bloomfeldt, Rainier. Advisors of the O.J.P.H.A. are Juleen Mehus, Wilsonville, Rick Gilbert, Clackamas, Dennis Kluser, Hillsboro and Donna Laurent, Canby.

On June 23rd, Robinson took second place in Class V, March 1978 Junior Yearling Heifers with her heifer, WSF Lady Adv 26H. She also placed eighth in senior showmanship.

Krynn was accompanied by her father, Don Robinson. Robinson also participated at the show by taking second place in adult men's showmanship.

Krynn, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Robinson of Heppner. She will be graduating from Blue Mountain Community College next year and will be transferring to Colorado State University majoring in Agriculture Public Relations.

Senior Citizen News

County seniors have been busy this week.

On Monday, a group went to John Day in the new senior bus to attend the Area Agency on Aging meeting.

On Tuesday several went to Pendleton for the C.A.P. Board meeting. On Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., a large delegation went from Heppner to join others from Irrigon at the monthly Senior Citizens Advisory Council meeting at Ione. After the meeting, all the visitors shared the evening meal with the Ione seniors.

Just last week I listed the names of six youth who are or were employed under the Summer Program of Employment and Development for Youth (SPEDY.) Well, I have since learned that one of the boys listed, Wayne Eckley, has been replaced by Dan Keister, Lexington.

This week, I am feeling more lucky than usual. To get details about how lucky I have been, you need to hear the stories from Inez Erwin about my astonishing good luck in England.

Anyway, I had a delightful surprise in finding worker Dan Keister and fellow worker Phillip Williams, also from Lexington, at my door by 8 a.m. on Monday to help me with weed eradication. Such joy. Happiness is being a senior citizen in Morrow County—having help about the home on needed occasions and sharing two delicious meals each week with compatible friends of my same age group.

Next week's delicious meals will include: Tuesday, July 3, at Heppner, burger-tamale pies, pear and cheese salad, hot muffins and jelly, relish plate of pickles, carrots and celery and apple rolls with topping.

At Ione and Heppner on Wednesday, July 4, steak and mushroom gravy, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, lime jello with cabbage and pineapple salad, corn bread, butter and jam and pear dessert with topping.

Sorry, but the Irrigon menu for Monday, July 2, is not available.

Ione, Heppner Garden Clubs receive district ten honors

Blue Mountain District No. 10 of the Oregon Federation of Garden Clubs came home from the State Convention with the coveted first place Historic Preservation trophy.

The district project has been restoration of the Saling House at Weston to which each club contributed as well as most clubs of the district had projects within their communities.

Dorothy Heard of Milton-Freewater was the outgoing District Director. Elaine Belts of Pendleton prepared the book of evidence submitted.

The Ione Garden Club and the Heppner Garden Club received recognition for their contributions towards the Blue Star Markers. The Ione Garden Club received a plaque for 100 percent subscription to "Oregon Seasons", the state news letter. Certificates will be presented to the clubs at the fall workshop to be held in Pendleton. Mrs. Glenn Jackson of Hermiston is the new District Director. Helen Martin of the Ione club attended the State Convention held at Corvallis.

Valby Lutheran meeting slated for Condon area this coming weekend

Valby Lutheran Church is moving to Condon for one week. The worship service this coming Sunday will be in Condon at 2 p.m. at the rodeo office on the Gilliam County Fairgrounds.

Holy Communion will be celebrated in the service and the communion of friends will be celebrated with a potluck picnic after the service.

Valby is the 94 year old Swedish Lutheran Church 20 miles south of Ione and 24 miles west of Heppner. The congregation has had a group of members in Condon for about 10 years before affiliating with Valby. Condon members were served by the Boardman was flooded. The pastor at Valby travels to Condon once a month to conduct worship services and the Condon members come to Valby when possible.

The worship service picnic is a way of deepening the bond between the two groups separated by 30 miles of rough road.

Friends of the congregation are invited to attend.

Around About

Irene Swanson, whose before-Morrow home was near the campus, came there to wait until Steve and I finished our assignment at 9 p.m. She feels sentimental about that sector of Salem, the old McKay Mill, the millrace, the streets, campus and state buildings. Irene said that Salem is more than twice as large now than it was during her girlhood there. She had been visiting many members of her own family and had agreed to ride back to Heppner with us.

Sunday morning (about 2 a.m. as we three came south from Ione), we came upon a very recent accident at the corner of Mollahan's Ranch and Bunker Hill Road. We all feared that possibly some young people coming from the rodeo dance might be involved—as unfortunately proved true. Rev. Tollefson insisted on staying at the accident scene to be helpful with his Heppner-acquired Emergency Medical Technology training while Irene and I came on to our homes. He admitted during his final worship service Sunday morning that he didn't get to bed until 5 a.m. and then was up again in just a few hours and into a very busy day.

Because this must be turned in before the completion of the voting on the county and hospital budgets, I cannot comment on the results which I am anxiously awaiting. Both Jimmy Carter and I shall be most disappointed if voters haven't done their civic duty and used the sacred ballot boxes. I hope that after Jimmy gets back from Japan, we will both stay at our own white houses and catch up with local affairs.

Irrigon's A.C. Houghton...

1954 class holds reunion

The class of 1954 held an all school reunion and potluck dinner at the A.C. Houghton School in Irrigon on Saturday.

Although it was sponsored by the class of 1954, it was announced as an all school reunion.

The Irrigon schools were consolidated with Boardman schools about 1959.

Of the 15 who graduated with the class of 1954 there were 10 who were present Saturday. Classmates came from Oregon, Idaho, Washington and Calif. Approximately 65 people were present for the occasion. Plans were started for another reunion in 5 years. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Creamer gave a barbecue Sat. night for members of the class, their families and friends.
