

4-H Camp held at Cutsforth park

By Birdine Tullis Extension Office

A good camp is...exceptional counselors, sunshine, good food, songs and campfires, skits, and pranks...time to have fun, time to be just kids. A good camp is good kids, and lots of help from lots of people. That was camp "How the West Was Won."

Craft supplies. County Health Nurse donates her time to check the health of the campers. The park's caretaker assists by removing garbage...the list is long, and each is appreciated! Lost and Found at Camp: Two orange (with stripes) jackets! Market Basket This is one of the best produce seasons in several years. Weather conditions have been good and fruit and vegetable crops are large. The big problem is the trucking situation—getting the products to market. Although the amount of fresh produce grown in Oregon makes us less dependent upon truckers, there is still a problem in getting produce from other parts of the country.

peaches, plums, nectarines and grapes will soon be available. Included will be freestone peaches. Northwest cherries are coming to market. From all indications there is a near record crop.

Son born to Walter Ballards

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Ballard are the parents of a boy, Lawrence Walter, 8 lbs., 3½ ounces, born June 24 at Pioneer Memorial Hospital. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Beckett, Heppner and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ballard, Guyton, Okla. Mrs. Carrie Beckett, Heppner, is the boy's great grandmother.

Students listed on college honor roll

Deborah K. Byrnes, Heppner and Emma J. Piening, Ione are listed on the spring honor roll at Eastern Oregon State College in La Grande.

Out of a total of 185 students, nearly 13 percent of the enrollment made the spring term honor roll. Sixty-six were men and 119 were women.

Both students received 3.85 grade points.

Garden Club plans workshop

The Ione Garden Club invites everyone to a workshop in flower arranging.

Nancy Miller will explain mechanics and Delta Huber, containers, from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. July 12 at the Willows Grange in Ione.

Students return home from 10 day trip to Mexican cities of Mazatlan, Mexico City

Students from Heppner and Riverside High Schools' Spanish programs returned home recently from a 10 day trip to Mexico.

They were led by their teachers, Gordon Munck, Heppner High School Spanish teacher and Shane Fritz, Spanish teacher at Riverside. The trip, which included stays in Mexico City, Guadalajara and Mazatlan, is conducted every two years as part of a joint Spanish program involving the two schools. The group has been planning and raising money for excursion since the beginning of the year.

Leaving from Portland June 4, the group flew to Mexico City via Los Angeles for a four day stay. During this time, they had tours of the city's main attractions such as the pyramids of Teotihuacan, the Shrine of Guadalupe and the castle at Chapultepec Park. They also attended the Ballet Folklorico of Mexico.

From Mexico City, they traveled to Guadalajara, which is the center of production and sale of arts and crafts, besides being known as the cultural center of Mexico. The students saw craftsmen blowing glass, making and painting pottery and operating hand looms. They visited the Mercado, Marketplace, one of the largest in Mexico, spending time to haggle with the merchants and enjoying the local color.

Next stop on the tour was Mazatlan for relaxation in the sun and swimming in the ocean. A few of the travelers spent a day fishing for sailfish.

The trip gave the students an opportunity to study the people and culture of Mexico first hand and according to their teachers, "rewarding to be able to use their Spanish on native speakers."

Five chaperones accompanied the group, the two teachers' spouses, Doug Fritz and Miriam Munck, Mr. Munck's grandmother, Lourine Squires, Riverside Physical Education Teacher, Nancy Myklebust and Laura Broderick, a friend of the Muncks.

Students going on the trip were: Tammy Lucas, Mike Stookey, Scott McEwen, Troy Borst, Alice Abrams, Paula Heinrich, Claudia Huston, Todd Harrison, John Patching, Suzanne Keithley and Darla Parker, all of Heppner High School and from Riverside were Carol Ann Donovan, Joan Partlow, Connie Braat, Larry Hiigel and Buddy Mills.

Hospital Notes

Admissions at Pioneer Memorial Hospital this week included Dorothy Wheeler, Heppner, dismissed, Ivan Akers, Boardman, dismissed, Naomi Reed, Ione, dismissed, Edna Bailey, Heppner, Roy Allen Milton, Omak, Wash., Jean Riggs, La Jolla, Ca.

craft, puppets, block printing, T-shirt art, play dough, apple-head dolls, driftwood crafts and instructors were Judy and Lottie Laughlin, Wendy Myers, Ken Curtis, Julie Grieb, Todd Harrison, Larry Palmer, Angie Evans, John Nordheim and Birdine Tullis, assisted by all counselors.

Volunteer cooks for the camp were Francine Evans, Bob and Sharon Harrison and lots of hot rolls and good home cooking kept the kids happy...not to mention the many snacks in between meals! Pat Wright, nurse, checked the camp daily to be sure all remained healthy as well as happy.

Counselors were: Wendy Myers, Julie Grieb, Patti Devine, Coleman Devine, Heather Winter, Todd Harrison, Lottie Laughlin, Angie Evans, Mari Evans and Larry Palmer.

Each evening brought campfires with songs and skits by both counselors and campers. Closing ceremonies included an awards program for camp competitions, as well as the traditional "crawd" ceremony which recognizes the campers chosen from each tent who best portrays the spirit of the 4-H camping program.

Many people help make our 4-H camp a success...some by actual participation in the camp; others by donations of time, materials, or finances. Dick Sargent, Coast to Coast donated materials, Jim Hayes, Farmer's Insurance donated a scholarship which took a youth to camp, John Jepsen, Dobyns Pest Control donates time and material to keep the facility free of pests. Individuals and counselors donate their time to teaching classes...and often part of the Morrow County 4-H members had the opportunity to spend a week at the "Hole in the Wall Camp" at Cutsforth Park. Theme of the camp was "How the West Was Won." Youngsters were learning how to win the west with a variety of outdoor and indoor skills from volunteers and local extension agents.

BMCC offers new parents class

An expectant parents class, offered through Blue Mountain Community College, will begin July 18. The course will run for 8 weeks. Those interested should contact Chris Adleman, R.N., 676-5196 or Nancy Brownfield, coordinator for the BMCC evening division, 676-5039.

The summer session is designed for those couples expecting before November, 1979.

AT FIRST NATIONAL YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE A BIG SAVER TO EARN BIG INTEREST.

"Did you know that First National is introducing high-yield, 4-year Money Market Certificates* with only a $100 minimum?"

"Plus, they're boosting the regular savings rate up to 5-1/4%."

"And I can phone the 'Savers Hotline' to find out which plan is best for me. That's my Bank."

"So I don't have to be a big saver to earn big interest."

Now, most of our savings certificates* will have new low $100 minimums to help more savers earn high interest.

4-Year Term with a rate ceiling based on 4-year Treasury security yields. That's right, a 4-year Money Market Certificate based on the current 4-year Treasury yield, with only a $100 minimum. And this month that rate is higher than most ordinary savings certificates, and is the highest we have ever offered for less than a $10,000 deposit.

30-Day to 8-Year First Investment Certificates.* If a shorter or longer term fits your needs, take advantage of the new low $100 minimum. These certificates are a great way to achieve your individual savings goals with high yield and insured safety up to FDIC maximum.

New high 5 1/4% annual interest on regular savings too! Now, First National is boosting the annual interest rate on regular savings accounts to the highest we've ever paid—5 1/4%. So now all savers will be earning more!
