Emergency repairs at BMCC told

The Blue Mountain Community College board of education took emergency action at its Aug. 15 board meeting to authorize the immediate repair of two areas on the college campus so construction would be completed before the start of school.

A concrete wall will be constructed to halt the erosion of the bank between Health Education Building and the MAC-Music Building. The board accepted Gale Marshall Company's bid of $9,530 for the project.

In the south parking area in front of Pioneer Hall, inadequate drainage was causing erosion under the asphalt. Pioneer Construction Company was hired to make the needed repairs at a cost of $5,600. An additional $800 might be needed if the existing outfall line has to be replaced. President Ron Daniels also discussed with the board a proposed reciprocity agreement currently being considered by the State Board of Education. The agreement would allow Washington and Oregon students to attend schools in either state without paying out-of-state tuition.

The board was concerned with the effect the agreement would have on Milton-Freewater students who could attend college in Walla Walla 10 miles away rather than travel the 30 miles to Pendleton. Daniels noted that there are currently about 20 full time students attending BMCC from Milton-Freewater.

Concerns of the board will be relayed to the State Board. Daniels noted that residents of the Blue Mountain Community College district support the college through property taxes and tuition fees. Washington colleges are supported through the state income tax and tuition fees.
