

AROUND ABOUT

with Justine Weatherford

Another busy weekend. How the Heppner and Ione football teams shone! Saturday saw some citizens trek over to Arlington to the fall auction and a larger group gathered at Heppner High School for the afternoon workshop on Elk Management in Timber Country.

All weekend a dedicated group of lady garden members worked together to present the 30-Year Anniversary Garden Show and Tea at Ione. This event brought many to Ione who enjoyed seeing that attractive community, attending the churches there.

Those who saw one of the two slide shows that Helen Martin arranged were very impressed with the way the Ione Garden Club has improved its community through the years. How it has changed the Woolery Memorial Park, has increased the tree and shrub plantings around the publicly used buildings and along the streets. Each member and family takes such pride in maintaining a beautiful yard.

Each of the ladies from the Heppner and Ione clubs wore a hat during the show which helped to identify her as a hostess. Although there was nothing said about the hat show—it was an interesting sideshow. We hear that hats are coming back into style and some will fear them and some will welcome them.

South Morrow is really gaining a more international look than it has had in many years since there is a young lady from England at Heppner Elementary School, a Japanese student and a Finnish student at Heppner High School and a Laotian family of boat people expected soon. Perhaps we will have to stop calling our community "isolated" now that world-wide visitors are among us.

Don't forget the Morrow County Historical Society's annual meeting on Sunday, Sept. 30 at the Lexington Grange Hall. Let the Soroptimists hear if you have rummage to give before their Oct. 6 sale.

Most organizations welcome anyone interested. A few have restricted membership. After locating a group you are interested in, ask for more information from a member.

SUNDAY—The churches in each community welcome everyone; Heppner, All Saints Episcopal, The Assembly of God (The Christian Life Center), The Baptist Church (meeting in homes), The Christian Church, The Church of the Nazarene, Hope Lutheran Church, St. Patrick's Catholic Church, The United Methodist Church, The Seventh-day Adventist Church on Saturday.

Kathy and Curtis Cutsforth

Cutsforth-Lacey wed in mountains

Kathy Lacey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Lacey, became Mrs. Curtis Gene Cutsforth in an August 25 afternoon wedding at the groom's mother's, Lucia Barrett, home in the Blake's Addition in the mountains.

Curtis was graduated from Heppner High School in 1975 and graduated from Blue Mountain Community College in 1978.

Kathy attended school in Condon, Ore. and graduated from the high school in Condon in 1978. The bride was given away by her father, Walt Lacey, and she wore a white, old-fashioned hoop wedding dress with five layers of modern lace. Kathy wore an elbow length illusion veil with seeded pearls on the headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and baby breath.

April Wilson, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and she wore a floor length lime green gown and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Stanley Britt, a friend of the groom's, was the best man.

Dave Lacey, brother of the bride, escorted the bride's mother while Tom Cutsforth, brother of the groom, escorted the groom's mother.

Rawlins-Lyon wed on Cornell campus

Martha Jane Lyon and John E. Rawlins were married in the Fairand Secret Garden beside the Big Red Barn on the Cornell University Campus at Ithaca, New York on Saturday, July 7. Rev. W. Jack Lewis, Cornell University Chaplain officiated.

Parents of the bride and groom are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lyon, Jr., Ithaca and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rawlins, Heppner. The bride's attendant was Susan Beatty and the best man was the groom's longtime friend Steve Pettyjohn.

The ceremony was written and arranged by Martha and John and was solemnized in a circle of close friends and relatives which included the groom's sister Carol R. Brewster of Corvallis and Nancy D. Pettyjohn.

The ceremony was followed by a buffet dinner in the Big Red Barn where Martha and John cut and served their wedding cake from a table decorated by John's mother with a centerpiece of wild flowers.

Martha was graduated from Ithaca High School in 1966 and Cornell in 1971. John is a member of the Heppner High Class of 1968 and Oregon State University's Class of 1972. They will both continue to work on the Cornell Campus. Martha is a laboratory technician supervisor in the Dept. of Neurobiology and Behavior. John is continuing with research for his Doctor of Philosophy degree and is teaching classes in the Dept. of Entomology.

They are now at home at 507 Spencer Road in Ithaca, N.Y.

Ione Cardinal Club welcomes teachers

By Kelly Pettyjohn

The Ione Cardinal Club held its first meeting of the school year at the Ione High School Cafeteria. The meeting was held to welcome back last year's teachers and the new ones this year. The meeting was also held to confirm the officers of the club.

Maryann McElligott was appointed by the Board of Directors to take the office as President, because Mrs. Zinter had to give up the position because of illness. Eunice McElligott volunteered to be vice-president and Marie Key is secretary from the last election.

Principal Chuck Starr introduced the teachers at the reception. The following teachers are new this year:

Duane Payne is Ione's new language arts teacher. He has a Bachelors degree from Brigham Young University and advanced degrees from Portland State College and Arizona State University. This is Payne's 17th year of teaching.

Carol Boerger is Ione's new home economics teacher. She is a graduate of the University of Idaho. She is married and lives in Heppner. This is the second year of teaching for Boerger.

Daniel Adams is the new juniorhigh social studies, science and seventh and eighth grade physical education teacher. He attended college at Portland State University. This is his first year of teaching after substitute teaching last year.

Gene Sartain is Ione's new music teacher. He has attended Loyola University, North-eastern Arizona University, Northern Arizona University, and Arizona State University. He is really bringing up the spirits of the school this year by having a marching band once again. This is Sartain's fourth year of teaching.

Nancy Welborn is the new second grade teacher. She attended Eastern Oregon State College and this is her first year of teaching.

Karen Beck isn't really new to the Ione students, but after eight years of not teaching fifth grade, she is back again.

The teachers that are coming back from last year are Marvin Peterson, Del LaRue, Gordon Meyers, Darrel Wilson, Beverly Wilson, Betty Carlson, Barbara Stefani, Betty Reitmann, Barbara Adams, Diana Kincaid, Venessa Thew, and Eva Skow. Darcene Meyers is also here this year as a teacher's aide.

The Cardinal Club has a planned budget of $605. The projects that they have to work for are a $200 scholarship for an Ione graduate, the candy for the Christmas program, the movie that the Ione students see at the end of the year, and the after graduation reception.

Adventist pastor delivers his farewell sermon

Saturday, Sept. 29, Pastor Bill Poole will give his farewell sermon at the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Heppner, celebrating the Communion Service at its close.

Pastor Poole, who has been here barely one year, has been asked to fill a vacancy in Ellensburg, Wa. Besides being pastor of two churches, he will join other ministers of the area in a chaplaincy program for the Central Washington University.

The leadership of the Upper Columbia Conference of Seventh-day Adventists (eastern Oregon, eastern Washington, and northern Idaho) expressed regret at asking him to move so soon after his coming to Heppner. However, for this particular ministry. He will be leaving early next week.

Poole stopped his packing long enough to say thoughtfully, "I would like to thank the many people in the community who have made my stay here an enjoyable one. I'm just sorry to be leaving so soon, because I would like to have gotten acquainted with more of them." Agreeing that with the new work will come a new challenge, he nevertheless will miss the people of this area. What would he like to leave with the people of this community? His answer, simply, "God be with you 'til we meet again."

they feel that his training and experience have given him the unique qualifications needed
