

Homecoming madness strikes Heppner

The Heppner band struts its stuff as the players show off their new uniforms. They seem to be marching to the tune of a different kind of bass drummer—he looks like a gorilla.

The senior tug-of-war team digs in but they easily defeated the freshman and junior challengers.

The junior-sophomore team defeated the senior-freshman team in the powderpuff game.

The cheerleaders in the homecoming parade were (l-r) Deann Connor, Geri Grieb, Bonnie Nix, Pam Marquardt and Sandra Ward.

Homecoming royalty—Janice Sherman, Jana Steagall and Jackie Gentry look forward to the announcement of who the queen will be. Gentry won the honors.

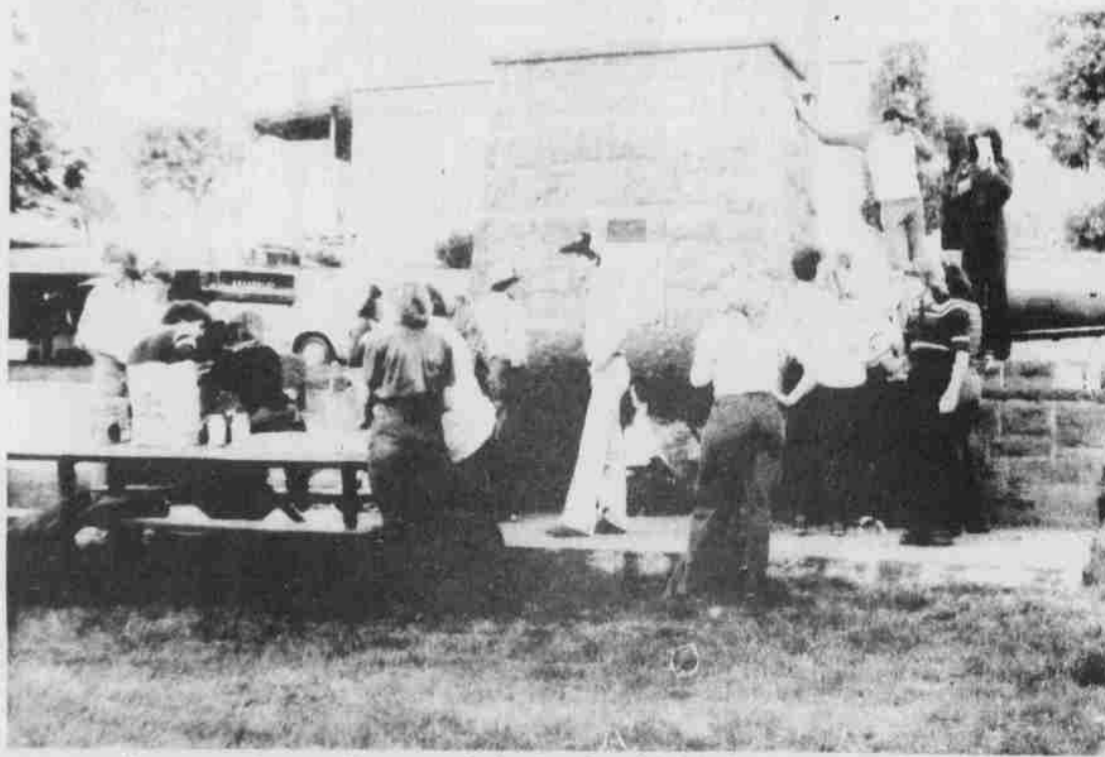

Janice Sherman, Heppner local cheerleader, voices her opinion on "Whose going to win this game tonight?"

The tug-of-war was a co-ed event.

John Breidenbach hunts through the trees on the senior "hunt looking for a victory."

Heppner students gather around the fireplace behind the courthouse for a welner roasting picnic.
