

Gregg and Chris Rietmann show off on a jazzy tune.

Ione band draws biggest crowd ever

The Ione band concert last week had its largest turnout in years with a full house consisting of several hundred persons in attendance, according to Loarraine Ladd, president of the band parents' organization.

The two-hour concert had 73 Ione students involved from fifth grade to 12th grade.

The Beginning Band played nine short tunes to open the show. It was the first time most of the 31 members had played in front of an audience.

"Some people said that band played as well as the high school band did last year," Ladd said.

The junior high band had 23 members in it and they, like the grade school band, wore outfits with red vests that the band mothers had made.

The high school band played next with its 19 members.

The music then became a little more jazzy as the intermediate junior high jazz group went on stage and played tunes like "Sue's Blues," "Jazz Chorale," and "Boogie Woogie Man."

The advance jazz band then played, consisting mostly of high school students except for Eric Pointer, a sixth grader who plays alto sax, and Sylvia Ladd, an eighth grader who plays tenor. That group played "Blowin' the Blues," "Exit with the Blues," and "Adobe."

A brass ensemble, consisting of Roger Childers, Michelle LaRue, Shawn LaRue and Gene Sartain, performed "Allegro for Brass."

There was also a drawing at the concert that raised about $450 for the band fund, which will help pay for band expenses and the planned trip to California. Raffle tickets were sold and six donated prizes, including a turkey, a gift certificate and a donut maker, were awarded.

Randy McCabe punches out a steady beat on the drum set.

Justice Court

Violations from the office of Charlotte Gray, justice of the peace, for the week ending Nov. 19 are:

William Omer Huston Jr., Star Rt. Box 4065 in Lexington—no operator's license—$25 fine.

Shelly Anelle Mann, Rt. 1 Box 3177 in Heppner—illegal lane usage—$16 fine.

Frank Dee Bures, P.O. Box 213 in Ione—vehicle license expired—not guilty.

Rodney Gaylin Prince, 620 N.W. 8th in Pendleton—no motorcycle endorsement—$7 fine.

Florentino Garcia Ramns,

Sandpiper Apt. No. 8 P.O. Box 105 in Boardman—open container of an alcoholic beverage—$24 fine.

Bonnie Lynn Arrington, 280 Matlock St. in Heppner—deceptive equipment—$7 fine.

Heppner rancher heads Cattlemen

Ray French of Heppner, member of a fourth generation ranching family, is the new president of the 3,200-member Oregon Cattlemen Association.

He was elected this last week in Portland at the 66th annual convention and succeeds Bill Ross, Jordan Valley. First Vice President is Sam Dement, cattle rancher from Myrtle Point and former state Senator.

Other officers elected for two year terms were second vice presidents Bob Beck, Cove; Wade Officer, Canyon City; and Les Marks, Hermiston.

Completing their second year are Merlin Hughes, Heppner; Bob Simmons, Madras; Neil Taylor, Lakeview; and Mike Owen, Eugene.

Association treasurer will be Mike Kortge, The Dalles. Donald Ostensoe, Portland, was retained as the executive vice president of the Association.

French said that he is optimistic concerning the beef cattle industry in Oregon and the nation at least for the next year to 18 months. However, he said he is most concerned about the necessity for expansion of the cattle herds due to the cost of borrowing operating capital which is now at the 15 percent level. French, who is 52, and his wife Norma, have three daughters.

The cattlemen passed 27 resolutions at the convention.

The cattlemen went on record in support of returning control of federal grazing, mining and timber lands to the states. This is known as the "Sagebrush Rebellion". The cattlemen said more than 60 percent of the land in Oregon and nearly 50 percent in the majority of western states, is controlled by the federal government. Federal legislation, excessive regulations and an overwhelming number of court decisions in favor of environmentalists have had a disastrous effect on the economy of all western states, particularly the livestock industry.

The cattlemen also passed a resolution to support the use of the controversial chemical

24-D.

The OCA resolved to press for a one week later opening of the mule deer season to reduce potential fire hazard and to press for a three-week bow hunting season to precede the gun season rather than a six-week season. The cattlemen feel the longer season puts undue pressures on landowners and hunting resources.

The OCA favors the idea of raising the branding fee from $25 to $50 because of the brand department's financial difficulties.

The cattlemen passed a resolution which stated the power supply from the present power arrangement is not adequate so resources must be pooled. Therefore, the OCA plans to support the proposed Pacific Northwest Electrical Power Planning and Conservation Act, which achieves cost effective conservation, encourages renewable energy resources and lowers costs.

The OCA members resolved to elect officials to public office who support the act.

Police Report

The following cases were handled by the Morrow County Sheriff's office for the week ending Nov. 26.

Two Lexington male juveniles were cited with possession of less than one ounce of marijuana. Both of the young men were 17.

Edward Jake LaCompte, Space No. 45 at the Riverview Trailer Court in Arlington, was arrested for menacing.

Darlene B. Colston, 700 Wilson Road in Boardman, was involved in a one car non-injury accident in Boardman.

A Morrow County Road Department vehicle got away from its driver and the dump truck rolled over the hill onto the golf course near Heppner.

Billie June Akers, Main St. in Ione, was involved in a one-car accident on Highway 74 near mile post 20. Her tire hit the shoulder of the road and she lost control and the car rolled over. She was not injured seriously.

Bill Theodore Krauser, of Concrete, Wash., was cited for possession of less than one ounce of marijuana.

Rod Prince, of Pendleton, reported that he left his 1976 motorcycle disabled on Highway 207, two miles south of the bombing range, and when he returned it was gone.

Jazz night at Blue Mountain

Jazz Night at Blue Mountain Community College Friday, Nov. 30, will feature three music groups performing numbers ranging from popular music to funky jazz.

The evening of musical entertainment will start at 7:30 p.m. in the Pioneer Hall Theatre on campus. Admission to the show is free.

Groups slated to appear include BMCC's Pop Vocal Ensemble, Jazz Lab Combo, Girls Trio and the newly formed Show Pop Ensemble.

Man arrested

An Irrigon man was arrested Nov. 18 for first degree rape and menacing.

Albert Ray Jr., 35, was taken into custody by Oregon State Police. He was accused of attacking and raping his ex-girlfriend.

Brookings 4-H'er to report on Finland

By John Nordheim, County Extension Agent
Finland, with its midnight sun, abundant berries and fish, and up to 66,000 lakes, will be the topic when Blanche Grover of Brookings reports on her experiences in that nation in Morrow County Dec. 3 to 5, according to John Nordheim, county extension agent.

Grover returned in mid-October from six months in the Scandinavian country as an International Four-H Youth Exchange representative. She is now busy sharing with Oregonians her experiences while living and working with Finnish families in 4-H clubs, schools, and other organizations.

In Morrow County, she will speak at the Heppner Chamber of Commerce at noon Dec. 3 and at the 4-H Leaders Meeting at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 4 in north Morrow and at several schools during her stay.

IFYE is a people-to-people program that started in 1948 as an effort to increase international understanding. The privately-financed program is coordinated by the National 4-H Council. This year, Oregon sent IFYE representatives to Finland and to Nepal.

Living with five weeks of 24-hour sunlight was one of the things Grover found most interesting about her host country. In order to understand the effect, she suggests that "you go outside some afternoon about 4:30 or 5 and tell yourself it's really 1 a.m."

"If you can convince yourself that it is really 1 a.m., you will know how I felt as time after time I saw the sun shining in the middle of the night as if it were only late afternoon."

She also discovered that, like Oregon, Finland has an abundance of berries. The ten-year 4-H member and Oregon State University graduate picked wild strawberries, blueberries, cultivated strawberries, currants and hilla berries which are used in fruit juices and alcoholic beverages.

In addition to sending IFYE representatives to other nations, each year Oregon families host four to six delegates from other nations in the two-way exchange program, Nordheim said.

Persons interested in serving as IFYE host families, or young people interested in becoming representatives, are particularly encouraged to attend one of the meetings where Grover will speak and show her slides. There are additional openings Dec. 3 if another group would like to see the program. The Morrow County Extension office number is 676-9642.

FOOD VALUES THAT give you so much more

USDA Choice

Pot Roasts

Arm Cut

$1⁵⁹ lb.

Blade Cut

$1²⁹ lb.

Graco Marashino Cherries

55¢ 10 oz.

Navel

Oranges

5 lbs/$1⁰⁰

Cello 2 lb.

Carrots 39¢ each

Lettuce

3 heads/$1⁰⁰

No. 2 20 lb.

Potatoes

$1¹⁵ each

MD

Bathroom Tissue

4 Pak 99¢

MJB

Coffee

$8⁹⁹ 3 lb

Gold Medal

Flour

$1⁹⁹ 10 lb.

Hunts

Tomato

Sauce

75¢ 29 oz.

Pennant

Mincemeat

$1¹⁹ 28 oz.

Pennant

Fruit Cake Mix

$1⁵⁹ 30 oz.

Prices effective Nov. 28th thru Dec. 1st

BPA's Proposed Electricity Allocation Policy

What issues do you want addressed in the Environmental Impact Statement?

We have proposed a policy to allocate limited supplies of Federal electricity. We plan to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) to identify the effect of this proposal on the natural and human environment. What are the important environmental issues?

Talk to us.....on December 3, 9:00 A.M.

BPA Auditorium
1002 NE Holladay St.
Portland, Oregon

Or write to us.....by December 17.

Environmental Coordinator—P
Bonneville Power Administration
P.O. Box 12999
Portland, Oregon 97212

Bonneville Power Administration

WE're listening!