

HEPPNER AREA CLASSES SCHEDULED

Blue Mt. College has something for (nearly) everyone

The Blue Mountain Community College winter term classes have been finalized, according to Nancy Brownfield, coordinator.

Rod Aho of the Columbia Basin Electric Co-Op will give a free weatherization seminar Jan. 10 and 17 from 7 to 9 p.m. at Heppner High School. In the first session, Aho will give tips on how to weatherize a home to save energy. At the second session, there will be a discussion on what the students found in their own homes that need to be fixed. The class will include tips on temporary and permanent insulation. The class is being sponsored as a public service by the college.

Andy Clark will teach a cross country skiing class at the high school from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Saturdays. It will be a two-credit class and will last four weeks. The class is limited to 12 people.

An Oriental cooking class will be taught by Mr. and Mrs. Haymen from Pendleton at the high school from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The class is limited to 10 students and is worth one college credit. A lab fee of $7 will be charged along with the college credit cost of $11 per credit. The class will take place Feb. 16 and 23.

A six-week course on Tailoring Women's Clothing will be taught by Ruth McCabe. The class will take 10 students and will be worth two college credits. It will meet Thursday nights from 7 to 10 at the high school.

Chris Adelman again will teach the Expectant Parents Class, an eight-week two-credit course. The class meets Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m. at Heppner Junior High.

Susan Schubothe will teach Typing at the high school Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 to 8:30 p.m. It is a two-credit class.

Ron Forrar will instruct a class on pottery at the high school Tuesday nights from 7 to 10. It is a three-credit course.

There will be a class on Income Tax Preparation worth two BMCC credits taught at the Lexington Administration Building Wednesday nights from 7 to 10. Frank Pearson will instruct the six-week course.

Larry Ourouke is the instructor for the Private Pilot Ground School which will meet beginning Jan. 10. The three-credit class will meet in Lexington Mondays and Thursdays from 7 to 10. It will also meet Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for four weeks. Bridge will be taught by Lois Hunt. It will be an eight week, two-credit class that will meet Mondays in Lexington from 7 to 9 p.m. That class is limited to 14 students.

Stan Prowant will give a science seminar on volcanoes and earthquakes Feb. 11, 18 and 25. It's a one-credit course and will be taught Mondays from 7 to 9 p.m. at the high school.

A three-credit Photography class will be taught by Gordon Munk at the high school from 7 to 10 Thursday nights. There will be a $15 lab fee plus the $33 charge for the three college credits. Only 10 students will be taken in that course.

Pam Ausman will be the instructor for the Calligraphy class that will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays at the high school. Twelve students will be allowed to take the two-credit course.

A women's physical fitness class will be taught by Jean Strange at the junior high. The two-credit class will be scheduled for Monday nights from 7 to 9 p.m. in Lexington.

Classes begin the week of Jan. 7 unless otherwise noted. Persons interested in registering for any of the classes may contact Nancy Brownfield at 676-5039. She said BMCC flyers should be in the mail this week.

Morrow jobless still at 4.1

The unemployment rate for Morrow County remained steady in October and September.

The rate was 4.1 percent with 280 people unemployed both months.

The civilian labor force for the number employed rose from 6,830 to 6,840 in the two months.

The civilian labor force is the total of all civilians, 16-years-old and older, who are employed or unemployed.

The lumber and wood industry lost the most employees in the county with 30 workers being laid off.

"It could be the start of tight money or it may just be seasonal but we will have to wait until next month to see," Roland Stewart, of the department of labor, said.

Stewart said construction has remained strong in the county, because of the work being done on the coal-fired plant.

How dolphins sleep

Dolphins seem to be able to sleep with one eye open, and with half the brain still awake, National Geographic says. They need only about as much sleep as a cow—perhaps two or three hours a day.

Before they left the land to return to the sea some 50 million years ago, dolphins may have been related to forerunners of today's cows, goats, and sheep. Like these animals, dolphins have several stomachs.
