

OBITUARIES

Joseph A. Peterson

Joseph A. Peterson, resident of Heppner since 1970, died Wednesday, Jan. 2, at Pioneer Memorial Hospital. He was 95.

A native of Ohio, where he was born April 7, 1884, and a resident of Michigan from his early teens, he and his wife, the former Lurena Stedman, whom he married in 1916, moved west to Oregon in 1923. They settled on 40 acres of mostly wooded land on the Tillamook Highway near Grande Ronde. They cleared the land, built a home, and settled down to farming. Later, he worked as a faller in the timber industry.

After the death of his wife in 1970, he moved to Heppner to live with daughter and son-in-law, Joyce and Lester Grasser.

The Petersons in 1924 joined the Seventh-day Adventist Church. As a younger man, he held various offices in the church leadership.

He leaves one daughter, Joyce Grasser; one son, Joe Peterson, Brookings, Ore.; six grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; seven sisters and one brother, and numerous nieces and nephews residing in Michigan.

Jeremy Maben

Funeral services have been conducted for Jeremy Maben, 8½-month old son of Jeffery and Kathie Maben, both of the Horseshoe Hereford Ranch, Inc. in Ruggs.

Jeremy died Christmas day in Portland after a life-long fight with cancer. He was born April 11, 1979, and died Dec. 25.

Surviving, besides the parents, are a sister, Tara, 3, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Maben of Heppner; Dixie Busler of Pendleton and Fred Verstoppen of Spokane.

Funeral services took place Dec. 29 at 2 p.m. at the Hope Lutheran Church in Heppner with the Rev. John Maas officiating. The Valby Church quartet sang and the organist was Judy Maas. Concluding services and interment were at the Heppner Masonic Cemetery.

Sweeney Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Jeremy Maben had been in the University of Oregon Health Sciences Center for 2½ months undergoing radiation treatment for a cancerous brain tumor.

Larry and Cindy Dudley, neighbors of the Mabens at the Horseshoe Ranch, started a Maben Fund two months ago to help pay the hospital expenses. The fund now has $1,500 and the goal is $35,000.

Paul J. Winters

Funeral services took place Jan. 8 for Paul J. (Windy) Winters of Hermiston at Sweeney Mortuary in Heppner.

Winters died last Saturday in Heppner at the age of 67.

He was born March 15, 1912 to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haider Winters. Winters was married to Ann Karas Jan. 11, 1938 in Papalon, Neb.

The Winters family moved to Oregon in 1943 and they have resided in the Hermiston area since 1968.

The Rev. S. Michael Sheridan, the Heppner Methodist minister, officiated at the funeral and Betty Marquardt played the organ.

Private cremation followed the funeral.

Survivors include his wife, Ann, of Hermiston; two daughters, Anna Marie Buck of Hermiston and Helen Olson of Heppner; three sons, Stormy Winters of Redmond, Paul Winters Jr. of Orenda, Calif. and Charles Winters of Hermiston; a step son, Robert Riddle of Heppner; a brother Charles Winters of Des Moines, Iowa; 18 grandchildren; four great grandchildren; and numerous nieces and nephews. A brother, Bert Winters died in 1966.

Mrs. O.M. Scott dies; final rites in Hermiston

Funeral services for Mrs. O. M. Scott, who born in Heppner almost 88 years ago, will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Burns Mortuary Chapel in Hermiston. Graveside services will follow in Heppner.

Mrs. Scott, who was born May 12, 1892, died Jan. 6 at the Delamarter Care Center in Pendleton.

'Take 5' aimed at cutting home heating costs

Oregonians can cut heating costs and save energy this winter when they "Take Five!"

"Take Five!" is the five easiest low-cost and no-cost energy-saving steps every householder can take to conserve electricity, natural gas or heating fuel—and money. The intensive public information and education campaign was developed by the Oregon Department of Energy (ODOE) to help Oregonians deal with a potentially serious electricity shortage as well as dramatically higher home heating costs this winter.

"Oregonians will be hearing a lot about 'Take Five!' in coming weeks through radio and television public service announcements and continued media coverage of the energy situation," Governor Vic Atiyeh said recently.

ODOE's conservation materials are available at Columbia Basin Electrical Cooperative in Heppner.

Rod Aho, of CBEC, said the materials are free and can help people save electricity and therefore money.

"Most of the items are free and they cost very little to do," Aho said. "As the cost of energy continues to rise, energy saving measures will become even more cost effective. Now is the time to start energy saving practices and we (at CBEC) will assist all our customers in doing that."

Aho said he gives CBEC customers free home energy inspections. Aho is giving a Weatherization Seminar on energy saving methods for Blue Mountain Community College at Heppner High School. The class begins Jan. 10.

"Take Five!" focuses on these simple and inexpensive ways to cut home heating costs:

Lower the thermostat. Caulk and weatherstrip. Fix that furnace.

Stop those cold drafts.

Turn down water heaters. Water heaters work too hard—and waste energy and money—if they're producing water that is hotter than necessary. Electrical switchplates and outlets on outside walls often let cold air enter the house.
