

While the rider stays glued to his back, this horse seems to be doing the jumping Mexican Hat Dance.

Competition was fierce in the calf roping event.

Dust flies as Trisha Mahoney and her horse zip through the barrel turns.

The Morrow County Royal Court of (left to right) princess Lottie Laughlin, Queen Lori Edwards and princess Nancy Miller opened the show with a royal entry.

Bridgett Greenup steers her horse in the barrels.

In the three pictures above, Frank Cassens smacked the calf, wrestles with it, and finally drops it to the ground after trying desperately for more than 60 seconds.

This rider is hanging on for his life as the horse he drew attempts to buck him off.
