Oregon gets almost $88 million

State of Oregon will receive an estimated $87,835,386 from National Forest Service receipts, more than any other state in the country, according to a U.S. Dept. of Agriculture release.

An estimated $223 million will be shared by 43 states and Puerto Rico as a result of 1980 national forest and national grassland receipts.

Interim payments of the state shares of the national forest receipt will be made during October 1980, with the balance paid during December when final figures on the

Jobless to find checks reduced

About 7,260 jobless workers may find their unemployment checks cut off or reduced next week because of Congress' battle over its new federal budget.

Ray Thorne, Administrator of the Oregon Employment Division, has reported that a special jobless benefit fund for ex-servicemen, former federal CETA public service workers, and Trade Act recipients, will run out of money June 6.

Checks can be resumed only after Congress approves a Carter administration request for an additional $1.1 billion to keep the fund solvent through Sept. 30.

Regular state unemployment insurance benefits are not affected by the problem. Those who are affected should continue to report to the Employment Division on their regular report dates so that benefits may be paid when funds are available. Thorne advised.

revenues collected during fiscal year 1980 are available.

State shares of the national grassland and use area receipts, based on revenues collected during calendar year 1980, will be paid during March 1981.

"These advance estimates of payments to the states are being made now so local budgets may be planned."

Census Bureau in Bend ask, 'Were You Counted?'

The 1980 Census is drawing to a close in this area and a final appeal is being made to make sure that everyone is counted. Individuals who feel that they or anyone else in their family have been missed should telephone the census office at 1-389-0170, placing their calls collect.

David Rasmussen, census district manager in Bend, says the "Were You Counted?" campaign is one of the final phases of the 1980 Census.

"Callers who feel they have been missed will have their address checked against a master address list. In this way we can add anyone who is not on the list yet make sure no one is counted twice. It's simply another way of insuring that everyone is counted," Rasmussen said.

The district manager also said that the census office is now checking to make sure a questionnaire for every household has been completed.

Local residents hired as census takers have been in the field collecting questionnaires for several weeks. They have also had to contact households that returned incomplete forms.

As soon as all of the questionnaires have been gathered, the census office will total the population and housing counts and turn them over to local officials for review. Only statistical totals will be turned over—the individual census forms remain confidential. The purpose of the Local Review Program is to give local government officials a chance to spot errors in the counts while the census offices are open and census takers are able to check the problems. This effort is expected to contribute greatly to the accuracy and success of the 1980 Census.

NOTICE TO WATER USERS

Limited watering hours for yards and gardens will begin on June 1, 1980 and will be in effect until further notice. All watering should be done between 6:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon and 6:00 p.m. and 12:00 midnight. This method was used last year and was very successful for keeping a safe amount of water in our reservoirs in case of fire. We appreciate your cooperation. We would like to take this opportunity to thank voters for passing our water bond election. Hopefully, in the near future, this will end our need for watering regulations.
