

Fashion show scheduled

The latest fashions and styles for girls will be paraded for public enjoyment Monday evening, August 18, 8 p.m. at the Fairgrounds, Heppner.

Every garment modeled will be a special handmade creation made with care by a 4-H girl, fourth through 12th grade. Don't just look at the garment, look at the girl, too.

TALK 'N TOPS

Local businesses mirror the excitement of the 1980 Morrow County Fair and Rodeo with signs painted especially for the event by "Big" Tom Simonton, Pendleton. "Big" Tom has been painting the windows for 33 years.

Grain exhibits make beautiful, popular corner at County fair

Just prior to fair, you will find Open Class Grain and Hay Superintendent Bill Rawlins setting up the grain and hay exhibit.

Rawlins builds the display, which is made up of many boxes large enough to hold each individual's bulk grain entry. A shelf above the boxes holds the grain sheaves.

Bulk grain entries must be 1 peck, allowing a little more in case of spillage. Sheaves must be 4 inches in diameter, cut close to the ground and tied with 3 strings. Rawlins said smaller sheaves are acceptable at the Morrow County Fair. Grain entries are judged according to Federal Grain standards.

Rawlins sends samples of the grain entries to the State Fair each year, with Morrow County entries always doing well in the statewide competition.

Rawlins is looking forward to more entries this year because of the bumper wheat crops.

So all farmers and ranchers, enter your grain and hay in the 1980 Morrow County Fair.

4-H outreach opportunities

Four Morrow County 4-H Horse Club members journeyed to the Umatilla County Fair Wednesday to serve as a team for other horse club members to judge. Dawn Timms, Brenda Mathis, Annette Wilgers, and Cindy Stroeber trucked their horses over for members from the other counties to judge for conformation, as well as saddling up to make a class on equitation.

Another example of 4-H outreach opportunities...we thank the four members and their parents and leaders for the cooperation in this out-of-county 4-H event!
