

Wedding Announcements and Engagements

Reception at Lott's to honor newlyweds

Randy and Bernice Lott will host a reception at their home, 464 West Morgan Street, Heppner, in honor of their daughter, Patti, and her husband, Peter Mohn, on Saturday, Aug. 23, from 5 until 8 p.m. with an open house and patio buffet supper.

All friends and relatives of the family are invited, especially old school friends and teachers.

The couple was married on Aug. 16, in a joint Episcopal and Catholic ceremony at St. Hilda's Church in Monmouth, Ore., where both are students at Oregon College of Education.

Cleveland—McElligott

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McElligott, of Ione, are happy to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Mary Margaret, to Minot Cleveland, M.D., son of Mrs. Sid Cleveland of Anderson, Indiana.

The wedding will take place Sept. 13, 1980, at 5 p.m. at Holy Cross Catholic Church in Portland. A reception will follow at the Eastmoreland Raquet Club.

Paulus-Marick

Laura Alta Marick and Monty Paulus, both of La Grande, were married in an outdoor ceremony on Saturday, August 16, 1980, at Cove Park in Cove, Ore., with the Reverend Morgan officiating.

A reception and swimming party followed the ceremony at the park.

Laura is the daughter of Flossie and Al Marick of Ione. Monty is the son of Norman Paulus, Heppner, and Clara Dungan, Boise, Idaho.

The couple will make their home at 2301 N. Fir in La Grande.

Paul Brown family completes harvest

By Justine Weatherford

At the Paul Brown Ranch, north of Heppner, it is traditional for the entire family to gather to get in the harvest each year. This year older son, Captain Chris Brown, of Ewa Beach, Hawaii, could not be here as he has usually been.

The Brown's younger son, Mark, however, came from his home on Bainbridge Island, Wash. to help harvest the family wheat. In addition to harvesting wheat, Mark gave two days of hot, hard work at patching county roads. He went out with his father and neighbors to work diligently on this volunteer project that is saving the county so much in funds and is keeping the roads usable. After the Brown's harvest was completed, Mark returned north to his regular employment as a Washington State trooper.

Heppner

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Parrett of Newberg, Ore., were visitors in Heppner on Friday, Aug. 15.

Mrs. (Edith) Parrett's parents were Lillian Andrews Putnam and Lewis Putnam, both formerly of Heppner and recently deceased.

Mrs. Parrett's mother came to Heppner in 1884. She married Mr. Putnam who worked in a drugstore in Heppner. They moved away in 1907.

Mrs. Parrett's grandfather, Arthur Andrews, was a sheriff of Morrow County and a rancher on Buttercreek. A picture of Sheriff Andrews is still at the courthouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Parrett were able to tour Heppner and surrounding areas and learned a great deal about their family at the museum, courtesy of the curator, Rachel Harnett.

Irrigon news

• Francis Rose Wilson • 922-3352

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gordonier just happened to be at a forest lookout mountain locator at the right time to see the last volcanic action of Mt. St. Helens.

The family was returning home from a vacation trip to Eugene and Newport on the coast.

There was plenty of food, fun and fellowship at the Floyd Smith home on Aug. 8, 9, and 10, when about 35 members of Mrs. Smith's family gathered for a family reunion. The Smith's daughter and son-in-law Loyd and Lola Humphrey, and sons were here from Lexington. Other members of the Breeding family came from Montana, Spray, Portland, Salem and Nehalem.

The swans, ducks and geese have been seen coming in to the game reserve on Patterson Road about a month earlier this year. The question was raised "does this mean we will have an early winter?"

Visitors of Mary Stephens were her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Parke, and family of Portland. She attended a family dinner with them at the home of Mrs. Parke of Umatilla, his mother. Parke was here to attend the 25 year class reunion at Umatilla.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wilson and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson and three sons of Boise, spent Thursday at Penland Lake and surrounding area. They had a picnic; the boys fished; and the fellows worked up a load of poles to bring home.

An installation service was held Sunday, Aug. 10, at 3 p.m. with the Rev. George Richardson being installed as the pastor of the Irrigon Baptist Church. Oregon State Minister Glen Camper was in charge of the service with six ministers from the surrounding area being present, coming from Pendleton, Athena, Helix, Milton-Freewater, Hermiston and Irrigon.

George and Sharon Richardson have three children, Lenny, 6, Jason, 4, and David, 2. They come from Newport, Wash., where they pastored the First Baptist Church for nearly four years.

Pastor Richardson has studied family counseling. He is a ventriloquist, using a dummy to entertain children. Before coming here he was director of juniors at the Youth Camp at Ross Point Baptist Camp, Post Falls, Idaho, on Lake Coeur de Alene.

EOHSA cancer therapy project reueiv

The Eastern Oregon Health Systems Agency, (EOHSA) has issued a notice announcing a project review and public meeting concerning building of a proposed cancer therapy facility at the St. Charles Medical Center, 2500 N.E. Neff Road in Bend.

On Sept. 19, officials of St. Charles Medical Center will present their project to the EOHSA Board of Directors at the Kopper Kitchen restaurant in Baker at 1 p.m.

Oddfellow Grand Master to visit

Oregon Grand Master Reece O. Dickman will pay Willow Oddfellow Lodge No. 66 an official visit Wednesday, Sept. 3.

This is a joint meeting between the Heppner and Lexington lodges and will begin at 8 p.m.

Both Rebekah lodges are asked to attend the meeting.

Former Morrow Co. Extension chairman announces retirement

Gene Winters, Agricultural Extension agent and chairman of the Douglas County office of the Oregon State University Extension Service will retire this week after 26 years with OSU.

Winters began his career with Extension in Umatilla County in 1954. During the next eleven years he served as Extension agent in Wheeler, Clatsop and Jackson counties. In 1965 he was named chairman agent in Morrow County.

In 1966 he accepted a two-year assignment to head up the Oregon State University Wheat Improvement Project in Jordan, sponsored by the U.S. Agency for International Development.

Following this he was assigned to community and resource development programs with OSU Extension Service, Corvallis.

In 1971 he was appointed Extension agent in Jackson County with responsibilities in field crops, water and soils in the Jackson-Josephine County area. While in Jackson County he accepted a short-period consultant position with United Nations to evaluate agriculture programs in Yemen.

From 1973 to 1975 Winters was chief of party with the OSU team working on wheat production problems in Jordan.

Since returning he has been on the Extension staff in Douglas County with field crop, water resources and resource development responsibilities. He was appointed chairman in 1978.

Winters, a native of Union County, Oregon, obtained his bachelor's degree at OSU and his master's degree at the University of California at Davis. He served in the U.S. Army Infantry from 1940-1945.

Winters and his wife, Leona, have two children who are attending OSU.

Roger Fletcher, Extension agent in Polk County, has been named to replace Winters as staff chairman when he assumes the Douglas County position as 4H Extension agent August 1980.

Heppner grad accepted into vet. school

Mark Sargent of Heppner, who has just completed his junior year at Oregon State University in pre-vet medicine, has been accepted into the WOI (Washington-Oregon-Idaho) School of Veterinary Medicine.

This fall Mark will take his first year of professional study at O.S.U. Part of his second and third year will be spent at Washington State University and the University of Idaho. He will then transfer back to O.S.U. to complete part of the third year and the fourth year of study.

Mark is a 1977 graduate of Heppner High School. He is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity. In his sophomore year he received a $500 scholarship from the College of Science at O.S.U.

Also in his sophomore year Mark was elected by the student body of O.S.U. to serve as a student body officer for the 1979-80 school year. He served as a science senator. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society. Mark is the son of Dick and Lynnea Sargent of Heppner.
