LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thanks for help

I would like to thank personally all these people for helping us during the Fair: The Kinzua Corporation for their donation of chips - it helped things look so much nicer, the U. S. Forest Service, all exhibitors, to our regular faithful superintendents, who put in so many hours of their time; Pete Richards, Harold Peck and Steve Estberg, who also put in a lot of hours to make this Fair possible for Morrow County. Also, thanks to Delpha Jones, Steve Pec k, VoJean Forquet, Diana Hams and Family, and DeAnne McCabe and Family. These are just a few of the many special people out there, who quietly participated in our Fair.

Thanks,
Dorothy Estberg
Morrow Co. Fair Secretary

Art Society states first fall meeting

By Justine Weatherford

The first fall meeting of the Morrow County Art Society will begin with a no-host dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the banquet room of the Wagon Wheel, Thursday evening, Sept. 11. Arrangements have been made to have Douglas H. Davis, executive director of the Eastern Oregon Regional Arts Council, come from La Grande to talk to the group about his work in "the other half of Oregon."

Officers of the Morrow County Art society are: President, Shirley McNary; Vice-President, Terry Cutsforth and treasurer, Pauline Matheny.

The Eastern Oregon Regional Arts Council is concerned with all phases of art-graphic arts, painting, crafts, and all performing arts. Everyone interested in any type of artistic expression is invited to come to the Sept. 11 dinner and meeting and to become acquainted with Doug Davis. His headquarters are in the Hoke Center at Eastern Oregon State College. Last year he helped to bring an art instructor to the lone schools for 10 weeks. The instructor also gave lessons during one evening each week without charge.

During the past summer some of the activities that the regional arts council has helped sponsor, coordinate or publicize have included an educational day camp which offered young people a variety of activities, various art and craft exhibits, community celebrations and workshops, county fairs, library and museum exhibits and summer theater offerings at the regional colleges. A 24-page newspaper listing all artistic happenings in Eastern Oregon is sent out to members of the regional council.

Anyone who would like to attend the first meeting of the Morrow art society should call one of the officers or tell a member of the group as soon as possible.

Governor invites

I am pleased to invite all Oregonians to take part in two separate, but related, efforts within my new Listening Post Program.

The first part involves volunteer county representatives I have already appointed making personal visits to the meetings of any organization that extends them an invitation. These representatives will pass ideas, comments, and information from citizens at these meetings directly to me.

I also extend my personal invitation to all civic, service, fraternal, labor, church and other organized groups to join the second phase by appointing a Listening Post Representative for your group.

Three times a year, a ballot will be sent directly from me to your Listening Post Representative. This ballot will ask for a vote of your membership on an issue of critical importance to state government. The ballot will also ask for an evaluation of one state agency.

As governor, I need to know how Oregonians feel about critical issues. As the head of state government I need to know how agencies that deliver services are functioning. Send the name of your Listening Post Representative to Don and Martha Peterson, Box 294, Lone 97843. Your group will be immediately signed up for the program. Portland's KATU-TV (Channel 2) "Town Hall" program and newspapers across the state will highlight the issues before voting occurs.

The first survey will be sent to participating groups in September. By signing up now, your organization can assure their members the chance to have their opinions count through the program.

I am looking forward to hearing what you have to say when your Listening Post volunteer county representative visits your group and when you return your ballots.
