Fifty Years Ago

Hunting conditions are bettered with rain; fire menace is lessened. A record buck was slain by Russell Moore who brought in his 254-pound horned deer to the Peoples Hardware. This buck exceeded by one pound the largest deer of record that was killed by Elmer Hinton three years ago.

Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers, president of the Heppner Library Association, reported to the Lions Club that the library has loaned 771 books in the last three months. She asked that a tax measure be proposed to finance the library. Presently the library is kept open through donated services of interested women and girls on Tuesday and Saturday afternoons from 3 to 5 p.m. and on Thursday evenings from 7 to 9.

A special train arrived last night and is being loaded at the local stockyards today with 3,600 head of ewes and wethers, delivered here by local flockmasters. These sheep were all handled through the feed pens at the F.S. Parker Ranch.

Tom Boylen, prominent sheepman of Pendleton and Butter Creek, was receiving the wethers, and Messrs. Brown and Huff of Idaho were taking the ewes to be placed on their range in Idaho.

Ione hunters were bringing in their fall kills: Mayor Maston returned with two bears; Joe Bigson and party brought home four deer; R. W. Brown and Roy Liewallen each brought in a deer.

The MacMarr Store in the Heppner Hotel Building advertises sugar at $5.39 for a 100 lb bag; picnic hams at 25 cents per lb.; raisins, 4 lbs. for 25 cents; toilet soap, 12 bars for 58 cents; Thomson Bros. offers Hoody's peanut butter - a 1 lb. tin for 20 cents; Velvet toilet paper at 4 rolls for 25 cents; Jello, 3 packages for 25 cents.

Twenty-five Years Ago

Lexington High students recently held class elections to name officers for the coming year. Chosen to head the senior class were James Laney, president; Don Casteel, vice-president, and Cherry Gray, secretary-treasurer. Junior class officers are: Vern Nolan, president; George Hermann, vice-president, and Maureen Groves, secretary-treasurer. Dexter Miles was named president of the sophomores with Hugo Leyva, vice-president, and Joan Patrick, secretary-treasurer. New freshman officers are Keith Peck, president; Lee Cornelison, vice-president, and Dora Sue Davidson, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Wallace Wolf has announced that he will reopen his office at the corner of Main and Church streets, on Monday, September 26.

Savings bond sales climb to near state record. E and H savings bond sales in Oregon were the highest last month for any August since 1945. Jeff Carter, chairman of Morrow County bond committee, said sales here in August amounted to $52,651. In 1954 they were $6,665 for the same month.

Mrs. Etta Huston won the sweepstakes at the Ione Flower show held Sunday, Sept. 27. Her entries were awarded 12 blue ribbons.

This week the Star Theater is showing "Smoke Signal," starring Dana Andrews and Piper Laurie. "Meet the Keystone Kops," featuring Abbott and Costello, "The Blackboard Jungle" with Glenn Ford and Anne Francis and "The Purple Plain" starring Gregory Peck.

Five Years Ago

Five new teachers have come to Heppner: Ellen Nussbaum, Charles Lutsch, Clayton Herzog, Michael Gorman and Jerry Duford.

The Blue Mountain Community College Board of Education has authorized surfacing of the college track and construction of three more tennis courts on the campus.

The House Interior Committee gave overwhelming approval to Congressman Al Ullman's legislation establishing a 660,000 acre national recreation area in Hells Canyon in the Middle Snake area.

A critical area treatment project in the form of diversion ditches and debris basins will soon get underway in the Heppner watershed area, according to Claude Buschke, president of the Heppner Water Control District.

The Morrow County School Board approved a request from the Boardman-Irrigon Advisory Committee to add additional outside lighting at Riverside High. Board member Kenneth Broadbent and Principal Dan Dalto told the board several complaints had been received about the dark parking lots there.

The Oregon Wheat Growers League fall workshop will be held in Pendleton, Oct. 1 and 2 in the Indian Hills Motor Inn.

By the end of August, 45,428 Oregon drivers had had their licenses suspended during 1975, compared with 43,428 license suspensions for the same period of 1974.

Letters to the editor

For Kulongoski -PUDs

One reason why Morrow County voters should elect Ted Kulongoski United States senator this year is because he favors establishment of people's utility districts. PUD's feature several advantages over electric service from a private power company.

When going into business, a PUD issues revenue bonds to purchase facilities of the incumbent power company. Then part of your electric bill every month goes for retiring these bonds. This amount is becoming equity in property that will eventually belong entirely to you. Retaining the power company means you'll never end up owning any part of anything.

All profits are kept at home and used for system improvements, such as underground wiring. None end up getting paid to eastern stockholders. Money for purchase of equipment may be borrowed at lower interest rates. Area residents have more voice in deciding where to place substations, vehicle service garages and material storage yards.

Since PUD's are consumer-owned, they qualify as preference customers for power from the United States Columbia River System. Outputs of 30 dams are now fed into the USCRS grid for distribution. Hopefully, number 31 will be small generator at Willow Creek Dam.

TV courses earn credit

Courses in French, German, and Spanish and science will be offered on Oregon Education Public Broadcast Service (OEPBS) TV channels beginning the week of Sept. 29. College credit may be earned through eastern Oregon State college by viewing the programs at home completing study assignments under the supervision of a member of the college faculty.

Broadcasts will be at 8 p.m. on Saturdays with repeats the next day, Sunday, at 12-noon. It carries one hour of college credit, will cost $16 and will have associate Professor of Science Kendall Baxter as an advisor.

Persons interested in taking the courses may register or get more information by contacting the EOCS Office of Continuing Education at 963-2171 or toll-free, at 1-800-452-8639.

Get a gauge

An inexpensive device that can help save gas is a simple vacuum gauge. Available in most auto stores for about $10, these instruments are easy to connect and mount on or near the instrument panel to tell the driver when he is too "heavy footed." Calibrations may be numerical, reading in inches of mercury and/or in "poor, fair and good" scales to help the driver establish the optimum balance between speed and fuel economy.
