

First graders see real life "Emergency"

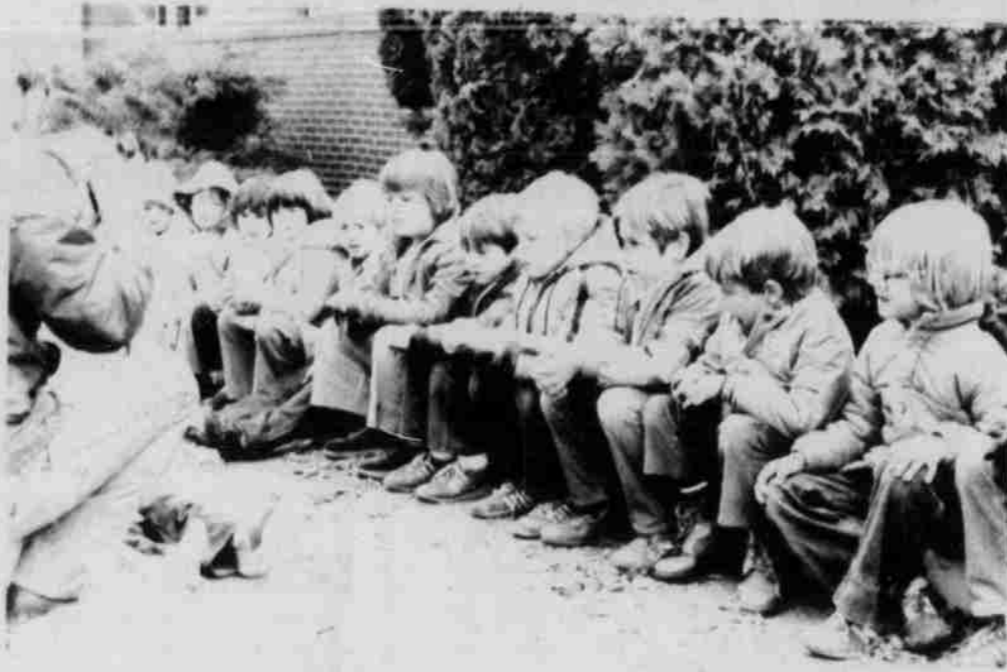

Pioneer Memorial ambulance drivers John Maas (left) and John Edmondson enthrall first graders from Judy Maas and Pat Edmondson's classes at Heppner Elementary with a real-life demonstration right out of "Emergency." (Ironically two ambulance drivers are married to two first grade teachers.)

"This is a follow-up activity," said teacher Pat Edmondson. They watched the same thing on the television program "Ripples." If they should ever have an accident, they won't be terrified."

Demonstration of the ambulance facilities was two-fold, said John Maas. Besides acquainting the children with emergency procedures, Maas and Edmondson were attempting to dramatize the need for ambulance drivers.

"We need drivers," said Maas. "We used to have a pretty good crew, but it has dwindled down." Maas added that volunteers would be on standby call from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. only, and stresses that an Emergency Medical Technician would accompany the driver at all times.

The "patient" is six-year-old Nicole Duncan.

AAUW invites public to Energy Fair

Nov. 13

The Heppner-Ione branch of the American Association of University Women invites the public to an Energy Fair: Thursday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Multi-purpose room of Heppner Elementary School.

This program is intended to expose the public to ideas and ways to harness and use potentially available energy sources. Emphasis will be placed on how such sources can be used by individuals.

Participants and their topics are David Burns, East Oregon Solar Group, solar energy; Rod Aho, Bonneville Power Administration, wind power; Gene Rietmann, Ione, windmills in Morrow County; Harry Kennison, Kinzua

Corp., wood waste generating plant; Corrine Lindsay, Lexington, gasohol and other alcohol fuels; John Nordheim, Morrow county Extension Service, water power; and Paul Sumner, Columbia Basin Electric Co-op., conservation.

Each participant will speak for ten minutes after which will be a refreshment period during which the public will be invited to write down questions for the individual speakers to answer. Following the refreshment period the questions will be addressed to the participants.

"This is an excellent opportunity to get an idea of the various sources of energy and their potentials for this region," said an AAUW spokeswoman.

DON'T WAIT FOR A NOW ACCOUNT.

Earn interest and write checks today with a Bonus II Account.

"Bonus II gives me more income."

Bonus II, only from First National, can make your money grow by giving you the interest-earning power of a savings account and the convenience of a checking account.

Here's how it works: When you make a deposit in your Bonus II Checking Account, we automatically transfer it directly into your Bonus II Savings Account. There it earns 5 1/4 percent annual interest, paid and compounded quarterly.

"Bonus II keeps my money working."

Write a check, and we automatically deposit money back into your checking account. But only the amount needed to cover your checks.

That lets your hard-earned cash earn more for you by staying in the savings account until the precise moment it's needed in checking.

If you already have a First National checking account, we'll gladly convert it to a Bonus II Account. Or, we can open a new Bonus II Account for you.

Either way, there is no service charge—provided you maintain a minimum balance of $2,000.

"Bonus II pays me extra interest."

If you do dip below the minimum, you pay only $6 per month.

Make sure your money works as hard for you as you do for it. Get a Bonus II Account.

And discover why more and more people are saying, "First National. That's my bank."

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF OREGON
A WESTERN BANCORPORATION BANK

Kay Robinson, Heppner, prepares to exercise her right to vote at the Tuesday election

Sifting through the TIMES

With Justine Weatherford

Fifty Years Ago

Meier holds large lead for governor... election of McNary, Bitler, Kiddle, Scott and Hawley is assured. Only the Heppner precinct favored Phil Metschan for governor.

Legion completes Armistice Day plans. A 10:30 a.m. program is scheduled at the Star Theater and two afternoon football games will be followed by a banquet for the ex-service men and a big dance. The afternoon games will pit Heppner grade school and high school teams against two equal teams from Hermiton's schools.

Lexington's town football team resorted to a blocked punt as the method of defeating the invading American Legion team from The Dalles, 7-0 on the Lexington field Sunday afternoon.

A crew will be maintained for clearing of right-of-way on the Heppner-Spray road all winter, according to G. A. Bleakman, county commissioner, who says he has definite word to this effect from the district superintendent in charge of forest road work.

Nearly 200 people, the largest crowd known to attend a program there, attended the Halloween party at the Eight Mile School last Saturday night.

Twenty-five Years Ago
The Hope Lutheran Church has purchased a house and considerable property which is intended for the erection of a new church, it was announced this week. The property is located on Alfalfa Street in the southeast part of Heppner and formerly belonged to Harold Sanders, Sr.

Hope Lutheran was organized on May 8 of this year. Rev. Merlin Zier is pastor. The church has 35 charter members and since its organization has accepted seven additional members.

freshmen at Oregon State College, have been selected for membership in the Order of Silver Wings, an Air Force drill honor society at OSC.

The new memorial organ at the Ione Community Church will be dedicated during a special service, Sunday, Nov. 6. The organ has been made possible by memorial gifts and a special gift by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Melena.

Orville Smith, a former owner of the Heppner Lumber Company, has purchased the Stetson-Ross Machine Company in Seattle, a pioneer industrial firm.

Norman Nelson will show slides of his trip through Norway and Sweden at the Lexington PTA meeting Tuesday, Nov. 8 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Five Years Ago
"Wheat is important politically and the federal government is using wheat prices to influence political decisions," said Dr. Norman Goetze, extension agronomist for Oregon State University, speaking before the 45th annual meeting of the Morrow County Grain Growers.

Farley Motors' low bid of $3,657 for a new police car plus the trade-in of the present vehicle was accepted by the Heppner council.

The council also accepted the request by Columbia Basin Electric, Milo Prindle and Howard Cleveland to vacate a certain portion of Campbell St. Access to an existing fire hydrant will be granted to the city to maintain its fire protection policy.

"There is a need for foster and shelter homes in Morrow County," said Bill Sheirbon, service worker for the State of Oregon's Children's Services Division, at the Chamber of Commerce, Monday. "At present some of the youngsters in the county are being sent to other counties to be cared for because of the lack of homes."

Umatilla Ready-Mix is Still in Business in Heppner

Cement deliveries scheduled twice weekly to South Morrow County. Regularly on Wednesdays and Fridays for dispatch call collect 567-6173