Christmas comes early for Heppner newlyweds

Judge administers vows to Barbara (Teeman) and Frank Johnson

For Barbara Teeman and Frank Johnson Christmas came a little early last week.

The two, who both work at the Pioneer Memorial Hospital in Heppner, were married on Christmas Eve in the hospital's solarium.

A normal three-day waiting period was waived by the judge so the two were able to be married before the Christmas holidays.

As nurses and staff looked on, Morrow County Judge Don McElligott joined the two in marriage in the solarium which opens on to a panoramic view of Heppner.

Hospital Administrator A.K. "Lucky" Felt witnessed the marriage, then popped the cork on a bottle of champagne to toast the newly-married couple.

Frank is the director of nurses and an anesthetist at the hospital and Barbara is an office clerk.

Sports widows...opera widowers? EOSC has the class

For the wife who doesn't see much in sports and the husband who doesn't see much in drama or music—or vice versa—there could be a coming together in a new winter quarter night class called "Understanding Group Performances" at Eastern Oregon State College.

The two-credit class, which will meet on Monday evenings beginning Jan. 5, from 7 to 9 p.m. in Classroom Building Room 206, will explore the differences and similarities between men's and women's basketball, a musical production and a choral concert. Course organizer, George

Venn, EOSC writer-in-residence, called the class "an experience in elemental humanistic inquiry." "Areas of performances tend to be mutually exclusive," said Venn. "If you're on the team then you usually don't sing in the choir." He said, culturally we separate those performances but they really have many things in common and a person who enjoys one kind of performance will often find he or she enjoys another which only "seems" very different.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Multnomah:
JOHN BRANDO LEWTHWAITE, JR., and JOHN R. SABIN, Successor Trustee for the Lewthwaite Trust, Plaintiff, vs. CURTIS FERGUSON, Personal Representative of the Estate of Mary Spalding

Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Marquardt had all of their family at their home for Christmas. Those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Clay Grace, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bloodworth, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith and Mrs. Marquardt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T.E. Messenger, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill B. Marquardt enjoyed their Christmas on Saturday so that members of their family could be together. Those home for the holidays were Charma and Norita and Phillip from Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Marquardt and children from Connell, Wash. and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T.E. Messenger as guests. A daughter, Penny is spending the holidays sight seeing and enjoying Disney Land, and a son, Bruce, and family were unable to attend. They make their home in Los Angeles.

Friends and relatives in Lexington were grieved to hear of a former resident's death at the Heart of the Valley Nursing Home in Corvallis. Mrs. Cora Warner lived most of her life in Lexington and was a 63-year member of the Rebekah Lodge and a member of the Lexington Christian Church. Services will be held Friday at 1 p.m. at the Lexington Cemetery with the Rev. Nash in charge.
