The Three Links Club met at the home of Ruth Robinson on Thursday for their meeting with chairman Dorothy Burham. A discussion on the needed repairs and improvement of the lodge hall was the main topic of conversation.

Plans were further discussed concerning the Feb. card party. The date will be announced later. Other business was discussed. Joyce Buchanan received the door prize.

Refreshments were served to Debbie Sharp, Marion Robinson, Maureen Howard, Leila Palmer, Joyce Buchanan, Eula Bloodworth, Irene Padberg, Dorothy Burham and the hostess Ruth

Robinson. The next lodge meeting will be held at the home of Irene Padberg on Thursday 22. Mr. and Mrs. T.E. Messenger have returned home from some time spent in Portland where Mrs. Messenger was a patient in St. Vincent's Hospital. Enroute home after visiting at the home of her son, she had the misfortune to fall, spraining an arm she will have to have in a sling for a few weeks.

Lexington Grange met on Monday night for their regular meeting with the newly-installed master in the chair. Mr. and Mrs. Berl Akers of Willows Grange were present and instructed members in some of the floor work. A report was heard on the various women's activities, including the saving of hearing aid batteries and watch batteries. The batteries are reprocessed with proceeds going to state projects for the hearing-impaired. This quarterly report dealt with the project for the deaf recently opened in Umatilla County in Hermiston. In previous years there have been scholarships presented to deaf young people to help further their education. The saving of eye glasses is also a fine project these are reground and given to the needy in sections of the world. This project is under the direction of a doctor in Corvallis, who presented the last ones to the people of Venezuela.

It was voted that the Lexington Grange will be in charge of the Morrow County Queen's Coronation, either in March or April. This will be held at the Lexington Grange hall. The agriculture committee reported on several meetings that are to be held soon and that farmers and interested groups should be attending: The soil erosion meeting Jan. 29 at the Lexington Grange hall. At this time Dorris Graves will show her pictures taken recently in China, which has much information on soil erosion and crop farming: a animal health seminar Jan. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the Heppner Elementary School: and the annual wheat seminar, Wednesday Jan. 28 at the Willows Grange Hall starting at 10:00 a.m. with lunch served at noon by the grange ladies. Following the Grange meeting two readings were given by Marie Steagall and the other by Rena Marquardt. A game of knowing the state, federal and state officers was enjoyed. Doug Marquardt then gave a piano concert of three lovely musical selections. He gave the group a history of each number and why they are important to him.

Birthday cake was served later in the evening for those with birthdays in Jan. At 6:30 p.m. the men of the grange proved their cooking abilities with a most delicious pancake supper. The supper was planned, cooked and served by the men of the grange, under the committee of Lyle Peck and Alfred Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Jones visited John Spence and Florence McMillan at the Good Samaritan Center in Hermiston on Friday. Mr. Spence, who has for several months been in the retirement home, has been moved to the nursing home area.

The date of January 24 for Pomona Grange in Greenfield was a mistake, as the date is January 31 starting at 10:30 p.m. with the 5th degree being given at 2 in the afternoon. The degree work will be given by the Pomona officers at this time.

Don't forget the card party scheduled for Jan. 23rd at the Lexington Grange hall.

Remember the women's activity conference at Willows Grange hall in Ione on Friday, Jan. 23 at 10 a.m. with a polluck dinner at noon. All women of the grange are urged to attend this important meeting and meet the state and district chairmen.

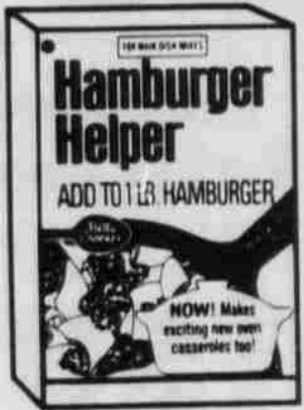

Mrs. Kenneth Jones and Mrs. Rick Johnson were in Portland Monday on business.
