What's your opinion? Morrow Co. Fair Committee meets

Question of the Week: "Do you think Blue Mountain Community College should build a new $250,000 - $300,000 administration building on campus?"

"No," says Boyd Martin, 26, Heppner. "They should hold off for a year, things are tight this year. I think they should put that money into helping students in another way."

The newly-formed Morrow County Fair Committee has been actively meeting the first Monday of every month at 7:30 p.m. at the fairgrounds annex. Committee members have been at work in preparing the new premium fair booklet.

The tabloid should be ready for distribution in June and will demand extra care as it is not in book form. The tabloids will be inserted in with newspaper subscriptions and extra copies will be distributed at the Extension office, to the fair secretary and at other central locations in the area.

The committee needs volunteers as superintendents and assistants who could work in the many departments of the fair. "Anyone who could help this way will not be turned away," said fair board Secretary Dorothy Estberg, "so give these people mentioned a call."

Committee members are chairman, Marlene Gray; co-chairman, Pearl Cason; Secretary, Merlyn Robinson; Bob McLaughlin, Bill Helphenstine, Gary Grieb, Eddie Brosnan, Nadine Bailey, Bobbie Angell, Ruth McCabe, Roger Record, Jerry Rood, and Rick Danielson of Boardman.

Letters to the Editor

Our fair share

To the Editor:

I would like to speak out in behalf of all western Umatilla County and Morrow County residents concerning Blue Mountain Community College's proposed new administration building.

In my opinion, this structure should be built in Hermiston. I'm tired of being treated as a poor relative that receives crumbs for tax moneys paid toward the college. More classes could be moved to Hermiston permanently to serve them and Morrow County, leaving room at Pendleton for the needed expanding administration services.

We, as individuals, are all practicing conservation out of necessity and I think it's about time public bodies joined in. The savings in gas alone to Morrow County, Echo, Hermiston, Stanfield, McNary and Umatilla residents would be considerable. I feel we can no longer tolerate the selfishness of the board's present plans and must demand our fair share.

should prompt immediate action by every businessman.

Yours truly,
Pat Wright

Missed a great story

First, let me compliment you on the excellent picture of the lone bank opening on page three of your Feb. 5th issue. Cannot understand why the individuals were not identified. Especially, the gentleman in the forefront in the checkered sports coat. I am sure they have nothing to hide and would love this publicity.

I think, too, you missed a great human interest love story in the page one announcement that Pat Campbell is leaving for Ireland on Feb. 27th where he will be married. Its still not too late to get together with Pat and edit this feature article.

Here's the drama of an Irish-American returning to the land of his grandparent's birth in 1978, meeting and wooing an Irish girl from Newry, some 6000 miles away, and now the culmination, wedding bells. Incidentally, his father, John Campbell of Condon, is my cousin.

Obituaries

Henry Allison Graves

PRAIRIE CITY, ORE. - Henry Allison "Hank" Graves, former Morrow County resident, died Feb. 7, 1981, at Prairie City at the age of 77.

Mr. Graves was born Jan. 4, 1904 at Hayden, Indiana, to Ward and True Graves. When he was eight years old, he traveled with his parents in a four-day trip across the plains by railroad to Gooding, Idaho, where his uncle lived. The Graves family made their home at Gooding, where his father began farming and raising fruit.

Mr. Graves later moved to Oregon where he was engaged in farm work. While driving a combine in the wheat fields near Condon, he met Lola Montague, who was cooking for the threshing crew. They were married June 23, 1928, at Eightmile. The Graves had eight children, six girls and two boys.

Besides working in the wheat fields, Mr. Graves did general farming, milked cows, and, at Boardman, raised melons for a few years. For 23 1/2 years the Graves family lived in Sparta, Oregon, where he farmed and worked in the woods. While in Sparta, he bought what had once been called the "Stage Stop, Hotel and Store," which he sold in 1964.

After leaving Sparta, he worked for the Forest Service at Bates, Oregon, and then for the U.S. Geological Survey at Bend. After retirement he ran a paper route at Redmond and at Prairie City, where he also worked on the landfill.

Mr. Graves was a charter member of the Sparta Grange, a member of the Boardman Grange and then a member of the Old Tumalo Grange, which consolidated with the Pine Forest Grange. He spent 50 years as a grange member. He was a lover of the outdoors and hunting and fishing were his best-loved sports.

Survivors include his wife, Lola, Prairie City; daughters, Mrs. James (Vesta) Allen, Spanaway, Wash., Mrs. Bill (Barbara) Stultz, Portland, Mrs. Alvin (Margorie) Blank, Pasco, Wash., Mrs. Bill (Nona) Carpenter, Roswell, New Mexico, Mrs. Elwood (Shirley) Carpenter, Artesia, New Mexico, and Mrs. Tom (Vada) Landwehr, Richland, Ore.; sons, George E. "Pete" Graves, Hermiston, and Bill Graves of Portland; sisters, Gladys Munkers, Heppner, and Edith Munkers, Lexington; a brother, Shelby Graves, Huntington, Ore.; twenty-six grandchildren and sixteen great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the First Christian Church in Richland, Ore. Concluding services and interment followed at the Eagle Valley Cemetery.

Etta Devin Parker

HEPPNER - Etta Devin Parker, 78, a lifetime-resident of the area, died Tuesday, Feb. 10, 1981.

She was born on January 5, 1903, the daughter of S.P. and Sylvia Shaner Devin.

She operated Heppner Hardware & Electric for a number of years with her husband, Loyal Parker. Mr. Parker preceded her in death in 1963.

Mrs. Parker was an active member of the First Christian Church in Heppner, a charter member of the Heppner Soroptimist Club, in which she held several offices, past Worthy Matron of Ruth Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, past Noble Grand of San Souci Rebekah Lodge, and past president of the American Legion Auxiliary No. 87.
