By ROBIN BALL

awhile.

The Ione Sr. High youth group planned a trip for Seaside. The trip became final and they departed from Ione on March 25.

The group stayed at The Carroll Manner Motel. (We raised the money to go that far).

Five Ione High students went along: Teena Lindstrom, Troy Lindstrom, Roger Childers, Duane Fetsch, and Robin Ball, accompanied by the Rev. Cathy Barker.

Teena commented "I had fun. It was nice to get away from everyone, to be around good friends. I loved The Dalles." Troy added "I had fun. The water was cold." Rogers agreed, saying, "I had fun." "It was a blast. It was good to clear my mind on the beach. Nice to have friends around to talk to and to see unexpected people from Ione."

"It was nice to find out I was going to college," commented Roger. Robin felt "It was nice to get away from family for "The time we had together as a group without a time limit was great," said the Reverend Barker. I was impressed with the way the group made the rules and followed them. I was also impressed by the way the group worked together planning and fixing the meals."

"I hope to have as much fun next year with the group on our adventurous trip."

The group departed from Seaside on March 27 and headed for The Dalles. They stayed the night with The Dalles Sr. High Youth group and left for Ione on Sat., March 28.

"We would like to give special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Keith Rea for the use of their car," said a group spokesperson.

"We would also like to give thanks to the people who helped us raise money for the trip."

"We also missed Michelle LaRue and Craig Rea on the trip."

Darcene Meyers to lead Ione in CF fund raiser

Darcene Meyers has been appointed to lead local volunteers in organizing a cystic fibrosis fund-raising event in Ione, according to Charles Dibert, president of the Oregon chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. In announcing the chairmanship of this event, Mr. Dibert said, "We hope many residents of Ione will volunteer their time and talent to this worthwhile project. Cystic fibrosis is the number one genetic killer in our country today, and these children need our help."

One in every 1,800 American children inherits this incurable disease when they received a gene for CF from each of their parents. It is estimated that one out of every 20 Americans is a symptomless and unknowing carrier of the gene which can cause CF in their child. Through research funded by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, a test to identify carriers is being sought and scientists are pursuing a cure or control for cystic fibrosis.

The local event will help support these research programs, as well as medical care presently provided at 128 cystic fibrosis centers located throughout the United States. These CF centers specialize in the diagnosis and care of children with CF. In Oregon there is one CF center located at the University of Oregon Health Science Center in Portland.

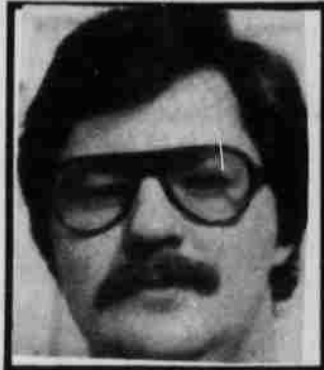

Details and date of the event will appear in this newspaper in the near future. Citizens of Ione wishing to volunteer to help with the local event can call Darcene Meyers, or the Oregon chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation at 231-4015.
