Dog complaints in Irrigon surface at Morrow Co. Court

By MARY ANN CERULLO

A series of complaints have recently come to the attention of Morrow County Court concerning a pack of 20 to 30 dogs running loose in the Irrigon area.

The dogs reportedly belong to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Greer of Irrigon who are currently agents for the Stokes Landing Humane Society.

On March 25 and April 1, dog complaint hearings were held before Morrow County Court in response to a petition bearing 18 names. Sue Gulick was designated as chief petitioner by the court.

During the hearing it was reported that at various times around 20 dogs were seen on the property of Sue Gulick and in her chicken house. Numerous chickens were reported killed or missing by Gulick and witnesses.

Other complaints concerned the dogs chasing horses and cows as well as injuring a lamb. It was reported that the dogs jumped at people and pulled their clothing as they passed by. An estimate of 20 dogs were said to be together at all times.

It was reported during the March 25 hearing that Mrs. Greer refused to accept registered mail and the County Sheriff had served papers on a civil complaint.

Mr. and Mrs. Greer were not present during the hearing and Judge McElligott set the hearing over until Wednesday, April 1 to give them an opportunity to appear.

On April 1 Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Greer appeared before Morrow County Court in the company of an attorney, Steve Trukositz.

Trukositz stated that the hearing was a violation of due process on the grounds that the Greers were not given sufficient notice of the complaints or of the hearing of March 25.

Trukositz also stated that he had been out of town until Monday, March 30, and had not had enough time to gather a defense.

He further stated that he would not object to the present hearing as long as it was to be held as an informal fact-finding meeting. The court agreed.

During the informal questioning of the April 1 hearing, Mrs. Greer was called to the stand.

Mrs. Greer stated that she and her husband have been caring for the dogs because the state and county do not have a proper place in the area to keep them. Greer explained that Stokes Landing Humane Society is funded by donations and that all the help is volunteer.

Mrs. Greer testified that in September 1980, County Sheriff Larry Fetsch asked her to take in a stray labrador which was pregnant. The pups were given away. Sheriff Fetsch continued to refer people to her who had stray dogs, she says.

Upon questioning, Greer stated that dogs which have had to be destroyed have been shot because of the cost of putting them to sleep. Currently Mrs. Greer's son has been destroying them, using his own gun and ammunition. No one else is willing to do the job, she says.

No fees are paid for destroying the dogs, she stated in response to a report made during the March 25 hearing. Greer estimated that 4 to 25 dogs are destroyed per month. They are then buried in the wildlife refuge.

No money is made from the service, Greer said, but the Humane Society is currently trying to raise money for a permanent shelter.

After a brief recess, the decision of the court was for Mrs. Greer to keep the dogs confined at all times until the final hearing of Wednesday, April 8.

Eyeglasses hearing aids needed

The donation box for all old eyeglasses and hearing aids is in the Ione Branch of E.O. and all the members of the local Ione Lions Club urge you to bring your old ones in and donate them to the cause.

The national Lions Club organization has put in many years, and thousands of man-hours helping the blind and hearing disabled members of our society, and now they need your help. Dana Heideman of the local Ione club urges everyone to dig into the depths of that jewelry case, hope chest, or old trunk and find those old glasses you aren't wearing anymore and bring them down today. "Some needy person will soon be getting a lot of mileage out of your old glasses."
