Last Thursday evening, Kitty Coon, choir, and Don Boyce, instrumental, directed Heppner High School's musicians in their spring concert.

The students of the four top grades had prepared an interesting program of instrumental and vocal selections. Special awards were presented. Paula Palmer was given the John Philip Sousa award.

and the Bill Kenny music award went to Lottie Laughlin. Lisa Nix was presented a National School Chorus award and chorus pins were given to all choir members for the number of years participation in the choir. Accompanists for the band and choir numbers included Danny Fortenberry and Matt Howard on percussion; Carolyn Hughes and Don Boyce at the piano and Jim Ackley on bass.

Three special numbers were featured on the program "Lady" (arr. Lionel Richie) by vocalist Joe Struthers; "Seasons in the Sun" (arr. Frank Metis) by Mike Nolan with backup by Marti Baker and "Suddenly" (arr. John Forrar) by Marti Baker and Steve Groce.

Band numbers were: "High Bridge" by Jim Curnow; "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy" (arr. James Plyhar); "Chant and Jubilo" by W. Francis McBeth; "Highlights from Pink Panther" (arr. John Edmondson); "Linger" (arr. John Edmondson) and finally "overture for a Festival" by Claude T. Smith.

The choir members presented "I'm Feelin Free" (arr. Roger Emerson); "Lean on the Wind" (arr. John Carter) and "Hello Sunshine" (arr. Roger Emerson).

Vo-Ag students practice on swather

Last Tuesday afternoon Vo-Ag class was held at the Rodeo Grounds in Heppner under the direction of instructor, Roger Records. Morrow County Grain Growers donated a swather to the class to help train the students to operate various types of farm equipment.

On Friday, May 8, many of the students traveled to Milton-Freewater to compete in a district-wide FFA tractor driving contest. The Heppner advanced team won by a wide margin - 500 points.

Individual scores for the Heppner FFA students are as follows: Tony Currin - 2nd overall with 737 points, Jeff Bailey - 4th overall, 807 points, Cliff Dougherty - 5th overall, 820 points, Jay Hayes - 6th overall, 836 points and Marty Britt - 8th overall with 920 points.

Also participating were: Mike Currin, Andy Samples, Bob McEwen, Craig Miles, Duane Epping, Dean Rill, and Eric Storz.

In the livestock judging contests the Heppner beginning team finished fifth and the advanced team finished sixth. Terry Gray finished eighth overall in the livestock judging contest.

Also participating in the hudging contests were: Mike Brosnan, Matt Clark, Shane Laughlin, Mona Clark, Bruce Way, Terry Riddle, Jay Hayes, Marty Britt, Mike Currin, Andy Samples, Bob McEwen, Craig Miles, Duane Epping, Dean Rill and Eric Storz.

The top three placing contestants from that contest will compete in the State Fair in August.

This week the students will be practicing on a combine donated by the MCGG. "Without this kind of community support we couldn't teach farm machinery operation," said Roger Records, instructor.
