

Cub Scouts 'fly high at 'Camp Akela '81'

It was "The Empire Strikes Back" revisited last week for area Cub Scouts attending the day camp held at the Morrow County Fairgrounds Aug. 3 through 7. Day campers at "Camp

Akela '81" followed the theme of "Flying High" in learning emergency repairs (first aid), making cook stoves out of tin cans, participating in the "Cylon Shoot" (archery), shooting laser (BB) guns, making and racing balsa wood rockets and competing in the "Lunar Olympics," among other crafts and games. The five-day camp was lead by John Holmes, Hermiston, district executive of the Oregon Trail District of Boy Scouts of America. Area den leaders supervising the camp were: Bobbie Angell, Glenna Turley, Martha Munkers, Marlene Gray and Sandi Devin. Assisting were Bobette Angell, Joy Krein, Sandy Holtz and Rob Majors.

Over the Tee Cup

By LINDA SHAW

The extremely hot weather of the past two weeks has not slowed activity at Willow Creek Country Club. Club members have been busy getting the course ready and the meal planned for the Columbia-Blue Seniors Golf Tournament held August 10. With over 100 players anticipated, many people have worked hard to show off Heppner's short, but demanding course. In addition, the women's group has concluded two tournaments, and the match play is continuing. The men are also competing in their match play tournament and Wednesday evening team play.

On July 30, 12 women's teams participated in a Best Ball Tournament planned by the tournament committee of Eddi Skow and Jan Thom. Pat Edmundson and Jan Thom won low gross with a score of 68, and Bev Gunderson and Wanda Willis shot a 70 for second. Martha Peterson and Bev Wilson won 1st net; Kay and Marcia Anderson were second; and Betty Christman and Bebe Munkers placed third. Long drive on No. 2 was won by Susan Johnston; KP on No. 4 by Eileen Padberg; and high score was the team of Muriel Palmer and Judy Stevens.

A Flag Tournament was held August 6, with 14 women participating in the 18-hole event. The women were allowed par plus 2-3 of their handicaps to play the round and were asked to predict ahead of time where their final shots would be. Eileen Padberg overily predicted her finishing point. Eddi Skow finished the 18 for 1st, with Pat Edmundson one putt out for second. Wanda Willis was third. Linda Shaw - 4th. Kay Anderson - 5th. Sharon Harrison and Jan Thom tied for 6th, and Lois Hunt - 7th.

Over 20 women were involved in Ladies' Day Play on the morning of July 28. Eddi Skow had 1st low gross, with a 40, and Lois Hunt and Linda Shaw tied for second at 41. Annetta Padberg won 1st net and Suzanne Jepsen was second. Marie McQuarrie had fewest putts, Mary Beamer was closest to the pin on No. 1, and Pat Edmundson had KP on No. 2.

Despite the heat, 17 women played on the morning of August 4. First low gross was Eddi Skow with a 37; Bev Gunderson was second with a 38; and Pat Edmundson, 3rd at 39. Wanda Willis won low net; Lota Tibbles was second; and Suzanne Jepsen was third. Linda Shaw had the longest drive, and Wanda Willis had KP on No. 4. That afternoon, 11 women braved the heat. Harriet Evans won low gross with a 42. Dorris Graves won 1st net and Bebe Munkers was second. Linda Shaw had fewest putts, and Jo Borst won a special award.

The next activity will be a family barbecue August 16.

The committee in charge of the Willow Creek Country Club Sunday afternoon play will serve cold cuts of meat, instead of the usual barbecue, along with baked beans and French bread. Members are asked to bring a salad or dessert as usual.

Second lamb pool sells

By JOHN NORDHEIM, Morrow Co. Extension Agent

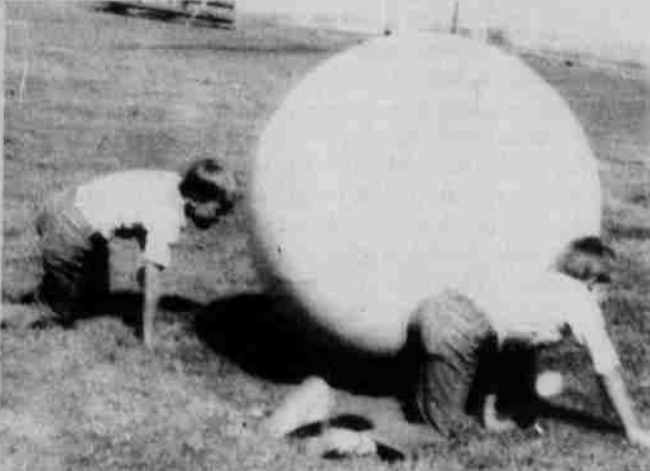

The second of three 1981 lamb pools for Northeastern Oregon and South Eastern Washington sold July 23. Two hundred seventy-three fat lambs brought 57 cents per pound while 221 feeder lambs brought 54 cents per pound. Producers from Heppner, Spray, Hermiston, Boardman, Touchet and Pilot Rock participated in lamb pool. This sale was the first to include producers from Wheeler County in this lamb pool.

The lambs were graded by weight and finish by John Nordheim, Morrow County Extension Agent, into the two grades. Tom Watson, Hermiston, was the high bidder, with the lambs being delivered to his feedlot on July 27.

The lamb pool is sold by telephone. The telephone livestock auction is simply a telephone conference of buyers and the auctioneer representing the sellers. It helps to stimulate buyer interest in other areas of the U.S., since they are bidding on a truckload of lambs. This helps local producers receive the "national" price, and also gives similar prices to the small producer and the large producer.

The lambs were graded on Monday and Tuesday before the Thursday sale date. The 50 cents per head grading fee was waived, the grading was a service of the OSU Extension Service. The PNW Livestock Producers Marketing Cooperative, Inc. receives 85 cents per head for its role in coordinating loads and selling the lambs. The lambs were assembled at Hopper's scales in Hermiston and Thompsons scales in Heppner. The Hoppers and Terry Thompson waived a 25 cent per head corral use fee. Animals not dry-lotted overnight at the point of shipment are subject to shrink: four percent for those coming less than 35 miles, three percent for 36-50 miles, two percent for 51-70 miles and no shrink for those over 71 miles from home.

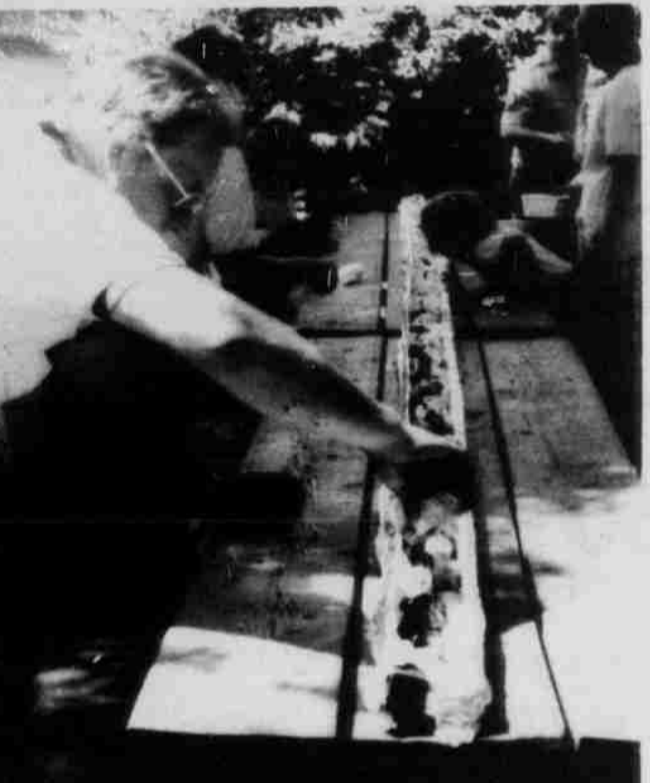

The last sale will probably be held Sept. 3, reports Nordheim. Producers who want to sell sheep this way should contact Nordheim at 676-9642 (or 676-5280 at home).

Money critical in solar pool project

"Money is becoming a critical factor in the project," Ron Forrar told the Heppner Morrow-County Chamber of Commerce last week.

Forrar was referring to the solar heating project now under construction at the Heppner swimming pool.

"We're about $18,000 short," he said of the project which would see solar heating panels installed over the pool building roof, which would be used to heat water for the pool.

Forrar said that so far the $24,000 project has received about $4,700 in cash donations, and another $4,000 in materials.

Although he says only $400 to $500 in cash has so far been spent on the project, construction is reaching the point where more money is needed.

"A nickel here, a dime here won't do it," he told the Chamber. "We need large donations and that is why I have come before you. I know there are those out there who could raise the kind of money we need."

Forrar also told the chamber that some plans for the solar project have been changed.

He said he has decided to change the type of material to be used in the "active" solar system, from the previously mentioned "roll" material to a regular solar panel. He said the solar panels will cost about the same and will not break down in the environment as will the roll.

He said he has also decided to change the configuration of the panels to make better use of the sun.

When completed the solar system will heat all the water for the pool, extending the swimming season and saving $2,500-$3,200 in fuel costs each year.
