Atiyeh appoints Grieb to advisory council

Gov. Vic Atiyeh has named 10 Oregonians to serve on the state Advisory Council for Career and Vocational Education.

Appointed are Julie Grieb, Lexington; Verna Bailey, Newberg; Nita Crimins and Audrey Parsons, both of Milwaukie; Jack Parker, Portland; Pete Reifel, Lakeview; Jim Sayer, Forest Grove; and Doug Treadway, La Grande. Reappointed are James Davison, La Grande, and Kenneth Light, Klamath Falls.

All 10 appointments become effective Oct. 1, 1981.

Five of the appointees succeed board members who complete their terms on the board Sept. 31, 1981. Those five will serve terms expiring Sept. 30, 1984. They are Grieb, who replaces Adella Domes, Rickreall; Bailey, who replaces Guessippina Williams, Portland; Parker, who replaces H. David Smith, Philomath; Reifel, who replaces Caryl Northam, Roseburg; and Treadway, who replaces Kenneth Gates, Gresham.

Three of the appointees will fill unexpired terms of persons who have left the board. Parsons and Crimins will replace Portland residents Faith Mayhew and Myrna Rose, respectively, who resigned. Both Parsons and Crimins will serve until Sept. 30, 1983. Sayer will serve the unexpired term of H. Robert Coulter, Milwaukie, who died. The term ends Sept. 30, 1982.

Both reappointees will serve three-year terms beginning Oct. 1, 1981, and expiring Sept. 30, 1984.

The federal Vocational Education Act of 1963 (as ammended by PL 94-482) requires that any state desiring to participate in programs under the act establish an advisory council. Oregon will receive approximately seven million dollars under the act this year.

Duties of the 25-member council include advising the state board of education on career and vocational education plans, evaluating career education programs, and submitting an annual report on those programs to the federal agency overseeing the Vocational Education Act.

Federal law also stipulates that the committee include at least one representative of each of 20 categories of persons interested in vocational education programs. In addition, the council must have an appropriate representation of both sexes, racial and ethnic minorities, and the geographic regions of the state.

Grieb will represent vocational education students on the council. She has been a student at Oregon State University since September, 1980.

Grieb is the daughter of Gary and Virginia Grieb, Lexington.

Sphagnum peat moss needed by new lawns

If you're thinking about beautifying your home with the installation of a new lawn, this is the perfect time of year to take on the project.

The most important ingredients to ensure the success of the new lawn include the soil and its preparation, fertilizer, the seed and water.

All four become even more critical when you consider that you have only one chance to make the lawn perfect—unless, of course, you want to undertake the project year after year.

Here are some tips on the soil preparation:

1. Make sure the area is clear of all debris—rocks, twigs and other foreign materials. This is especially important if your home has just been built.

2. Cover the cleared area evenly with sphagnum peat moss. One six cubic foot bale for every 150 square is about
