Yes, there are actually things for free from the government!

The Federal government has a continual selection of free booklets available on almost every subject of interest to the average citizen. Just mail a postcard with your name and address requesting the code number of the booklet to: Consumer Information Center, Dept. 50, Pueblo, CO 81009.

Because supplies are limited, Consumer Information asks that you order only one copy of each booklet and allow up to six weeks for delivery.

Here is a list of a few booklets available:

- 1) Shopping By Mail (640H) This four page booklet details your rights when shopping by mail and offers suggestions on how to protect yourself and what actions to take if you become a victim of mail-order fraud.
- 2) Dollars and Sense (620H) This 12 page booklet sheds some light on the causes of inflation and how you can cope with it.
- 3) Fair Credit Reporting Act (608J) If you're turned down for credit, this booklet tells you what to do next.
- 4) Insulate Your Water Heater and Save Fuel (611H) Ideas for insulating your electric or gas water heater and other energy conserving strategies.
- 5) Home Buyer's Vocabulary (637J) This simplified guide to the most frequently used real estate terms can help both the buyer and seller when dealing with lawyers and real estate brokers.
- 6) The Car Book (626J) Includes everything from a name-brand guide to today's new cars and how they performed in Government crash tests and fuel efficiency tests, to a survey of the car's maintenance and accident-repair costs.
- 7) Fly-Rights (629H) Advice and tips for traveling by air. How to get the best fare, what to do if your ticket or baggage is lost, and where to file complaints about an airline.
- 8) Food is More Than Just Something to Eat (660J) A basic guide to nutrition. Includes 30 pages on everything from vitamins A to K, including dietary guidelines for all ages.
- 9) When Baby's Life is so Much Your Own (526J) New reports about food and drugs taken during pregnancy, and their effects on the health of the baby.
- 10) Beginners Guide to Home Canning and Freezing (642H) Tips on canning and freezing plus safety instructions.

IUCC to celebrate Haystack

Two members of the Ione United Church of Christ serve on the present United Church Board for World Ministries: Fred Martin and the Rev. Cathy Barker.

The Ione church plans to celebrate the Haystack anniversary with observances throughout the month of October. The celebration begins with World Wide Communion Sunday on October 4. After the 11:00 worship service the congregation will gather for a pot luck dinner. The Deaconesses of the church will provide freshly-baked bread from many parts of the world. A hymn-sing and presentation of a play of the Haystack Prayer Meeting will follow.

Each worship service during October will reflect the emphasis on world mission. The congregation will hear the stories of several partners in mission, and each person will receive the name and story of a missionary family to pray for. Local members who have traveled will share displays of items from various countries.

On October 25 the Haystack celebration will close with an International Dinner at 6:00 p.m. at the Ione United Church of Christ. This event will be a family night for Stewardship and Celebration.

The public is invited to share in the celebration of the 175th anniversary of the Haystack Prayer Meeting.

Lexington news

Mike Burcham and children are staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burcham while he is recuperating from injuries received on Saturday when his horse rolled with him. The Burchams live in Condon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bloodsworth are the proud parents of a son born recently in Pendleton. His name is Kevin Carl and weighed 7 lbs. 5 oz. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bloodsworth of Heppner, grandmother LaVonne Berstrom of The Dalles, and great grandmother Eula Bloodsworth of Lexington. Maternal grandparents are Betty Marguard of Lexington and great grand parents Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Messenger Sr. of Lexington.

Andrew Mounts of Portland and her mother, Freida Majeske of Heppner are visiting this week in Wisconsin where Mrs. Majeske has several nieces and nephews. Mrs. Majeske was a former resident of that area.

Mike Kane has been visiting his son Patrick the past week taking him to Colo where they visited relatives of Mr. Kane. Doug Marguard is attending Linfield College where he is studying music.

Marie Yocum from Pendleton was visiting her parents on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Messenger, Sr., the Carl Marguard families, and the Bill B Marguard families were recent Portland visitors where they attended a Messenger family reunion. Mr. and Mrs. Messenger remained for a few days longer to visit with their son and family, Mr. and Carrol Messenger and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Weiser of Heppner have purchased the Soward house and have been living there for some time.

Word was received Saturday that Mike Peck who is living with an aunt in Juneau Alaska had the misfortune to break his ankle and is hospitalized. He attended school in Heppner last year living with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Glover Peck.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Messenger of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Messenger Sr. spent several days last week at Wallowa where they enjoyed some resting and fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson spent the week-end in Goldendale, Wa where they visited his brother who is ill in that city.

Bob Steagall is a patient in St. Anthony's Hospital in Pendleton recuperating from surgery on a hand.

Lyle Cox returned home on Monday after a stay in a Portland hospital recuperating from a heart attack.

Correction

A story appearing in last week's Gazette-Times entitled "Morgan sentenced September 18" was in error. The story reported that charges against Morgan for solicitation to commit murder were dropped. Morgan was found not guilty by a jury on that charge.
