

What's Your Opinion?

"What is your opinion of the new postage hike of 20 cents for first class and 13 cents for postcards?"

"It's a rip-off," said Robert Watts, Heppner. "After building the highly criticized two to three million dollar complex in Washington D.C. which they swore they could afford, they have justified the criticism."

'So You Say You're Tough' scheduled Nov. 7 in Pendleton

The wackiest, zaniest but probably the most active boxing show ever to hit the Eastern Oregon and Washington area last May has been scheduled again for Saturday evening, Nov. 7 at the Pendleton Armory and it's again billed "So You Say You're Tough," said a spokesperson for the event.

The combatants can be anyone who is not or has never fought as a pro nor have they fought five amateur fights in 1981 and the proposed entrants include bar room brawlers, loggers, cowboys, ranch hands, firemen, policemen or just anyone who has had a desire to mix it up legitimately in the ring. College athletes are also eligible.

The events are under the direction of Northwest Sports of Portland who produced the May events.

On the line is the giants $1,500 plus in prize monies for the top finishers in each of the three weight divisions with a possible fourth division being added if entries warrant. The possible division is the 145 lbs. and under class with 146-160 pound; 161-190 and 191 and over divisions set. Each winner picks up $500 in each division. A full division constitutes eight fighters with eliminations leaving the winner to have fought in three matches all scheduled for three-two minute rounds. If the fourth weight class, 145 lbs. and under is added, an additional $500 will be added.

The schedule calls for a maximum of seven bouts in each weight division or a total of 21 scheduled fights during the evenings carding.

All fighters will be awarded with a participants trophy and all will receive a prefight physical from the physician of the Pendleton Boxing Commission which is sanctioning the event. One of the nations top referees also will be in attendance to handle the ring duties.

Public input needed on programs

A meeting will be held in Pendleton in the board room of Blue Mountain Community College, Wednesday, Oct. 14, 7 p.m., to determine what the public wants in federally funded vocational education programs between 1983-87, it was announced in a recent news release from the Oregon Dept. of Education.

"Oregon receives about $6 million annually from the federal government to match local dollars to fund vocational education programs in high schools and community colleges.

"But before the money is made available, the State Board of Education must file a plan with the U.S. Department of Education. The board and the Oregon Department of Education want to know how the public wants that money spent before the plan is approved," said the dept.

This may be old news to some folks in the area, but I would like all Eastern Oregon writers or would-like-to-be writers to take note.

The Clearwater Press in LaGrande is currently organizing a journal of Eastern Oregon writing, "The Clearwater Review" will begin annual publication in January 1982.

Editors are Sandy Gullikson and John Daniel. The Review will contain poetry, some short and non-fiction. Submission deadline for the January issue is November 1.

Submissions must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and mailed to: John Daniel, Route 1, Box 75F, Bonanza, OR, 97623; or Sandy Gullikson, 1115 V Ave., LaGrande, OR, 97850.

Accepted work will be paid in two free copies of the journal. The editors say they do not expect the review to make a profit, and welcome financial contributions.

So, to those who would like to see their work in print, I strongly urge that you submit by Nov. 1. The editors are interested in all subjects and writing forms.

Tax-Free Interest Breakthrough.

Introducing Tax Savings Certificates. They won't tax your interest.

Our new Tax Savings Certificate is a breakthrough for savers. It not only earns you a lot of money, but allows you to keep what you earn.

Here's how it works: You deposit a minimum of $500 for twelve months and the interest you earn (up to $2,000 for couples, $1,000 for individuals) is tax-free. That's right, you pay no Federal tax on those amounts. And your funds are insured by the FDIC up to $100,000. You can see why it's a real breakthrough for savers.

And if you have a 182-day Money Market Certificate with us, you can cash it in before maturity and convert the funds to a Tax Savings Certificate on or after October 1 with no penalty.

Check the chart to see if the Tax Savings Certificate is in your best interest. Depending on your tax bracket and other factors, it may or may not be. Which is why we say, whatever you do, come in and talk to us. We can offer you personal and timely advice as to what type of plan will help you get the most from your money. After all, we are the oldest bank in Oregon. And in banking, especially today, experience counts.

So come in and talk to us. Find out whether the Tax Savings Certificate or another plan is best for you. Either way, we'll help you come out ahead.

The Tax Savings Certificate interest rate will be: 12.14% (Rate on 10/5/81)
Based on this rate, a deposit of $16,474 will earn $2,000 at maturity.

Taxable Income (Joint Return)	Probable 1982 Federal Income Tax Bracket	To equal the return of the Tax Savings Certificate you would need to earn:
$60,000	49%	23.80%
$50,000	44%	21.68%
$40,000	39%	19.90%
$30,000	33%	18.12%
$20,000	22%	15.56%

Rate on the Tax Savings Certificate will be equal to 70% of the average yield on one-year U.S. Treasury Bills as of the most recent auction.
Substantial interest penalty and loss of tax exemption for early withdrawal.
Interest payable at maturity.
