Mrs. Jo Irvin entertained the PNG Club of Holly Rebekah Lodge at her home in Irrigon on Wednesday of last week. A lovely dinner was served at noon, and after a short business meeting the afternoon was spent in visiting. Plans were made to make bids for Pioneer Memorial Hospital, and a social day with visiting PNG Clubs the last Wednesday in March. Those attending the meetings were, Leila Palmer, Dorothy Burcham, Eula Bloodsworth, Ruth Robinson, Donna Papineau, Virginia Peck, Annetta Padberg, Irene Padberg and Delpha Jones. The next meeting will be the Christmas meeting at the Jones' home with Dorothy Burcham as co-hostess. Florence McMillan from Good Samaritan Center and granddaughter Valda Smith of Hermiston were guests also.

Three Links Club of Holly Rebekah Lodge met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Virginia Peck. Bibs were sewed for the nursing home, and activities for the fall were discussed. The card parties will be held the first Saturday of each month at the hall. Sewing days were discussed to get things ready for the artifactory and the annual food sale and bazaar. A food sale is planned for October 30 at Dels Market. A quilt has been made and donated by the club and will be on display at the hall during each card game, with tickets available. Refreshments were served to Catie Padberg, Dorothy Burcham, Leila Palmer, Dorothy Buchanan, Joyce Buchanan and Delpha Jones. Leila Palmer won the door prize.

Hall Schmunk of the Grange Insurance business office in Portland was a business caller in Heppner area last week. He stopped at the Akers, Jones and Wright homes on insurance business.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Williams of Hermiston were Lexington callers on Sunday, attending church services and the Historical Society meeting.

Freda Majeske and daughter Audrey Mounts returned home last week from a trip to Wisconsin where they visited relatives. Mrs. Mounts also visited a sister, Pat Wright, in Lexington.

Plans are underway for tumbling classes to be held each Tuesday afternoon at the Lexington Grange Hall with Cindi Sumner in charge. Interested parents may contact Mrs. Sumner.

The Lexington Grange is sponsoring a public card party to be held on Saturday night at the Lexington Grange Hall starting at 8 p.m. There will be prizes and refreshments.

New grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Bud Marshall and great grandmother Myrtle Marshall of Lexington were recent La Grande callers where they attended a shower honoring Julie Christine Marshall, new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Marshall. While there the group enjoyed a shower honoring the new baby and mother.

The Blue Mt. Fiddlers will perform at the Lexington Grange in November, the date to be announced later.

Oregon State Parks seek camp hosts

Oregon State Parks which will be open during the winter months for overnight camping are now soliciting applications from prospective camp hosts.

The highly successful camp host program, used during each of the last two summers, benefits participants, campers and the park system, according to Warren Gaskill, deputy state parks administrator.

He explained that park hosts live in campgrounds for a month or more as official Oregon State Park representatives. In addition to greeting campers, hosts help them find campsites and get settled in, provide information about the park and surrounding area, and are available in case of emergencies.

However, hosts are not asked nor are they expected to enforce rules and regulations or collect fees.

While there is no salary, the park provides a campsite free of charge to the host, either an individual or couple. Hosts provide their own camping equipment.

Persons interested in the program may obtain a Volunteer Park Host application from any State Park Office, or write: Park Host Coordinator, State Parks and Recreation Division, 525 Trade Street SE, Salem, Oregon 97310.

Tax-Free Interest Breakthrough.

Introducing Tax Savings Certificates. They won't tax your interest.

Our new Tax Savings Certificate is a breakthrough for savers. It not only earns you a lot of money, but allows you to keep what you earn.

Here's how it works: You deposit a minimum of $500 for twelve months and the interest you earn (up to $2,000 for couples, $1,000 for individuals) is tax-free. That's right, you pay no Federal tax on those amounts. And your funds are insured by the FDIC up to $100,000. You can see why it's a real breakthrough for savers.

And if you have a 182-day Money Market Certificate with us, you can cash it in before maturity and convert the funds to a Tax Savings Certificate on or after October 1 with no penalty.

Check the chart to see if the Tax Savings Certificate is in your best interest. Depending on your tax bracket and other factors, it may or may not be. Which is why we say, whatever you do, come in and talk to us. We can offer you personal and timely advice as to what type of plan will help you get the most from your money. After all, we are the oldest bank in Oregon. And in banking, especially today, experience counts.

So come in and talk to us. Find out whether the Tax Savings Certificate or another plan is best for you. Either way, we'll help you come out ahead.

The Tax Savings Certificate interest rate will be: 12.14% (Rate on 10/5/81)
Based on this rate, a deposit of $16,474 will earn $2,000 at maturity.

Taxable Income (Joint Return)	Probable 1982 Federal Income Tax Bracket	To equal the return of the Tax Savings Certificate you would need to earn:
$60,000	49%	23.80%
$50,000	44%	21.68%
$40,000	39%	19.90%
$30,000	33%	18.12%
$20,000	22%	15.56%

Rate on the Tax Savings Certificate will be equal to 70% of the average yield on one-year U.S. Treasury Bills as of the most recent auction.
Substantial interest penalty and loss of tax exemption for early withdrawal.
Interest payable at maturity.
