To the Editor:

Morrow County citizens - I wish to thank the Morrow County Fair Committee, the Fair Board, The Heppner Gazette-Times and my family for the lovely surprise when I found the fair premium book dedicated to me.

It was the best kept secret in Morrow County.

My special thanks to Marlene Gray for the lovely corsage and to the Fair Board for the dinner and many courtesies extended to Cecil and me at the fair.

I hope the incoming fair chairman and committee will be given the same fine support for their plans as I received in the past.

Again, many thanks and best wishes for many more fine fairs.

businesses and farms which has had the effect of reducing competition and has shifted control of the economy further into the hands of big business and international conglomerates.

Whereas: The high interest rates have increased production costs which have been passed along to consumers thus aggravating the inflation spiral.

Whereas: High interest rates have resulted in cut-backs in large industries - especially in the housing and auto industries - which has caused the loss of thousands of jobs and has resulted in high unemployment the cost of which must be born by the taxpayer.

Whereas: High interest rates have adversely affected the nation's productivity.

Therefore be it resolved: That the Democratic Party oppose the high interest rate policy pursued by the Reagan Administration and ask Congress to enact legislation designed to reduce interest rates to a level conducive to a healthy economy.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Oregon hit hard by interest rates

Dear Editor:

High interest rates have been strangling the entire nation, but Oregon's timber industry, farmers, ranchers and small businessmen have been hit hardest of all. In an attempt to bring interest rates down to a reasonable level, I authored and introduced the following resolution at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Democratic National Committee held September 17, 1981 in Washington D.C. I am delighted to report that the resolution passed unanimously thus becoming a policy statement for the Democratic Party of the United States. I personally delivered copies of the resolution to several Democratic congressmen on behalf of DNC Chairman Charles Manatt asking for their support. It was received enthusiastically by Oregon's Democratic Representatives Ron Wyden, Jim Weaver, and Les AuCoin.

Resolution On High Interest Rate Policy

Whereas: The high interest rate policy pursued by the Federal Reserve Board has devastated small businesses and farms across the United States and has resulted in the loss of thousands of small

Buck Fever

To the Editor:

Buck fever was setting in. This was the young man's first hunting season and a lifetime county resident had promised to accompany the man and his wife.

It was a Wednesday afternoon. A buck was sighted along a ridge above the Balm Fork area. The sign read: "Welcome to hunt, no vehicles..."

The three jumped the fence as a vehicle pulled past their parked jeep.

Two men in the vehicle scoped the three young people who were gradually closing in on a three-point buck.

The animal ducked into the draw to hide in the brush. It was trapped.

The vehicle made its move. Instantly it was through the gate and climbing in the field of wheat stubble until it reached the last of the hunters climbing the hill.

It was a stunned threesome who watched the vehicle drive up, two men jump out with their rifles and fire as the spooked buck leaped from the brush 20 yards away. He was down in one shot.

The three young hunters slowly turned and retraced their steps back down the hill. Halfway down they heard the vehicle coming behind them. Driving along side, the passenger leaned out of the window.

"How'd ya like a ride?" he grinned.

"No thanks," bristled one of the young men. "We walked all the way up. I think we can make it down."

This is a true story. Some would probably shake their

Take it anywhere. Closed, it's slim enough to slip into a shirt pocket. Open, it's a full-featured LCD quartz clock. It's easy-on-the-eyes with a big, no-squint digital display that tells hour and minutes, AM or PM. Plus a night light, "beep" memory alarm and snooze feature.
