

Jr. high school displays new U.S. patchwork map-quilt

The hallway of Heppner Jr. High took on a new look this week. A colorful map of the United States, measuring 112 inches by 73 inches, is now hanging on the wall. The map is unusual however, because it is a patchwork, tied wall hanging started by students in last year's 7th grade Homemaking class and completed this year by six members of this year's 8th grade class.

Seventh grade students began the project last year by each making a state out of cloth. The states were patched together at the end of the school year. Some students chose to decorate their states with their initials or other decorations. The six students who completed the quilt are Noella Rill, Kim Wright, Missy Turner, Dyann Brosnan, Katrina Johnston and Paula Plocharsky. They were assisted in the assembling and tying process by Missy Turner's grandmother Irene Swanson.

Homemaking teacher, Liz Curtis, in whose classes the quilted hanging was made, said the quilt was a project of the students. "Once in awhile I helped them or sewed a little on the quilt, but not very often."

Heppner Jr. High School now displays a beautiful, tied wall hanging map of the United States. The patchwork map, started by last year's seventh grade homemaking class was completed by six members of this year's

Unidentified goblins stalk nursing home

Heppner kindergarten students came disguised Friday, Oct. 30 to Pioneer Memorial Hospital in Heppner to visit the nursing home residents there. The costumed children went from room to room singing and reciting poems commemorating Halloween for the residents. Pictured above is the morning kindergarten class.

Ione Topic Club holds meeting

Lynnea Sargent, Morrow County Senior Services Coordinator, was guest speaker at the Ione Topic Club on October 28 at the home of Katherine Lindstrom with Lorraine Ladd assisting. She spoke of areas where help is available to seniors, including a meal each week, homemaker services such as light housework, and outreach, which includes legal services among others. Guests for the day were Geneva Palmer, Dot Halvorsen and the Rev. Kathy Barker. The Rev. Barker told the group about a Television Awareness Training session which will be presented in March. This will be an exploration of how television affects our lives and how we can make the best use of it. The club also voted to accept books presented to the Ione Public Library by the South Morrow Ministerial Association.

Seniors complete C.P.R. training

Doherty, Tammi Holtz, Michelle LaRue, Diann Morter, and Cindi Hill.

The Senior Class of Ione High School has just completed cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) instruction from Sally Winters, a CPR trained instructor from Pioneer Memorial Hospital.

The American Legion, Post

95, and the American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 95, of Ione each year jointly sponsor CPR classes for members of Ione's graduating class.

The Legion and Auxiliary have also scheduled their Boys' and Girls' State potluck dinner for Thursday, November 12 at 6:30 p.m. at the Legion Hall. Guests of honor will be last summer's delegates to Girls' State: Michelle LaRue, Liz McElligott, Margaret Doherty, and Diann Morter; and Brad Schmidt, the delegate to Boys' State.

BMCC Ski Swap slated Nov. 14

Out-grown ski wear or otherwise unused ski equipment is being sought by the Blue Mountain Community College Ski Club for their annual Ski Swap set for Saturday, Nov. 14, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. People with goods to sell price their items and turn them over to the club. Club members then display the merchandise and take a 10 percent commission on any items that sell.

Goods for the swap will be received at the college Thursday and Friday, Nov. 12 and 13 prior to the Saturday sale from 5 to 8 p.m. in Morrow Hall room, 121. The sale will take place in the same room. Any ski equipment or winter-related item is acceptable for the sale, according to Jerry DeMoss, business instructor and adviser to BMCC's Ski Club.

Redemption tickets to benefit HHS chorus

The Heppner High School Chorus will be selling door to door, tickets for one dollar each, good for one dollar off any food purchase (excluding ice cream and candy) at the Drive In in Heppner.

Chorus members will begin selling the tickets Friday, Nov. 6 and continue through November 14. Anyone wanting additional tickets may obtain them by contacting any choir member or Kitty Coon, instructor, at the high school.

Proceeds from the tickets, redeemable only at R & W Drive In, will be used to finance chorus field trips and music supplies, said a spokesperson. One ticket per order is allowed, with no daily limit, said a spokesperson.

'Reflections of Love' to be shown Nov. 8

Joni Eareckson

"Reflections of His Love, a new film highlighting the life and ministry of Joni Eareckson, will be shown on Sunday, November 8 at the Heppner Nazarene Church. The color feature, will be shown once, beginning at 6:00 p.m.

Miss Eareckson is the star of a recent theatrical motion picture, "Joni," which relates the story of her diving accident, as a young girl, which left her paralyzed from the neck down. It chronicles her struggles to piece together her life and her faith in God, in spite of the devastating circumstances.

In "Reflections of His Love," Miss Eareckson, who is also the author of two best-selling books, "Joni" and "A Step Further," tells of the great transformations that have taken place in her life because of her willingness to accept all of the things that have happened to her.

Pastor Wilks has extended an open invitation to the community to attend this special screening. There is no admission charge. "We feel everyone who attends will be touched by the remarkable
