There is still room in both classes said Hughes. For those interested in taking either class, contact Joyce Hughes, instructor, 989-8412 or Nancy Brownfield, Blue Mountain Community College area coordinator, 676-5039.

A.F.S. offers fruit boxes

Anyone wishing to help out the local American Field Service and their efforts to bring foreign students to the area may do so by purchasing a gift fruit box from the local AFS chapter.

Under the AFS program local youth and teachers may spend a year in other parts of the U.S. or in 60 other nations. This school year, two students, Camilo Nunez from the Dominican Republic and Kristine Donaldson from Australia, are attending Heppner High School.

Anyone interested in joining the local AFS chapter or purchasing citrus fruit may contact either Jerry Healy, 676-5240, or Marion Abrams, 676-9787.

The wild cherry tree, "brother" to the fruit-bearing orchard cherries, is native to America. Its fruit is rarely tempting but it's wood is prized for making furniture of high sheen and polish.

What's Your Opinion?

"How do you think the space shuttle project benefits the country?"

"I really don't know," said Marlene Mitchell, Heppner, "except to learn more about what's out there. I think we should know as much as we can."

Singspiration is Nov. 8

Friendship Baptist Church, Heppner will host a Singpiration on Sunday, Nov. 8 at the Heppner Nazarene Church. The event is sponsored by the South Morrow County Ministerial Assoc. The public is invited to attend, said a spokesperson.
