

Heppner Garden Club to present greens workshop

By JUSTINE WEATHERFORD

Many South Morrow residents have now become accustomed to making up their own green Christmas decorations with help from the members of the Heppner Garden Club at the group's Annual Greens Workshop. Last year, and again this year, the workshop is being held in the Fairground 4-H annex in conjunction with the AAUW-arranged Artificery to be held all day this coming Saturday.

The gardeners' greens-gathering expert Bill Rawlins has collected a fine supply of fresh area greenery. Club President Julia Hill has arranged for a sizeable shipment of fresh, properly-treated holly to arrive via UPS from Coos Bay. The club membership has purchased a supply of wrapping wire, attractive decorations and various accessory items for wreath and swag making which they will sell at near-cost prices.

Those who plan to take advantage of this annual opportunity and the free instruction and help offered as a community service by the Heppner Garden Club, are asked to bring their own garden clippers with them. They are encouraged to also bring along any heavy wire circles they may have left from former Christmas wreaths.

The gardeners will have some wreaths and swags already madeup for sale at the workshop, and they will be taking orders for more of these to be made with decorations selected by the purchasers.

All Heppner Garden Club members are reminded that they are to be at the 4-H Annex Building by 7 p.m. on Friday evening for a pre-sale workshop meeting. This will be the only December meeting of the club.

Financial aid meeting set

An informational meeting for college bound seniors and their parents will be held Thursday, Dec. 10 at the Heppner High School cafeteria, 7:30 p.m. Michelle Portmann, counselor, will conduct the meeting concerning the availability of financial aid.

With the changing economy availability of funds and fluctuating interest rates, accurate information about financial aid is important," said Portmann.

Financial aid forms will be distributed and assistance given regarding their completion, Portmann added.

If unable to attend the meeting, contact Portmann for an appointment.

Adventist carolers to begin fund drive

As the Christmas season approaches, Seventh-day Adventist carolers will begin singing Christmas carols and seeking donations for disaster and relief funds, said a spokesperson.

The carolers will be caroling in Heppner on the evenings of December 5, 6, 12 and 13. The fund raising drive is part of the Seventh-day Adventist Ingathering Crusade, the spokesperson continued.

What's Your Opinion?

Question: "Are you doing anything to conserve electricity this winter, now that rates have increased?"

"Yes," says Bob Harris, Heppner. "Now we use wood heat."
