

Around About

By Justine Weatherford

As this shortest of months approaches its final day, Heppner has surely had a remarkable assortment of weather conditions — from bright, warm, spring sunshine back to snowflakes in just two days.

It is so good to have the anguish many citizens were suffering over the fear that the Heppner Neighborhood Center might be closed abated now. Because I am of the persuasion that whenever possible, institutions and individuals should strive to be self-supporting, I have wondered about a small change at the Neighborhood Center.

In many more populous communities there are Thrift Shops, or St. Vincent DePaul Societies or Salvation Army or Goodwill Stores. These organizations collect, repair and offer many things for sale at very low prices. Our county has no such outlet. The Neighborhood Center is a place that is given many items of clothing and also miscellaneous articles that they carefully sort and stock to give to needy individuals and families.

I recall that after some of the many garage and yard sales during the warm months here, the assortment of unsold goods is taken to the center where Mrs. Brindle and her loyal volunteer crew of daily assistants have sorted and stored the usable items. We all agree that during times of stress and unemployment and in cases of very limited pensions it is fine to give out as much help as possible to those in dire need.

However, there are many people who have some need who just can't accept charity — who would prefer being able to pay small amounts for good pre-used clothing and household articles. I have not talked my idea over with anyone in authority at the center or in our county or city or in the E.C.O.A.C., but I have been wondering if the center couldn't try a little more selling — maybe just during the winter months before the garage and yard sale season begins?

You may have observed that presently there is an assortment of hand-made gift items for sale there. These attractive things were made by the Thursday afternoon ladies group, who enjoy socializing as they create clever "whatnots." The money realized from the sale of these items goes into a fund from which more craft materials are purchased. Any woman enjoying making new friends and working with her hands is most welcome to the Thursday afternoon group.

My thought is that nearby the present sale shelves, there might be added a few racks of children's and adults' clothing which on five days each week, persons might look over and purchase at very low prices. Perhaps this thrift shop idea could be tried on a small scale, for a short time, to see if it would help the center and also help some burdened citizens.

A very good parent telephoned me last week to tell me how very impressed he is with music teacher Jim Ackley and his Saturday Colt Basketball League. We talked over some of the other good works this fine citizen carries on. I certainly agree that our community is a better place because Jim Ackley came here.

Our conversation led to words about the fact that too few parents are willing to give their time and talents to work with youth. We both felt grateful to the parents who are 4-H leaders, who help with Scouting and Campfire Girls and other youth groups.

Are your children looking forward to swimming pool days? Are you aware that the Ron Forrar-led project to solar heat the swimming water is much in need of more funds? Do you realize that each summer many out-of-town folks come here with their swim teams to spend time and money in this community while they cheer for their teams?

Mr. Forrar has worked with young people on this project, giving them instruction as they build together. It would be so good if everyone able would see that the solar project gets more financial backing soon before work gets underway there again.

KUMA to visit on St. Patrick's Day

The KUMA "Koffee Hour," a popular talk show that has aired on KUMA, Pendleton for nearly 27 years, will come to Heppner on St. Patrick's Day, March 17. Ted A. Smith, manager of KUMA and host of the program, made a casual comment on last year's St. Patrick's Day program that "we should go to Heppner some year." Jim Farley, owner of Farley Motors in Heppner, heard the comment and invited Smith to bring the program to his showroom. The program will originate from Farley's business firm from 10 to 11 a.m. on March 17.

Bill Kilkenny of Pendleton, a former Heppner resident, will assist Smith with the program and Farley is lining up many local Heppner area Irishmen to also take part. Another feature of the program will be tape-recorded songs by the late Joe Doherty, formerly of Pilot Rock and Pendleton.

Also on tap for the day will be a no host ham and egg breakfast at the Elks Club from 11 a.m. to 12 noon and several prizes to be given away.

Ten dollar prizes will be given to best dressed Irishman and the best dressed Irishwoman (you need not be Irish to win), and to the oldest native born Irishman or Irishwoman. There will also be a five dollar prize for any family living in Morrow County by the name of O'Sheridan. There will also be a ten dollar prize for the oldest native born Irishman in the county by the name of Donegal. These prizes can be claimed at Farley Motor Co.

Two other ten dollar prizes, one for the oldest born Irishman, and one for the oldest native born Irishman driving a Chevrolet, can be claimed at Ron McDonald Chevrolet in Heppner.

Over 200 attend annual Cub Scout dinner

More than 200 people attended the annual Cub Scout Blue and Gold Dinner held Monday night at the Elks Lodge in Heppner.

Many awards were given out and acknowledgements for work and achievements made over the past year in scouting.

Receiving the Arrow of Light Award, the highest award in Cub Scouting, were J.J. Shaw, Craig Angell and Will Welborn.

Will Welborn and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Welborn

CowBelle committee chairmen will meet Wednesday, March 3, 12 noon at the Elks Lodge in Heppner.

Upcoming events will be discussed, said a spokesperson.

Recipes are being accepted now through March 15 for the 1982 Oregon Beef Microwave Cook-Off contest. The cook-off, sponsored by the Oregon Beef Council, Sharp Microwave Ovens and the Oregon CowBelles, will be held April 24 at the Northwest Food Fair in Portland.

Contest rules are as follows: 1 - All beef cuts must come from the chuck, round, rump, fresh brisket, ground beef, plate or shank; 2 - A minimum of two pounds and no more than five pounds of beef must be used. Meat must be exclusively beef; 3 - Microwave cooking cannot exceed two hours, except marinating time; 4 - No commercial tenderizers are allowed; 5 - All entries will be judged on taste, appearance, originality and ease of preparation. All entries become the property of the Oregon Beef Council. The winning recipe will be adapted to conventional cooking for the National Beef Cook-Off. 6 - Contestants must be at least 18 years old. The contest is closed to Cattlemen, CowBelles, their immediate families, anyone with professional food status and anyone who has owned cattle since October 1, 1981.

To enter the contest, enter original microwave beef recipe, typed or printed on a full sheet of paper; list all ingredients in the order to be used, no brand names; give complete recipe directions, including power settings for microwave; and fill out entry blank, available at Murray Drug, Peterson's Jewelry, Lott's Electric, and the Bank of Eastern Oregon, all in Heppner, Del's Market, Lexington and the Bank of Eastern Oregon in Ione; and mail to the Oregon Beef Cook-Off, Imperial Hotel, Portland, Oregon 97205.

First prize is a Sharp Microwave Oven, a quarter of beef and an all expense paid trip to the National Beef Cook-Off in San Antonio, Texas and a chance to win $5000.

Second prize is $50 worth of choice steaks and three finalists will be chosen, each receiving a gift pack of choice steaks.

For more information call Mary Kilkenny, 989-8165.

What's Your Opinion?

Do you think Heppner and Pilot Rock will end up as rivals in the District 7A playoffs?

"Could be," said Cork Norene, Heppner. "It will be a battle to the finish."

New tax publication offered from Extension

BY BOB COSTA

Morrow Co. Extension Service The Reagan Administration's Economic Recovery Act of 1981 made many major changes in federal tax law, several of which will affect farmers and ranchers.

A new 12-page Extension publication called "Economic Recovery Act of 1981: Income Tax Provisions Affecting Farmers and Ranchers," outlines these changes, especially those of interest to agricultural producers.

The 1981 tax act is extensive and complex. Some of its provisions are already in effect, while others will be phased in over the next few years.

The publication includes a review of the 1981 tax act, several tax tables and a discussion of tax rules affecting businesses.

Copies of this new publication are available free of charge at the Morrow County office of the OSU Extension Service in Heppner.

Livestock Club holds meeting

By CATHY LINDSAY

The Northlex Livestock Club held their February meeting at the home of their leader, Bill Broderick.

The following new officers were elected for the year: President Sid Kennedy, Vice President Joe Taylor, Secretary Travis Harrison, Reporter Cathy Lindsay, Jr. Leader Beef Ann Lindsay, Jr. Leader Sheep Eric Thompson and Jr. Leader Swine Sid Kennedy.

Bill Broderick told the group about the new changes in co. fair that he learned at the Leader's Council Meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Broderick.

Submerging a lemon in hot water for 15 minutes before squeezing will yield much more juice.
