AAUW meets

The members of the Heppner-Ione Branch of AAUW met at the home of Joy Krein on Monday evening, March 15, to conduct monthly business, consider nominations for new branch officers, plan an outing and especially to enjoy a 20-minute film "Making Your Money Work" and a discussion related to the film.

Branch President Carol Helphinstine conducted a business session before the evening's program began. Members completed planning for a trip to the Maryhill Museum on Saturday, April 21.

The film, which was provided by the Travelers Insurance Co. showed the real experiences of four women in different economic and family situations who were striving to understand money management. Two Travelers Co. agents from Hermiston, Bank of Eastern Oregon President Gene Pierce, Attorney Bill Kuhn and mortician Pat Sweeney, all of Heppner, formed a guest panel who fielded questions about financial problems.

It was pointed out that historically, females were taught to be rather helpless about financial matters, but that now, when more than half the work force is women, the situation has changed. The overall opinion of the panel seemed to be that careful planning is very important and "don't expect your plan to be perfect or to hold firm - keep flexible, keep reviewing your situation."
