Dick Sargent joins Far Western Real Estate

Bob Harris (L) and new business associate Dick Sargent

By JUSTINE WEATHERFORD

South Morrow's only real estate broker, R.W. (Bob) Harris announces that Dick Sargent is joining his Far Western Real Estate business next week on April 1. Sargent became a State of Oregon, Department of Commerce certified real estate salesperson after completing studies from Oct. 1981 through Jan. 1982 at the Eastern Oregon Professional Study Center in Hermiston. For the last several months he has been working with builder Dick Bigelow on the construction of the New Christian Life Center Church and on other buildings near Heppner. This new career brings Sargent back to Heppner's Main Street where he is well known. He and his wife Lynnea purchased the Coast-to-Coast Store on St. Patrick's Day in 1971 and operated for exactly 10 years, selling it to the Ralph Limanens on that same date in 1981. Dick was a leader in the local Merchants' Association for several years. The Sargents have two children, Rhonda (Mrs. Dave Winters), who is employed by the Bank of Eastern Oregon here and Mark, a veterinary student who is now in Tri-Veterinary Medicine Training at Washington State University at Pullman. Rhonda and Dave are the parents of the Sargent's grandson, Travis. Broker Harris, who operated his Far Western Real Estate business in Toledo, from 1959 until 1978, states that with the addition of salesman Sargent, the office will be able to handle more listings and sales and to offer better service to the south Morrow area. The real estate office, which was recently enlarged, is adjacent to the Heppner Laundromat on the N.E. corner of Main and Center Streets.
