

Rolling Hills Run drew 300 walk - runners Sun.

Exactly 300 men, women, and children walked or ran the 6.2 and 3.1 mile Rolling Hills Run last Sunday, April 4.

The walk-run which was held on the Pilot Rock Highway, was sponsored by the Heppner Lions Club and the Rolling Hills Run committee from the Heppner Jr. High. All proceeds went for the Heppner swimming pool solar project.

As the last of the participants crossed the finish line announcers Liz Curtis and John Edmondson began awarding trophies made by John Shaw of Heppner, ribbons, and over 30 door prizes.

All those who completed the walk-run were awarded a certificate and a T-shirt which bore the run's emblem.

During the awards presentations in the Heppner City Park, the Heppner High School band sold sodas and hot dogs.

Door prizes were announced interspersed with the trophy and ribbon winners. Area merchants who contributed to the prizes include B and B Chevron, Del's Market, MCGG, Case Furniture, Western Heritage, Bank of Eastern Oregon, Coast to Coast, the Heppner High Band, Heppner Auto Parts, First Interstate, Murray's Drug, S & J, Hutch's Helper, Peterson's Jewelers, Shoe Box, Gardner's Men's Wear, Cole's House of Fashion, Ron McDonald Lott's Electric, Cal's Arco, the Gazette-Times, Heppner Bowl, Wagon Wheel, Central Market, Heppner Chevron, R & W Drive In, and Court Street Market.

Bird I.D. class reg. deadline April 30

Persons interested in taking "Field Bird Identification" offered by Blue Mountain Community College in the Heppner area must plan to pre-register by April 30, according to Nancy Brownfield, BMCC South Morrow County area coordinator.

The highlight of the class will be a weekend field experience in the identification of birds native to the Malheur National Game Refuge. The field trip is scheduled to leave about noon Friday,

May 21, from Heppner and return Sunday, May 23.

Prior to the field trip, there will be two class meetings when films and slides will be shown and a general discussion held regarding bird identification. Dates of the class meetings will be set following the pre-registration deadline.

Registration in the class is limited to 14 people and the cost is $28 per person. Included in the cost is $13 for tuition and $15 for a travel fee.

Agriculture Calendar

Plans finalizing for exchange

By CATHY PECK

Heppner eighth grade students are finalizing their plans for the annual Heppner Lynch Terrace exchange Lynch Terrace School is located in Gresham. Exchange students live with host parents for a week, attend a full day of school and participate in activities after school designed to acquaint them with the economy and culture of their host area.

Lynch Terrace students will arrive in Heppner on April 18. Monday after school, students will participate in a Wheat League tour of area farms. Tuesday, they will be bused to Hardman for a tour of the ghost town. That day they will also visit a timber sale and have a picnic in Anson Wright park.

It takes a Honda years to do what some cars do in a day.

Depreciate.

These days you can appreciate that more than ever. But then Hondas have traditionally maintained a high resale value. In fact, the Accord, Civic and Prelude do better than most.

For example, the average retail value of a 1977 Accord Hatchback is an astonishing 109.4% of its original suggested retail price. On a 1977 4-speed Civic CVT Hatchback, it's just under 95%. And a 1979 Prelude is 97%.

Naturally, your price depends on your car's condition, mileage, equipment and other factors.

But those figures are direct quotes from the Jan./Feb. 1982 Kelley Blue Book Used Car Values.

To quote another source might help explain Honda's high resale value. An editor in the Feb. 1982 issue of Car and Driver said, "Honda builds the only cars I know of that act more expensive than they are. I always feel rich driving them."

You can also feel that way should you ever sell yours.
