Fencing seminar to be held May 3 in Lexington

By JOHN P. NORDHEIM
Morrow Co. Extension Agent

A smooth wire fencing seminar will be held May 3, 7:30 p.m. at the Lexington School. This special seminar will feature a movie showing how to build fences with smooth wire. Smooth wire fencing is applicable for keeping out (or in) anything from rats and nutria, to giraffes - even Chianina cattle. Due to the reduced costs of new installations of smooth wire fencing, this new type of fence is applicable to a wide variety of installations and need not be electrified. Existing barbed fences can be up-dated easily with smooth wire.

For more information contact John Nordheim, Morrow County Extension Agent at 676-9642.

Spelling contest winners announced

By CATHY PECK

A district-wide spelling contest was held April 22 in Ione at Ione High School.

The following students were chosen winners:

Division III, Grades 10 - 12: Michelle Aaron of Heppner High, a senior, placed first; John Moyer, also of Heppner, a sophomore, placed second; and Robin Haws of Riverside tied with Ann McLaughlin of Heppner for third place.

In division II, grades seven through nine: Renee Struthers of Lexington, placed first. She is a freshman at Heppner High; Trina Palmer, an eighth grader at Heppner Junior High, placed second. Trina was an exchange student at Lynch Terrace School during the contest, so she took the test over the telephone on Thursday afternoon. Steve Miller, a freshman at Heppner High, took third place.

Division I winners were Terri Meyers of Sam Boardman Elementary School. This was Terri's third consecutive year of winning in the contest. Shannon McLaughlin of Heppner Elementary School took second place and Angela Hicks of A.C. Houghton took third. All winners in division I are in the sixth grade.

The first place winners in the district-wide spelling contest will compete in a state spelling contest to be held during the state fair late next summer.
